chief influence in the wheat market to-day. The opening was strong under fairly active short covering on reports of rains in various parts of the winter wheat country, with expectations that harvesting will receive a further setback. Fears of damage were also held in some quarters. In the later trading there was a reaction of considerable proportions, and advices from Nebraska, and Kansas telling of better weather conditions in those States. The light offerings of new wheat helped to steady the market. The corn market opened firm on reports of exces sice rains in the west and parts of the east. The market became easier later on, however, on the more encouraging crop advices and light demand.

HELP REAL PROBLEM

Taken in Conjunction With Absence of Vessels in Which to Convey Canadian Wheat

ATLANTIC TONNAGE SCARCE

e Meet Situation an Arrangement is Seing Made by Premier Borden to Release a Number of Ships New Being Used as Transports.

Ottawa, July 12.—A press report from London that Premier Borden may arrange with the British Government to take over the whole Canadian wheat crop this year is not confirmed in government circles here. There is little likelihood at present of any such action being taken in view of the fact that &ccording to the present outlook, there would be am-ple supplies of wheat available at ordinary market prices from the usual sources of supply for all the requisitioning of food products.

India, Canada, the United States and Argentina. with the prospective opening of the Dardanelles, thus rendering Russia's accumulated wheat supplies to ome out, will be able to easily take care of all British and French needs. The uncertainty as to price fluctuations, the variety of grades, etc., also make any action slong the line of a governmental fixed price and governmental purchase of the whole crop almost impracticable as well as unnecessary.

Under present conditions the real problem in connection with this year's wheat crop in Canada is in regard to harvest help and ocean transportation. With approximately 150,000 Canadians under arms, a large percentage of whom are men who would have been available as harvesters, there promises to be a scaroity of workers in the Western wheat fields next Au-gust and September, with hundreds of ocean steamers taken off their usual routes and requisitioned for war purposes there has been for months past a great carcity of Atlantic tonnage.

The government is seeking a solution to both problems. A considerable number of harvesters will likely be brought to the prairies this autumn from British Columbia, where the labor market is conrested, and an effort will also be made to secure har-vesters from the United States if it is found that it a necessary to supplement the expected decrease in he usual numbers who go West from Eastern Can-

To meet the ocean tonnage situation arrangements are being made with the Admiralty through Premier Borden to release a number of ships which are now inder Admiralty orders for transport service, etc. and allow them to relieve the increasing congestion of reight at Canadian Atlantic terminals. Negotia-ions are being carried on with a view to the Govrnment requisitioning or chartering of a number of reighters to handle the wheat export from Canada s soon as the crop movement begins in September. It is expected that Premier Borden will be able to nake satisfactory arrangements for this with the Briish authorities during his stay in London and also for some adequate plan of protecting the North At-antic trade route against Gérman submarine attacks, ufficiently to insure an uninterrupted flow of Canalian wheat across to Britain during the crop moving The question of Government insurance of Atlantic wheat risks is also being taken up by the Canadian ninisters in England
