war HE COURLER war

THE SITUATION. This is a period of notable advances on the part of the Allies. It is the same story from all directions. Yesterday English and Canadian troops succeeded in surrounding Valenciennes and the men from the Dominion are given the credit of planning the movement.

In Flanders the Belgians went shead more than five miles on ten mile front.

In the Argonne French and American troops launched a great drive. They speedily crossed the Aisne and at last accounts were securing all objectives although the enemy is putting up an energetic resistance. On the Italian front the Austrians are still retreating in an utter rout before the Allies and prisoners and booty have reached such large figures that there has not yet been time to tabulate them.

Uprisings in Germany are reported to be on the increase with whole regiments taking part in the revolutionary movement while a like condition of affairs is also reported from Austria.

All these things tend to create a popular idea that the war is about over but it would still be a mistake to reach any such hasty conclusion. The New York Tribune thus aptly refers to a menacing danger:---

Increase in Subscription Rates Commencing Dec. 1, 1918

The subscription rates of the Brantf ord Daily Courier and the Brantford Daily Expositor, commencing December 1st, 1918, will be as follows:

Delivered in Brantford and Vicinity, 45c. per month By the year, Paid in Advance, $5.00 per annum By Mail. per annum Single Copies, 2c. 業務部合務委会社会会に

After publication of this notice, payments in advance on subscriptions will only be accepted to ecember 1st at the old rate, after that at the new rate.

This advance in subscription rates has been made necessary by the tremendous increase in the cost of white paper, the price of which has recently been fixed by the Paper Controller at Ottawa By this one item alone thousands of dollars are added to our annual cost of production, and in addition, labor, presses, stereotype supplies, type and all other items of expense have enormously advanced in price during the last few years.

Even at the new rates the Brantford papers are only now charging prices which have been in force for some time back on almost all the other daily newspapers published in this section of the Dominion. In many cities the subscription rates are very much higher. THE EXPOSITOR.
