

ANECDOTES OF JOHN BUNYAN.
To pass away the gloomy hours in prison, Bunyan took a nail out of the stool belonging to his cell, and with his knife fashioned it into a flute. The keeper hearing music followed the sound to Bunyan's cell; but while he was unlocking the door the ingenious prisoner placed the nail in the stool, so that the searches were unable to solve the mystery nor, during the remainder of Bunyan's residence in the jail did they ever discover how the music had been produced. In an old account of Bedford, there is an equally good anecdote to the effect that a Quaker called upon Bunyan in jail, one day, with what he professed to be a message from the Lord. "After searching for thee," said he "in half of the jails of England I am glad I found thee at last." "If the Lord sent thee," said Bunyan sarcastically, "you would not have needed to have taken so much trouble to find me out, for He knows I have been in Bedford jail these seven years past."
