Save Your Tissue Paper.

Parcels are frequently sent home, especially light silks, ribbons, millinery, etc., carefully done up in tissue paper. This paper should never be thrown away, but carefully smoothed out, folded up and laid aside in some convenient drawer for future use. In packing dresses tissue paper placed between folds, gathers, frils, flounces, etc., will keep them from wrinkling. A pad of tissue paper upon which has been dropped a little alcohol will give a brilliant polish to mirrors and windows. Without the alcohol tissue paper is invaluable for polishing silver, Parcels are frequently sent home, windows.
