DECORATED FOR VALOR

To sight an enemy aeroplane was a signal for combat. Only last March he was decorated with the Military Medal for Valor. The official announcement said: "On several occasions he pursued enemy aeroplanes, and on February 3 attacked at a great height and caused the fall of a German machine. Soon afterwards he attacked two other aircraft, causing one to fall and the second to land. In April he brought down a German Taube near Saint Menenhoude, while at one time he captured and brought in as prisoners the German pilot and observer. Earlier in the same day he had driven off three German machines in an air battle."

NEWS CONFIRMED.

Paris, Sept. 1.—Reports of the death of Adolphe Pegoud, the famous aviator, have been officially confirmed. The news caused a sorrow among the French people who regarded him as a hero.

Pegoud, who was only 28 years old, served five years in the French cavalry, fighting in the Morocco campaign. At the outbreak of the present war he joined the aviation corps as a private but soon gained a sub-lieutenant's commission because of his skill and daring. His exploits won him the Military Medal and the Military Cross. Pegoud brought down his sixth German aircraft on July 11.

ARRANGED A TEST FIRE.

By Special Wire to the Courier. Cincinnati, Sept. 1.—Fire chiefs attending the annual convention of the International Association Fire Engineers were spectators today at an exhibition of skill by Cincinnati firemen at fighting flames. A two and a half story frame dwelling, erected for the purpose was touched off, and the men set to work to subdue the fire.

A test of motor engines for fire apparatus was also on the program. Every test known to the fire chiefs was required of the different makes of auto engines.

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY

By Special Wire to the Courier. Rome, Sept. 1.—Important archaeological discoveries have been made at the site of the ancient city of Cyrene, in the Barca region, Africa. These include a large statue of Jupiter which is said to be equal in artistic value to the famous statue of Alexander the Great discovered at the same place last year.

NOTED FRENCH AVIATOR DEAD

Noted French Aviator, "Falcon of the Taube," Had Great Career.

Paris, Sept. 1.—Adolphe Pegoud, the famous aviator, was killed yesterday. "Daredevil" Pegoud, so called because of his many hair-raising exploits in German aeroplanes, was the man of whom a member of the French General Staff said recently: "His value to the French army is the equivalent of a whole army corps."

Long before the war Pegoud was acclaimed as the premier aviator of the world. He was the first man to fly to execute the famous "loop-the-loop." But he was not satisfied with this achievement and started the world with new feats of daring and cool-brained skill. At Brooklands, in England, almost two years ago, he amazed great throngs of British spectators by flying, not only upside down but sideways, and diving 3,000 feet in five seconds finishing his performance with a double "loop-the-loop." Other favorite gyrations included flying for a quarter of a mile upside down while German aeroplanes, which he intended to proceed to America to give exhibition flights.

He immediately offered his services to France and soon became a terror to the hearts of the enemy. His skill quickly earned him the title of "the Falcon of the Taube." From his machine bombs were hurled with almost unerring accuracy on German munitions depots and gas positions, determinedly wrecked, railroads and depots demolished, all with apparent impunity. He flew eight hours a day, and never a day but what Pegoud got his German aeroplane.

WORLD PRESS ON THE WAR

BALANCE OF DESTINY Corriere della Sera (Milan, Italy)—It (the speech of Rt. Hon. A. J. Balfour on August 4) is an expression of the unshakable energy of the nation which never willed in vain. These words uttered in London count in the balance of destiny more than the Germans entering Warsaw.

IRELAND'S CHARTER Dublin Freeman's Journal—Ireland's charter has been made law and bears the sign manual of the King. It is a great and solemn treaty between two nations, between two great democracies. It can never be repealed so long as Ireland is determined at all costs and hazards to keep and hold it good. It is a work for a Ireland.

THE EMPIRE BETTER London Daily Telegraph—The die was cast a year ago. Neither the nation nor the Empire regrets it, as Sir Robert Borden declared in words of eloquence and significance. As a year of war opens, we can already see on the horizon unmistakable signs of approaching deliverance from a carefully organized conspiracy against civilization and all it represents for the human family.

THE WAR THE KAISER WANTED. Westminster Gazette—When the Emperor declared the other day that he never wanted war, we can hardly think of the thing that was not, but if he had slightly varied his phrase and said that he did not want this war, we should have had no difficulty in believing in it. He wanted the short, sharp, crushing war of the German text-books, with Great Britain out of it, with the seas at his disposal, with spiritless enemies who would have been taken by surprise, beaten in detail, and accepted the terms which he in his magnanimity might have pleased to propose to them.

WHY PEACE IS IMPOSSIBLE London Daily Express—Germany has had enough of the war. She will fight on desperately and determinedly if she is forced to fight, and she will not be beaten without many more months of fearful struggle and endurance. Her successes have been considerable, but she fears her power to hold on to them. The German general staff knows that she has passed the zenith of her strength, and that neither Great Britain nor Russia have reached theirs. Germany never neglects anything that might make her advantage. Peace now would necessarily leave her some of the spoils and would enable her to prepare for another attempt to plant her jack-boots on Europe. Peace now would be taken by surprise, beaten in detail, and accepted the terms which he in his magnanimity might have pleased to propose to them.

Former Superintendent of Water Board of Hempstead, L.I., Taken in Sarnia.

Sarnia, Aug. 31.—Thomas J. Wiggs, bookkeeper in a local concern for several months past and former Superintendent of the Water Board of Hempstead, L.I., who is alleged to have been a fugitive from justice for months, was arrested here yesterday after a chase through many cities in the United States, and he is now confined in Port Huron jail, where he was taken immediately. Wiggs is charged with embezzling $10,000 from the Water Board, of which he was head for fourteen years. Mrs. Wiggs and her daughter left here last night for New York.
