Civic Commission

Chairman Gosling with Commissioners Harris, Ayre, McNamara, Bradshaw, Morris and Anderson attended last night's meeting.

The parishioners of St. Mary's Southside, asked that a plank sidewalk be put down from Water Street across to Long Bridge and the southside to the church.

The applicants will be written that land Co. are already going on in the | DOTI.

T. H. O'Neil, called attention to the condition of Scanlan's Lane, and Commissioner Harris to the Telegram Lane.-Will be attended to.

P. J. Casey offered $180 for 6 feet of land at the junction of Power and Hamilton Streets, to improve his property.

The offer was accepted. G. A. Lilly and others asked for water service on the north side of Quidi Vidi Road, and complained that the water from the Lake was unfit for domestic purposes.

The petition evoked much discussion, and the Engineer was ordered to report cost of extending service.

M. and E. Kennedy submitted plans of proposed alteration to the R. C. Palace, which were passed. Jas. Wilson asked for position of position vacant at present. The Road Committees reported favorably to the request of workers at the stone crusher for increase of pay. They also recommended that the men be supplied with respirators to prevent dust inhalation. The Health Officer wrote on condition of Fort William yard, which was unsanitary and unsightly. He sug gested that the place be fenced. The Reid Co., the owners, will be asked to attend to the matter. R. English was given permit to build in Pennywell Road, and J. Murray to make repairs to house, Cookstown Road.

W. Wright submitted plans of proposed building, in Franklin Avenue. The Board do not recognize such street and consequently could not approve of plans.

The Engineer reported on work for the week, which covered the laying of a large amount of sewerage and water service. He also suggested that new fountains with drinking troughs for horses be erected in place of the ones doing duty, from which was a water daily.

The ngineer will report on cost of

With passing of pay rolls the meeting adjourned at 10 o'clock.

Rossley's Theatres

Last night Rossley's was packed, as it has been all the week. People now see in the great Ballard Brown and Madge Locke, Scotland's first and favourite artistes, such splendid entertainers as it is not very often the good fortune to get amongst us. Their performance is refined and highly talented. Both have magnificent voices and Miss Locke is also an artistic children's competition in the go-asyou-please. The contest was a great contest last night, and the first prize was won by a young man named Arch Locke. The gentleman who won the second prize handed it over to Mr. Rossley for some charity. Mr. Rossley will hand it over to the Boy Scouts' Fund. Many of the competitors had stage fright, but next Friday night they may think better of it. The competition was well conducted.

There will be all new pictures at "Ours" on Monday and the clever little Squires have a beautiful Scouch turn to present, in correct Highland costimes. Don't miss the treat in

Making of a Man

Victoria Hall was comfortably filled last night, when an inspiring address on "The Making of a Man," was delivered by Mr. W. H. Jones, of the Seamen's Institute. By apt illustration and appropriate reminiscences, the lecturer gained the attention of his hearers and maintained the interest from first to last, and on motion of Messrs. Russell and Murdoch, was accorded a very cordial vote of thanks, to which he made a happy re-
