ANOTHER PAIR OF SIAMESE TWINS

San Antonio Tex, May 1—Living here are the successors of Rosa and Josefa Blazek, world famed Siamese Twins, who died recently in Chicago. They are Violet and Daisy "Siamese Twins"—their bodies are joined together at the base of the spine—just like Rosa and Josefa, just like Eng and Chang, original Siamese Twins whom Barnum made famous in the last century.

Save for the abnormal joining of their bodies, Violet and Daisy are just like two ordinary 16 year old girls.

And save for the fact that one must go wherever the other goes they enjoy the same pastimes and diversions any other girls of 16 would enjoy.

Fond of Games

They're fond of cards, checkers and dominoes. But both don't always play the same game at the same time.

The other night Daisy was engaged in beating her uncle at dominoes while Violet, brows puckered, was trying to disentangle herself from the intricacies of a high bid in bridge.

Both girls like to read. But while one reads Oliver Twist, the other may be thrilled by a movie serial!

Both are fond of the movies—and of the same kind of movies, for both must always attend the same show. They prefer serial pictures of wild adventure to the humdrum society romance.

Each twin writes an entirely different handwriting. While the penmanship of both is good, their scripts are as different as the two poles.

The children romp and play about the grounds of their winter home here just as any children. They move about with marvellous rapidity and ease.

Daisy and Violet have been educated by private tutors. Their parents refused to send them to the public school because of the comment their joint condition might call forth.

San Antonio's "Siamese Twins" today are the oldest known such twins in existence. Many such are borne but few live beyond babyhood. Rosa and Josefa Blazek were well over 40 when they died. Eng and Chang were 63.

Indoor Life

Spending more time indoors makes women far more subject to constipation than men.

The liver becomes sluggish and torpid, the bowels constipated and the system poisoned by impurities. If you would get away from the myriads of ills which result from constipation, it is only necessary to use Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

The benefits from their use are as lasting as they are prompt and certain.

Mrs. John Barry, 18 St. Amable Street, Quebec, Que., writes:

"This is to certify that I was troubled for years with constipation and tried all kinds of medicines without relief. At last my husband suggested that I try Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. I did so, and must say that they have given me more relief than all the medicines I have taken during the last fifteen years. I may also add that I have used Dr. Chase's Ointment for piles with excellent results."

STOMACH ULCER AND GALL STONES

After Suffering 25 Years, Completely Relieved by "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

MR. EDWARDS
MAPLEHURST FARM, HILLHURST, P. Q.
"I am in my 78th year. About 25 years ago, I began to have trouble with my Stomach. One doctor said I had Cancer; another said, Ulcer of the Stomach; another, Gall Stones; others, Ulcers of the Liver and Inflammation of the Gall Bladder.

Three years ago, I consulted one of the best specialists in Montreal. He said I must go to the hospital, have an Ulcer cut out of my stomach and gall stones removed. I was then 74 years old. I said "NO."

Then, I began to take "Fruit-a-tives." I found they helped me a lot, and I still take them occasionally, and I am so much better that I have done to myself to look so well. I am gaining in weight and enjoying life very much."

LIBERAL DISHONESTY

The dishonesty of the Liberal leaders was strikingly illustrated once more last week. During the last session of Parliament Mr. MacMaster, who represents Brome County, Quebec, sought to crystallize into law a measure to make it unlawful for any person being a director in a large corporation to also be a Minister for the Crown. Mr. MacMaster's measure was aimed particularly at Mr. Ballantyne, then Minister of Marine in the Meighen Government, Mr. Ballantyne having large business interests in the city of Montreal. The proposal of the member for Brome was supported by the then opposition leader, Mr. Mackenzie King, with all the acumen and energy at his command. Last week Mr. MacMaster brought the matter up again, though in a modified form, but in his speech on Monday he still seemed to have Mr. Ballantyne in his mind, though that gentleman was defeated with the government last December, and is not even a member of Parliament. The particular interest in the MacMaster resolution this year rested in the stand that would be taken by Premier King in view of the fact that Sir Lomer Gouin, who is a member of the King Government, has larger interests in large financial and other corporations doing business with the Government than Mr. Ballantyne ever had. But Premier King and the great majority of the Liberals in the House this year voted against the MacMaster proposal and except for two or three Liberals, it got its only support from the Progressives.

The Conservatives, of course, voted against the MacMaster proposal because the Conservative party has never maintained that there is anything wrong in a director of a bank, for instance, having business with a government being also a member of the government. The Conservative position has always been that the government must be composed of men of substance; such men, naturally, are connected with large institutions, and the government has business in some way with nearly all these institutions. To assume that Ministers of the Crown would use their influence to unduly divert government business to institutions in which they happened to be directors or shareholders would be to assume that they were personally dishonest. The point, however, is that Mr. King in power calls upon his followers to vote down a proposition which he and they supported with all their might last year. And this is not the only instance. Premier King's right about face on the soldiers' bonus bill and the Minister of Labor's declaration that he was too optimistic in opposition and that he did not intend to proceed against the same, are further illustrations of Liberal inconsistency. To continue such men in power would be simply to put a premium on political dishonesty.

THAT LOGGIEVILLE CASE

Inspector Stewart has given the following additional information on the celebrated mix-up in Loggieville a few days ago, and also the satisfactory statement that the inspectors finally landed their quarry, who after all, turned out to be the one fleeing from the law. Mr. Stewart says:

The right story to the Loggieville mix up is as follows:

Frank Hayden of Pokemouche who has been engaged in trafficking in moonshine for some time was on complaint of Inspector Gammon convicted last fall and fined $200 and costs which costs by now bring the fine to well over three hundred dollars. Hayden since then has refused to pay and a warrant of commitment has been issued by the magistrate at Bathurst. The Gloucester officers, Constables, Sheriffs and all have been unsuccessful in arresting Hayden as he always eluded them.

So William Walsh of Pokemouche was sworn in at Bathurst Thursday a special prohibition Constable. Hayden knowing Walsh's determination to land him, flew, and took the mail at Tracadie the boat at Neguac and landed at Loggieville. Walsh anticipating this move, came to Chatham where he and Inspector Stewart undertook to head him off. They went to Loggieville Friday evening, but were not sure that the man who had got off the boat was Hayden. It turned out to be Hayden however and he had just finished supper at The Terminal and saw the officers coming across the street. He hid as before stated, under a Laundry basket under the stairs. The much talked of Suit Case however was found to contain nothing but clothes which Hayden was taking with him. The four officers after visiting Bridgetown, Lower Newcastle and Bartibogue finally found Hayden in the loft of a barn with over four feet of hay covering him. He was handcuffed, brought to Newcastle and taken to Bathurst Monday afternoon. He was arrested about midnight Sunday, so those who are kicking themselves in Loggieville for letting the suit case go away missed nothing more than a sheepskin coat and other clothes. —Gazette.

MORE DIPHTHERIA

Another case of diphtheria has been reported from Harvey Station. This makes the second in that locality. There has been no new outbreak of scarlet fever at McAdam Junction and none of the cases so far have assumed any serious proportions.
