Entirely Well After Six Weeks' Treatment With "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

MR. AMEDEE GARCEAU

52 Hickory St., Ottawa, Ont.

"I was for many years a victim of that terrible disease, Rheumatism. In 1913, I was laid up for four months with Rheumatism in the joints of the knees, hips and shoulders and was prevented from following my work, that of Electrician."

I tried many remedies, and was under the care of a physician; but nothing did me any good. Then I began to take 'Fruit-a-tives' and in a week I was easier, and in six weeks I was so well I went to work again."

I look upon this fruit medicine, 'Fruit-a-tives', as simply marvellous in the cure of Rheumatism, and strongly advise everyone suffering with Rheumatism to give 'Fruit-a-tives' a trial."

PRESERVATION OF FOOD

Essentials in Saving Vegetables and Fruits.

Sterilizing Preparatory to Canning Described—Drying Methods and the Cold Pack Also Described.
(Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.)

It is a universally known fact that foods not properly preserved will spoil. They will ferment, decay, putrefy or become moldy. These changes are brought about by the development of bacteria, yeasts and molds on or in the food. If these micro-organisms can be prevented from growing on or in the food it will not spoil. Therefore, the question of food preservation resolves itself into the problem of preventing these bacteria, yeasts and molds from growing or multiplying on or in the foods. This is done in various ways according to the nature of the food to be preserved.

In the preservation of such vegetables as green peas, beans, asparagus and green corn, cooking and sealing are necessary. These are green and juicy, and if stored in the fresh condition they will either wilt or ferment and rot. This fermentation and rotting is due to the development of the bacteria which are present on the vegetables. There will be sufficient moisture present in the mass to enable the bacteria to multiply and feed on the material and thus induce the rot.

So in order to preserve such vegetables in the fresh condition the bacteria present have to be killed and all other bacteria prevented from getting on the material until it is to be used. In order to accomplish this the process of canning is resorted to. To get satisfactory results from canning vegetables it is necessary to have:

1st. Good sound healthy vegetables.
2nd. Good clean sealers with tight-fitting tops and good rubbers.
3rd. Wash the vegetables and fill into the sealers.
4th. Cover with water salted to taste.

5th. Put on the tops and leave slightly loose.

6th. Place sealers in a steamer or boiler half filled with cold water and heat to the boiling point for half an hour.

7th. Remove sealers from boiler or steamer and tighten down the tops.

8th. After 24 hours loosen the tops and return to the boiler or steamer and give another half hour's boiling.

9th. Repeat this process after another 24 hours. Then tighten down the tops and place away.

This treatment should destroy all micro-organisms present, and if the top is hermetically sealed no others can get in until it is opened.

Another method of sterilizing is to give one boiling to the filled sealers for three to four hours. This, however, cannot be depended on to give as satisfactory results as the above.

Another method is to heat in steam under 15 lbs. pressure for thirty minutes. This is the commercial way for which special strong steamers (auto-claves) that can withstand internal pressure are necessary.

Another method of preserving vegetables is by drying in special ovens. This drying process extracts sufficient moisture from the vegetables to prevent the bacteria present from having the power to multiply unless the materials should get moist before being used. If sufficient moisture is not extracted, or should the dried materials get moist during storage, then decay or rot will rapidly develop, as the bacteria are not killed in the drying process and only require moisture to enable them to develop.

Such fruits as strawberries, raspberries, plums, peaches, currants, blueberries, etc., which are soft, cannot be kept any length of time without fermenting or molding unless they are canned.

The canning process is simply for the purpose of killing all mold spores and yeast cells that are on the fruit and preventing others getting on until the material is to be used.

Canning fruits is not so difficult as canning vegetables because it is easier to kill yeasts and molds which affect fruits than it is to kill bacteria that affect vegetables.

These fruits may be cooked in a fruit kettle, sugar added to taste, and filled hot direct from the kettle into sterilized sealers removed direct from scalding water. The covers, rings and rubbers should be put on at once direct from scalding water and screwed down tightly.

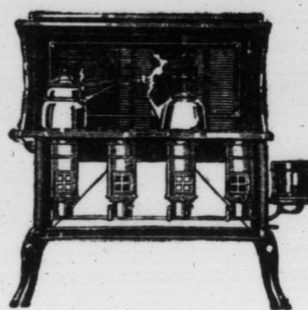

Another way to preserve such fruits is by the cold pack method. In this method the fruits are not cooked before putting into the sealer. Sound fruit not overripe should be used. This is picked over and filled directly into clean sealers. Stone fruit should be pitted.

A syrup of sugar and water sweetened to taste is then filled into sealers so as to completely cover the fruit. The tops, rubbers and rings are put on but not screwed down tightly. The sealers are then placed in a boiler containing cold water sufficient to reach three-fourths up the sealers and this is brought to a boil and kept boiling for half an hour. The sealers are then removed and the tops screwed down tightly at once. When cooled, store away.—Prof. D. H. Jones, O. A. College, Guelph.

Feed Plenty to Hens.

Feed plenty of the foods you have on hand. Hens prefer rolled oats and barley to whole grain. A ration of one-third each of oats, barley and cracked corn gives first-class results. Supply plenty of tender green feed, shade and clean drink. Water should be given in abundance and must always be clean and fresh. Barnyard water is extremely bad. Sour skim-milk is excellent.
