Dyke, Pastor of St. Aloysius church. On Sunday morning he held a confirma-tion service in the parish church of Sandwich, giving that sacrament to 118 children. On Monday the 26th took place the St. Jean Baptiste celebration at Sandwich. High Mass, at which his Lord-ship in cope and mitre presided, was cel-ebrated at 10 a.m. The sermon for the occasion was preached by Rev. Father Girard of Belle river. It was one of the rev. gentleman's most eloquent efforts and FASHIONABLE TAILORS. A nice assortment of Imported New Ties, Silk Handkerchiefs. Girard of Belle river. It was one of the rev. gentleman's most eloquent efforts and evidently produced a deep impression on his vast audience. On the same evening His Lordship attended the distribution of premiums at St. Mary's Academy, Windsor. This well-known educational establishment, one of the fore-most in the Province, is, like St. Mary's of Amherst-burg, in charge of the Sisters of Jesus and Mary. Its spacious hall was on the occasion we refer to crowded by the friends of the pupils who had just closed a year of arduous study. On Tuesday the bishop confirmed fifty-eight candidates at St. Patrick's Church, Raleigh, a parish under the charge of a zealous young priest, Rev. N. WILSON & CO. Written At My Mother's Grave. The trembling dew-drops fall Upon the shufting flowers; like souls at rest, The stars shine gloriously; and all Save me,are blest. Mother, I love thy grave? The violet, with its blossoms blue and mild, Wave o'er thy head; when will it wave Above thy child? Patrick's Church, Raleigh, a parish under the charge of a zealous young priest, Rev. Father West. His Lordship arrived in London on Wednesday evening, and not-withstanding the fatigues and labors of the week, was able to assist at the dis-tribution of premiums at the Sacred Heart Academy, London, on Thursday evening. Of this institution we need not say a word. Its reputation is not re-stricted within Canadian territorial limits. The good results of the system of educa-tional training followed in this Academy are well known in may important centres as well of the neighboring republic as of the Dominion of Canada. His Lordship on the occasion of the distribution of premiums on Thursday, the 29th, was surrounded by all the city clergy, and a very large number from the diocese, besides Rev. Father John Brennan, P. P. Picton, and Rev. Father Mackey, P. P., Tyendinaga, both of the diocese of King-ston. The programme to which the lady pupils entertained their guests con-sisted of various musical and elocutionary selections, all of which were rendered with taste and skill. The graduate of the year was Miss Lucy Kiggins, of Clyde, N. Y. When the list of premiums had been read, Dr. Walsh briefly addressed the children, advising them as to the best manner of spending the days of vacation then to be-gin, wishing them every blessing and hoping to see them all return at the close of the recess in health and determination to work as assiduously as they had done in the term just closed. On Sunday morning, the 2nd inst, 102 children were admitted to first Communion, and His Lordship, assisted by the Cathedral clergy, gave confirmation to 44 persons in St.

THE QUEBEC ACADEMY of MUSIC. The annual competition of this Associa-tion took place in Victoria Hall, Anne street, yesterday, in presence of an audi-ence of some hundreds and embracing many of the best known musical con-noisseurs of the city and district. The classes opened at nine o'clock with the piano playing and closed at about one p. m. In the second class there were eight com-petitors, to seven of whom diplomas were awarded as follows:-Misses Chicoine, Montreal; Marie Boisvert, Montreal; Tous-signant, Gariepy, Talbot, Harrison and and Belanger. There were five compet-itors in the first class, and diplomas were awarded to Misses Belanger, Charland, St. Joseph of Levis, and Charbonneau. For the Laurente five young ladies pre-sented themselves and the following were declared successful:-Misses Lacombe, Esther Boisvers, Watson and Almeras, (with distinction). In singing Miss Huot was also awarded a diploma. The perfor-mance of all the young ladies were excel-lent and in some instances drew forth loud applause from the audience. The judges were composed as follows;-Piano -Messrs. P. Letondal, E. A. Hilton, J. A. Fowler, N. Crepeau and J. A. DeFoy. Singing-Messrs. Letondal, J. B. Labelle and Crepeau. For the organ-in which the judges were Messrs. Hilton, J. D. Martin and Crepeau--there was only one competitor, but no diploma was awarded. The performace took place in St. Patrick's Church. At four o'clock the audience and competitors again assembled in the Hall, when each of the latter was handed the much coveted parchment by the ex-President, Mr. Gustave Gagnon, after

THE PROCESSION YESTERDAY AND THE MASS IN ST. ROCH'S CHURCH.

