House of Assembly Concluded Its Labors Yesterday.

Bills Agreed to-Address to the King -Governor's New Uniform.

FREDERICTON, April 9.- The house met at eleven o'cleck. On motion of Mr. King the bill to provide increased fire protection for the villages of Hampton and Hampton station was agreed to in committee.

The house went into committee on the bill to amend the succession duty act. This bill provides that costs shall taxed by the clerk of the pleas and not by the judge, and that life insurance shall be regarded as part of the estate and subject to succession duty whether it comes to the executor or is transferred to a third party. The attorney general explained the provisions of the bill, which had been rendered necessary by the modern plan of investing large sums of money in life insurance.

Mr. Hazen thought it a pity to impose succession duties on life insurance coming to a widow and children

The attorney general said that where the estate went to the widow and children or immediate relatives there was no succession duty unless it amounted $50,000. An estate of $60,000 would about $500 in succession duties. pay about $500 in succe The bill was agreed to.

the time for completing the revision until March, 1903. Mr. Hazen said he hoped the commission-ers would be in a position to report in 1903. When the act was introduced, two years ago, voting the sum of $20,000 for the re-vision and consolidation of the statutes, we were told that a great necessity existed, and were assured that it would be completed in two years. Two years had passed, $2,000 had been paid on account and there was no re-port as to the progress that is being made. It is unfair that the house should be com-pelled to grant extension of time for a work that any competent lawyer, applying himself diligently, could have finished in three months. The house went into committee on a bill relating to the crown timber lands of the province. Hon. Mr. Pugsley explained that certain persons abroad who had been examining the timber lands of the province desired to invest their money in pulp mills. But as the present timber license on crown lands are only for twenty-five years, they did not care to invest such large sums in pulp mills without an assurance that they could have a longer lease of timber lands so that their supply of pulp wood may be permanent. The government recognized the force of these representations. The tresent hill permits the government to lease land to a company for 999 years, each lease to be subject to the payment of stumpage and all other regulations now in force or which may be made from time to time. Before granting such a lease the government must be satisfied of the company's intention to invest a capital of $2,000,000 in pulp mills and the company shall pay a mileage rate of at least $2 an acre or $1280 per square mile, Such licenses may be declared forfeited if the company do not carry out their enterprise. One of the companies interested requires a thousand tons of paper a week.

Mr. Hazen asked how many square miles they would require. Hon. Mr Tweedie said from 300 to 1,000.

Mr. Hazen asked how these people were to get land if the available lands were all under lease. The Hon. Mr. Tweedle said thes would have to purchase the unexpired term from the present licensees. The bill provides that the purchaser shall not acquire any other title to the land except as licensee. The bill was agreed

Hon. Mr. Pugsley anagunced that a number of amendments had been sug-gested to the bill relating to the discourts act, and as it is of contricts siderable importance the government was but right to carry out this under-standing. The bill fixes the salary at $1,500. Mr. Dickson has been getting $1,200. The duties of his office are refor revision the statutes. He locked upon the revision as unnecessary, and thought that the attorney general had gracity mag-nified the work that was to be done. Hon. Mr. Tweedle said he would like to direct the attention of the house to the fact that the leader of the opposition always at-tacks the government in some unassallable position. If his contention was correct he should not complain of the delay in the re-vision because he thought it unnecessary. He (Tweedie) did not believe the leader of the opposition would find a lawyes or a judge in the country who would asy that the statutes did not require revision. The last revision was a quarter of a contary ago. 200. The duties of his office are re-possible and important and have an considerably increased since Mr. Stratton was clerk of the executive. The bill amending the game act was recommitted by the Hon. Mr. Dunn and the section giving a bounty of $15 for killing wolves was struck out. No change is made in the close time for revision was a quarter of a century ago and surely it was time we had another remoose or caribou. The bill was agreed The bill was agreed to on a division

The bill, was agreed to on a division. Hon. Mr. Pugsley, for Hon. Mr. Tweedie, introduced a bil amending the school act of 900. It was read a first and second time. Hon. Mr. Pugsley explained that the first section of this bill deals with manual train-ing in the public schools. The pressnee will pay one half the cost of the ediupment necessary for manual training in any school, 50 a year to any certificated teacher giving instruction and manual training in sddition to the regular work and $200 per year to teach-ers devoting their full time to manual train-ing. There is a section providing for the payment of travelling expenses of teachers who attend a training is school of manual training. The salaries of school inspectors are increased from $1,200 to $1,400 per an-num. The bill sives the right of expropri-ation of one acre of land for school house purposes instead of forty square rods as at present. ment by the province of certain indebtedness of the St. John Exhibition Association. It was read a first and second time. He explained that the association had informed the government that they could not hold an exhibition next year without a grant of $5,000 from the province and that they were in debt $3,200. The city had agreed to pay half of this amount provided the government would be responsible for the balance. $1,600. The government thought they should do this, and the object of this bill is to authorise the payment of that amount. In regard to a grant for exhibition purposes this year, Hon. Mr. Tweedie said that the government has the matter under consideration and will endeavor as far as possible to meet the views of the association, so that that an exhibition can be held. Hon. Mr. Tweedie introduced a bill amending the act relating to the revision and consolidation of the statutes. This bill extende the time for completing the revision until March, 1903.

