GREAT ACTIVITY AT BUSY BATH

Lifting of Embargo on Cars Gives Big Impetus to Shipping

The last week has been a very busy one in local shipping circles. An activity similar to that witnessed during the days of the Great War was staged by local shippers. This activity, being due to the lifting of the embargo on cars to United States points.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Haley returned from Lynn, Mass., on Friday last. Sheriff A. R. Foster, Hartland, was in town on Friday on professional business.

Don't to Mr. and Mrs. Danes, Church St., on April 22, a week. Joseph Craine, Johnville, who spent the past winter in Portland, has returned home.

An Ice Cream parlor has been opened in the J. N. Drott building by Fred Drott, and we feel sure that he will be well patronized as he states that he will do all in his power to serve the public as they wish to be served.

Bridge Inspector H. W. Craine has a crew engaged, shingling the Monmouth highway bridge.

Holland Gibson of Capid was in town on Tuesday last.

The Senior Bath Dramatic Club will present "The Goodies" on May 2, at the Elite Theatre. A Three Act play rich in laughs and fancy costumes. The plot centres around an Egyptian scarab. Egypt has been in the limelight of late. Improve your Egyptian by attending. Remember the Elite Theatre on May 2.

Wm. Brown who for the past three weeks has been ill, is recuperating. He left last week for St. John on a visit to his brother, F. P. Brennan, 298 Union St.

On Saturday April 26, a portion of the bridge joining Bath and Newbury, started on its annual journey to the Bay of Fundy. The remainder followed Sunday morning. The river is now quite clear of ice. The passenger ferry was running for the first on Monday of this week.

Miss Emma Gillingham is visiting with friends and relatives in Washburn and Eagle Lake, Me.

Miss Lester, E. N., returned on Monday from Pittsburgh.

Arthur Drott, is busily engaged in renovating the Riverside Garage, preparatory to the summer rush.

Frank Palmer, last week on business to Fredericton.

Dr. Bailey was in town during the past week. Last week before the bridge moved out Lee Cain of Knoxford in attempting to cross the river has as usual broke through the ice cutting one of his horses pretty badly. He succeeded in getting them out, however, not much the worse for their ducking. We believe now, that should the occasion arise, Mr. Cain would heartily join in the chorus of any song, entitled "Somewhere near Bath there Should be a Bridge."

The many friends of Mrs. Charles Roberts, Red Rapids, will regret to hear that she had the misfortune to break a leg. At the present time the writer has not heard any details as to how or where it happened. Suffice to say, that her many friends are very sorry to hear of her misfortune.

The opening of the Elite Theatre as a motion picture house on last Friday evening, was a grand success. Burpee & Tedlie care to be congratulated on their appointing Mr. W. J. Gorman as manager. There is no reason why this popular form of entertainment should not thrive and receive the support which it deserves. The program last Friday night was of a three-fold character. The Pathé News was educational as well as humorous; the pictures portraying the St. John Carnival and Winter Sports showed the great possibilities this province has of becoming a mecca for winter tourists; and thirdly, "Through a Glass Window" featuring May McEwen. The story of temptations, poverty overcome, through the kindness of friends and hard work.

The public wants good, clean pictures and if such are run here, Messrs. Burpee & Tedlie will find that their enterprise will meet with success.

On Friday evening 27th, the following will be screened: "Wallace Reid in 'The Champion'" also a Pathe News and a Scenic. "What's wrong with Women" a super-special is the feature for next week.

WALLY REID TRAINS FOR ROLE IN NEW PHOTOPLAY

Star of "The World's Champion" Does Fistic Stunts With Realism in View

When Wallace Reid, Paramount star, agreed to do the title role in "The World's Champion" from the successful play by Thomas London and A. E. Thomas, as his new starring vehicle, which will be shown at Hartland tonight, Bath tomorrow night and Centerville on Saturday, he drew a large order, for to portray a prizefight champion and to show the pugilist in action in the heat in which he grabs the prize belt is a stunt that cannot be "faked" before the camera.

Although Reid was no novice with the gloves, having been for a long time a boxing enthusiast, there were nevertheless many tricks for him to master, and to perfect his role he went through a daily course of rigid training for several weeks prior to the filming of the fight scenes.

Under the clever direction of Philip E. Rosen, the scenes of "The World's Champion" are more realistic and the picture is declared to be highly diverting. J. E. Nash adapted the play to the screen and Mr. Reid is supported by John Wilson, Lionel Belmont, Henry Miller, Jr., Helen Dunbar, and other players.

HAPPY WEDDING AT BRISTOL

Sundry Items of General News of Interest

A pretty wedding took place on Wednesday, April 18, at 11 a.m. in the United Baptist church when Miss Vera Rogers, eldest daughter of the adora Rogers, was married to Merritt V. Stokes of Plaster Rock. The bride was attired in white satin with bridal veil, and carried a bouquet of white roses and ferns. After the ceremony the near relatives of the young couple were served a dainty luncheon at the home of the bride's father. Rev. J. W. Williamson performed the ceremony. DEATH OF A CHILD

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. J. Wiley Grant of Kilburn will regret to hear of the death of their infant daughter, Jennie Mildred, which occurred Sunday evening, April 15, after a week's illness. The little one, who was nearly 9 months old, had always been delicate and at times suffered quite severely. Her sweetness and patience endeared her to the hearts of all and her passing away leaves a vacant place in the family circle that can never be filled. Besides her parents who is survived by one little sister, Shirley, the bereaved ones have the sincere sympathy of the community in their sorrow.

On Tuesday afternoon a short service was held at the home, Rev. C. O. Hewitt, the Rev. Andover, speaking words of comfort and consolation, his text being I Thes. 4:18. The following hymns were sung: Safe in the Arms of Jesus, Jewels and Does Jesus Care? Interment was made in the family cemetery. The pallbearers were Kenneth MacDonald, Harry Morehouse, Stewart and Charles Bishop.

THE BAPTIST CHURCH

"Well Doing" - What is well doing? Is there any one in Hartland who is doing well? If so who is that person and in what terms is he to be described? You may get the description of that person Sunday morning at the United Baptist church when the pastor, Rev. G. F. Bolster, will preach on the subject of "Well Doing."

"The Greatest Discovery" that Man Has Ever Made". Do you know what that discovery is? Come and hear about it at the Baptist Church Sunday evening at 7.30 o'clock.

On Tuesday evening of next week the Young People's Union will hold a social in the vestry of the church. All the older young people of the church and congregation are cordially invited.