IN ST. ROCH'S CHURCH. Late on Sunday night and up to an early hour yesterday morning, in almost every part of the city, people were busily engaged in planting in front of their resi-dences, the young maple trees prepared for the occasion. The morning of yester-day opened fine, and the prospect was that of an exceptionally fine day, to the great relief of our French Canadian fellow-citizens, the celebration of whose national fete had been postponed from Saturday last. The procession was formed at the Espla-

Though not equal to the great demonstra-tion of 1880, the number of those taking part in yesterday's procession was so great that twenty-five minutes was occupied in marching past a given point. There was in the usual grouping of officers of the society and of sections, in gorgeous regalia, with mounted and foot marshals, also a large number of inen and boys in blue uniform personating the crew of the "Little Hermine." Several magnificent banners were carried in the procession, many of the old ones used on former occasions and the new one of Cercle Cath-olique having been much admired. The and y of the bit of the back used on former occasions and the new one of Cercle Cath-olique having been much admired. The fire brigade turned out to assist, and so did the Sappers and St. Sauveur Fire Company, but there was almost an entire absence this time of allegorical cars. The magnificent car of the Notre Dame section of the society was, however, there, repre-senting St. John the Baptist standing under the shadow of a palm with a staff in his hand, and having painted on the sides of the car the names of the past presidents of the society. The various trades were represented in the body, many of them not very numerously, however. Music was furnished by a couple of brass bands. The number of spectators, both upon the Esplanade, and also along the line of march was very large, numbers of people having Esplanade, and also along the line of march was very large, numbers of people having come into town purposely to see the pro-cession. The Lake St. John Railway alone brought in some 300 people yester-day morning. It paraded the principal streets of the Upper Town and St. Roch's, pausing to salute the Mayor and City Council at the City Hall, the Governor-General and Lieutenant-Governor. St. General and Lieutenant-Governor, St. Louis street, His Grace the Archbishop, &c. The procession brought up finally at St. Roch's church, the interior of which was handsomely decorated with colored bunting and maple boughs. Grand Mass in honor of the occasion was here celebrain honor of the occasion was here celebra-ted. Mass was sung by Rev, Father Drolet of Sillery, assisted as Deacon and sub-Deacon respectively, by Rev. Fathers Chretien and Noel. An eloquent sermon on the festival itself and the patron Saint of Quebec was preached by Rev. Grand-Vicar Hamel, Rector of Laval University. His Grace the Archbishop was in Valear-tier yesterday, but amongst the members of the clergy present in Church were Rev. Vicar-General Legare, Rev. Messrs. Sache, Hemelin, Bourque, Belanger, Bonneau, Belleau, Godin and others. The musical portion of the mass, which was the Royal Hemelin, Bourque, Belanger, Bonneau, Belleau, Godin and others. The musical portion of the mass, which was the Royal Gregorian, was effectively rendered by St. Roch's choir, assisted by that of the con-

present at the obsequies of one of his most faithful and esteemed priests. The remains of the deceased was in-terred on Wednesday morning in the church at Levis with great pomp and solemnity. There was a very large at-tendance both of clergy and people. His Grace the Archbishop celebrated High Mass and also delivered an address previous to the body being lowered into the grave.

BRANTFORD LETTER.

A PLEASANT EVENING was spent in the School House on the 29th, the festival of St. Peter, being the feast day of our parish priest Rev. P. Lennon. The pupils of the school had prepared a surprise for the reverend gentleman, and carried out their plane superfully. plans successfully, and the result was very satisfactory. Verbal invitations were given by the children, to attend a free given by the children, to attend a free musical and literary entertainment, which were responded to by a large number, all of whom were of opinion that it was good to be there. Music and recitations made up the programme generally with the presentation of a handsome centre table to Father Lennon as a special feature. The gift was accompanied by a neatly worded address, which, the recipi-ent responded to feelingly. As it was not convenient to get the names of all the pupils who took part in the proceedings, it may be as well not to mention any, but all concerned have certainly a right to feel well satisfied with the successful result. result.

It must have lightened the load of the venerable founder's (Rev. Father Mc-Nulty) infirmities, to know that there was such a vast assemblage present show-ing their appreciation of his noble act of charity. The Sisters of St. Joseph are to be congratulated on the great success which crowned the efforts of Father Feeney and his excellent committee of young ladies. The rev. father has been indefatigable in his exertions, and it must be gratifying to him to know that he has been principally instrumental in causing the pienic to be such a success, numerically and financially.

Still the young lady, whoever she is, who sang "O Luce di quest Anima," and the other who played "William Tell," in my opinion, deserve special mention.
In the elocutionary selections, "Mabel's Face Against the Pane," and "Frances Brandon," were delivered with such pure pronunciation, accurate modulation, and gestures as to be almost perfection; while "Fairy Land," performed by the younger girls, shows that elocution is not only taught in the higher classes, but that the young ladies are trained in it from the time they enter the convent.
The modesty and unassuming appearance of the young ladies arded much to their charms. Sometimes it is said that young ladies are spoiled in convents by trying to surpass one another in dress and putting en airs; but assuredly such nonsense is not tolerated at Loretto Abbey.
Medals were awarded to the graduates, Miss Maggie Mitchell carrying away [the one presented by the Marquis of Lorne.
The attendace at the Abbey is steadily increasing; this year it is over two hundred. Among the young ladies are to be found representatives of distant parts of Canada and the United States.

Religious.

On May 7, a meeting was held at St. Mary's pro-Cathedral, in aid of the Cathe-dral building fund. Archbishop Vaughan presided, and read a list of donations, amounting in all to £821 3s., received from people in various parts of New South Wales and the neighboring colony. In the course of his address the Arch-bishop referred to the Fayre, which he said was a great financial success. Several large donations were handed in during the meeting, at the close of which the statesman or warrior rather than that of a simple parish priest. Some years ago his late Holiness, Pius IX., appointed him one of his domestic prelates. His Grace the Archbishop will make a break inhis visitation of the Archdiocese, so as to be