Allow of one acted of forty square roles as at purposes instead of forty square roles as at resent. Mr. Hazen was pleased that the govern-ment had increased the salaries of school in-spectors, and he regretted that they could not see their way clear to treat the teachers likewise. He trusted this would be done in the near future. Hon. Mr. Pugsley said the government hoped for a considerable addition to the re-venue, and when that jime arrives the claims of the school teachers, a most deserving class of public servants, would receive con-sideration. Mr. Hazen regretted that so many import-ant measures were introduced at the closing for discussion. Hon. Mr. Tweedie said the government was no desirous of rushing busines through, and the house would remain in session two or three days longer if there were any meas-ures the leader of the opposition wanted to discuss fully. The bills relating to the Moneton and ures the leader of the opposition wanted to discuss fully. The bills relating to the Moncton and Eastern Railway and the Fredericton and Western Railway were committed by Mr. Copp and agreed to. The bill amending the school act of 1900 was agreed to. The bill relating to the town of Camp-bellion was agreed to with amendments.

The bill relating to the town of Camp-bellton was agreed to with amendments. Hon. Mr. Tweedie, seconded by Mr. Ha-zen, moved that a committee of five mem-bers be appointed to prepare an address to be engrossed, signed by the speaker, and forwarded to King Edward VII. on the oc-casion of his coronation. The speaker ap-pointed as such committee Hon. Mr. Twee-die, Mr. Hazen, Hon. Mr. Pugsley, Mr. Allen and Mr. Osman. The house adjourned at 11 o'clock until 19 a. m. tomorrow. [For morning and part of afternoon ses-sions see seventh page.]

FREDERICTON, April 10-The house of assembly prorogued at noon with the usual ceremonies. The weather was rainy and cold and the galleried held but few spectators. When the address to be presented to the king, on the occasion of the coronation, was read and passed, the members stood and lustily sang the national anthem. The guard of honor was furnished by No. 4 Co., R. C. R. and the company's band furnished music. The lieut .- governor made a fine appearance in his handsome Windsor uniform, and was attended by his A. D. C. and secretary, Cols. Dunbar and McDougall, Sheriff Sterling and Coroner Mullin.

After his honor had given his assent to one hundred and sixty acts passed during the session, he prorogued the house with a brief speech.

Hon, Mr. Tweedle said the work could not be done in three months. It required time and care, and it was therefore not the intention of the government to rush the work. When consolidation has been effected it will doubtless be a credit to the province.
Mr. Hazen said the premier had demonstrated how insincers were his predecessors, for when the act was introduced the house was told that the country was suffering for a proper revision of the statutes and that the work would be finished in two "ears. He did not believe any substantial progress had been made up to the present time. If it pays the chief commissioner better to attend at Ottawa drafting bills than looking after a $20,000 job some other arrangement should be made. The whole thing is a disgrace and a scandal, and he had no hesitation in saying that any lawyer could have had the work done long before this. The government will not be dealing justly, with the country if they do not insist on the report being ready to submit at the next session of the legislature. But he was afraid five or six years more would elapse before the work was done if the commissioner is allowed to dilly dally as he has been doing. Hon. Mr. Tweedie said the leader of the opposition had been looking for a 'scandal all session, and the only one he could find was behind time. The government will be responsible for any scandal that may attach to the consolidation. The leader of the opposition said the chief commissioner was goting $20,000 which he know is incorrect; $20,000 paid all the expenses in connection with the work including the printing. A god deal has a laready been accomplished, but, as he said before, it necessarily requires considerable time and great care to complete a work like the consolidation of the statutes. If the opposition had of getting the gover the correspondence. Reference to a subject of this sort was merely a cheep way the subject of this sort was merely a cheep way the subject of the solution. Only $40,-000 had been placed in the estimates, but the amount expended in St. John was larger than expected.

The house went into committee, Mr. Porter in the chair, on the smallpox bill, and a bill relating to the legislative assembly.

Mr. Hazen saw no reason why the nouse should be asked to extend the term of the legislature to five years. The four year term was fixed at the time of confederation, and if we look over the length of life of New Brunswick's parliaments we will observe that this is the first one, since 1882, that took advantage of the full four year term. Dissolution usually takes place at the end of the third session. There was therefore no necessity to extend the term, and legislation of this sort should not be passed unless some-

In anticipation of the King's visit to Deeside, in the autumn, a number of improvements have been carried out at Balmoral Castle. The apartments occupied by members of the royal family have been redecorated and refurnished. In the lifetime of Queen Victoria everything was exceedingly plain, there being practically no decoration on the walls, and the furniture in the castle was of the most homely kind. There was scarcely a colored picture at Balworks of art being steel moral, all the engravings, mostly Landseers. The only exception was in the smoking with the cartoons from Vanity Fair. Few people are aware of the extent of the Institution presided over by Dr. Pierce or that an important part of his medical enterprise was the estab lishment of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, where people from afar can be lodged, boarded and treated, with all the privileges offered by the finest hospitals, yet with a personal care and freedom entirely foreign to such institutions. Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute has a staff of nearly a score of physicians, each man a specialist. It has a bacteriological and analytical department second to those of no medical institution in the United States. It has elaborate machines and appliances, together with all the most approved mechanical apparatus, for the vibratory treatment of diseases.

In this, as in everything else, Dr. Pierce keeps his great Institution at the front, with the result that there is a constant stream of persons seeking treatment who come from the farthest states and most remote territories. Often these invalids have gone to the great hospitals of the country and found no benefit, coming to Dr. Pierce as a last resort. \ It is gratifying to know that the public faith in Dr. Pierce and his methods and medicines is amply justified by the many and remarkable cures which have resulted from his treatment. It may be well in this connection to emphasize the value of Dr. Pierce's offer of free consultation by letter addressed especially to those suffering from chronic diseases.
