ON THE LOSS OF TWO YOUNG LADIES

IN THE LATE ILL-PATED STEAMER FAIRY QUERN.

Paramell street give the dream of life is o'er, And Nature's beasine now can charm to more The gloridus San, the Moon and Starty skies Are faded, lost to death's unconscious eyes,

The morning down that maiden's love to fock, The playful breeze that kinese brauty's check, The mellow rays of evening 's setting sun, Appent to weep a theo so early tun.

When prospects bright and cheering to the heart, Each soothing vision that might peace impair Hung Ger their pillows and to slumber gave Such highy dreams as innocence might crave.

Young you health ran mantling thro' the veins, And hope, dear hope, had told in softest strains Of joys to meet in Albion's favour'd Isle, Where virine dwells, approv'd by beauty's smile

The morning downed with every vision bright-Thay or faing fell 'neith' tempest and affright; "And wild was heard 'neath Ocean's angry rave, The shrick expiring on the distant wave.

Oh ! where was manhood when those beings fair. With out-stretched arms implored protecting care ; Where were the hearts that seamen love to boast ; Those fearless hearts that brave our stormy coast ?

Alas! they were not, and a meaner mea. By dite mis-hap usurped the sailor's place; The dry for mercy 'neath, life-ebbing pain, Was heard by dastards⁶ but the cry was vain.

While all is pale beneath the startling kneel. And friendly breasts with deep emotion swell ; While memory bleeds with young companions dear, A stranger turns and drops the painful tear. Pietus, October, 1863,

• It was said that most of the crew shandoned the passengers in the sinking vessel.

VARIETIES.

PROFITABLE FOWLS .- The raising of fancy poultry is getting to be quite a handsome business Mr John T. Androws Sharon. Ct., has published, in the Litchfield Enquirer an account of his success in breeding fowls, from which it appears, that his profit on six pullets of the black Spanish variety, amounted to $181, or $30 each, he had sold 200 chickens at an average of $ 1, 25. Better business than the dairy that!

CULTIVATING FRUIT TREES. - The Prairie Farmer in speaking of the injury to young orchards occasioned by the non practice of sowing them to grain and seeding to grass, uses this fair comparison : "Small grains in the orchard, are worse then red pepper in lemonade. So we think." He might have added that they are about as nourishing to fruit trees as ten-penny nails would be to a horse, or a Scotch-snuff pudding to young children.

PRESERVING BUTTER.-The farmers of Aberdeen, Scotland, are said to practice the following method for curing their butter, which gives it a great superiority over that of their neighbour :-- salt, onc ounce of sugar, and one ounce of common saltpetre; take one ounce of this composition for one pound of butter, work it well into the mass, and close it up for use. The butter cured with this mixture appears of a rich and marrowy consistence and fine color, and never acquires a brittle hardness nor tastes salty. Dr. Anderson says: 'I have eaten butter cured with the above composition that has been kept for three years, and it was as sweet as at first.'

It must be noted, however, that butter thus cured requires to stand three weeks before it is used. If it is or a month sooner opened the salts are not suf-ficiently blended with it, and sometimes the coolness of the nitre will be per-ceived, which totally disappears afterwords

SHELTER FOR FATTENING STOCK. -A1 a late discussion by the members of the Highland Agriculture Society, in referance to the winter management of stock designed for slaughter, all the speakers agreed that it was most economic effected a saving of food, and at the same time there was a greater gain of meat. The extra gain is doubtless owing to the food which would be consumed in keeping up the necessary warmth of the animal under exposure being converted into flesh and fat, when the animal is placed in a genial temperature. One of the speakers, who had fattened many cattle, said his rule was to keep them in such a degree of heat, that their skins when touched felt damp with perspiration, but not so warm as to make the perspiration rut, from them. A similar rule has been adopted by sussessful feeders in America.

THE DREAM OF A BAGPIPE .- The Earl of Aberdeen, at the late Privy Council, looked very much pressed and flattened. It is said that, for some weeks past, the noble East has suffered a nightly dream, in which he believes himself turned to a bagpine, with the Emperor of Russia, horned and tailed, playing upon him.
