RCMP 125 Series

James Lumbers has worked in close association with the RCMP to ensure that the RCMP 125 anniversary series reflect the spirit of the Force. Consisting of four 24" x 12" prints entitled, The Graduation, The Immigrants, A Cultural Exchange and The March West, each painting depicts an event that has helped make the RCMP a vital part of Canadian History.

If you order before July 1, 1998, you can save $120 per set. The four images will only be offered as a set until July 31, 1998, to ensure the availability of "same number" sets for collectors. The special retail price is $520 per S/N set, or $620 per set of artist's proofs. After July 31, the prints will be sold individually for $160 S/N and artist's proofs for $190 each. Sets ordered before July 31 can be personalized upon request, with the print number, edition size and Regimental Number.

For more information please call James Lumbers Publishing Ltd. at: 1 (800) 363-1410.

Media Coverage

Several film companies will develop documentaries and film specials focusing on the different aspects of the RCMP's heritage and its contribution to the community and the nation. A series of short cut-and-paste articles was released through "NEWS CANADA" to the media news. CTV and CBC have been approached on some significant productions, a television special will be produced by the History Channel and a video history of the RCMP is in the works at the National Film Board of Canada. Canadian Living magazine will also be doing a feature article on the RCMP.

Numerous local newspaper and news weekly editors across Canada are publishing special editions and supplements and/or are sponsoring events being held in their community to celebrate the RCMP's 125th anniversary.

Some recordings of the RCMP Regimental March, the Regimental Hymn and a song, "Maintain the Right" will be available as the year progresses.

Video Display

The "A" Division Communications Unit had a video made for a display on Parliament Hill. This one-hour repeat loop video starts with historical photos of the Force, then switches over to video footage showing a variety of operational shots such as, members up North, women members on the beat, the Musical Ride, drill at Depot, traffic unit, forensics, etc. This video is ideal to use with a display — you can leave the tape running and it simply rewinds at the end of the hour. Various RCMP Communications, Media Relations Units and others across Canada interested in obtaining a copy of this video for $5 may contact Martine Courage at (613) 993-0487, or order directly by providing their collator code and mailing address.

Anniversary Christmas Cards

As a result of an agreement with the RCMP, the RCMP Veterans' Association and its 27 Divisions will act as sole distrib-
