SPORTING COMMENT

Profane language on the diamond is not an aid to baseball. Good players often get themselves disliked by their vile language. Swearing generally denotes a lack of vocabiliary and does not raise the player in anybody's esteem but his own.

The Athens Baseball Club and the A.H.S. Baseball have drawn up the schedule for the season's games. Town League is composed of three teams, the students producing one. The field is just north of the railway track. The Hause field which was used last year was considered too parrow. Besides, the neighbors did not take kindly to the fouls and flies. While the diamond this year is not central it is easily reached as there is good sidewalk most of the way. The ground itself is smooth with some elevation toward the north end which is scarcely noticeable when playing. There will be six schedule games and a play off. These games will commence at four o'clock on Tuesdays and
