DON'T YOU THINK SO?

Some women comylain of their husbands To all their "particular friends," And make themselves out to be martyrs, Enduring the trials God sends.

They put on a doleful expression, And then in a pitiful tone, Recount all the faults of their husbands, While thinking they're hiding their own

Their stories of family troubles They pour into other folk's ears, And really appear to find comfort

In other folks' pitying tears. But wives who complain of their husband And men who complain of their wives, Who take to themselves the full credit For all the bright spots in their lives,

Must, surely, forget that their duty Is ever to try to conceal Each other's short-comings and failures ;

Is never their faults to reveal!

Since all wives and husbands are human. None always do perfectly right; And little wrongs grow to be great ones, The more they are brought to the light.

The man who was once a glad bridegroom The woman who once was his bride, As long as they call themselves wedded

SELECT STORY.

Each other's wrong doings should hide!

AN UNBROKEN PROMISE.

A CASTAWAY.

PART II. CONTINUED.

CHAPTER X. "P.S.-I had almost forgotten to tell you a curious thing which happened yesterday. We have a new clerk at the being forwarded, and as he refused to go and I was sent for. Directly I set eyes intended to ask of her. upon the man who wished the telegram forwarded, I recognised him at once. one morning to fetch you after a rehearsal and as we walked away from the theatre, could have given him credit for, raised his hat and went away. "There stood the very man at our counter; I recognized him in an instant; saw the whole scene before me. Of course he the telegraph office, the sister and companion of the celebrated actress, Miss M. P. I enquired into the matter, told him that the message could be forwarded, and he retired, taking off his hat to me, exactly as he had taken it off to you, on the before-named memorable occasion. "I wonder who he is; he looked very that American circus which came to one of the towns-I forget which-where you

Madge, turning over the paper, "and not enter into the details of the quarrel not hear you." Rose. Ah, what is this?" and she stoop- say that it arose from my obedience to an ed down to pick up a piece of paper lying obligation laid on me by my mother on thinking of—of something else." on the ground at her feet. It was the us- her death-bed, and --" ual printed form of a telegraph message. "Is it positively necessary, my dear Madge noticed that it was headed "copy." boy, that we should enter into these fam- Mr. Gerald?" that it was filled up in Rose's handwriting, | ily matters?" asked the invalid queruousand that it was lengthy, but she read no- ly. thing beyond the first two lines, which ran thus:

Sandown, Isle of Wight."

Madge started, doubting whether she on that matter, and that the truth should head." had read aright; she re-read the address be told to him." carefully, placed the paper in her pocket and started off at once for the rectory.

She found Mr. Drage at home, and read did not show him the copy of the telegram, | dead," said Gerald firmly. refer to the written document, every word of that address was burning in her memory, as though each had been emblazoned | last night."

in letters of fire. said Mr. Drage. "Have you thought of ing her hand.

what you will do now?" sulted Bradshaw while waiting for you, have been and am so fond of you." vil, sleep there this evening, and proceed ory with this stain upon it! I am, I know, serious for a minute?"

cross to the Isle of Wight." "No," said Madge. "I think that it will be better that I should go alone; not conduct to me, and if my father lost his that I think either of us need have the wife through your acts, I have found a listen to so much," interrupted Gerald; smallest fear of what the world might say second mother in you." about such a proceeding, but I am sure that my chance of—well, I suppose, I couch and kissed the wan cheeks down have known me. Rose, in two very differthat my chance of—well, I suppose, I couch and kissed the wan cheeks, down have known me, Rose, in two very differmay say, of, escaping with my life from which the tears were coursing. Then he ent positions in life," my husband, will be greater if he imag- continued: "But you will not refuse to ines I have acted entirely on my own make reparation by letting me see my ago, when you were a scene painter; now, "The argument you have used is scarce- suspicion which has so long possessed "Yes; you fancy I have returned to my ly one which should induce me to give way to you," said the rector; "however, wife was treated by him."

"I should not object to that." said Mrs.

suspicion which has so long possessed him, and of showing how harshly his family, but it is not so. Mrs. Entwistle is my aunt, it is true, but I have yet living world. 25cts per bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup." speed you! Sir Geoffry will be perfectly | Entwistle, with something of the old sarprepared to hear you wish for a few days' castic ring in her voice. "Major Heriot Principally for siding with my mothchange; I have taken care of that."

ing Wheatcroft, Madge Pierrepoint rang woman with a little spirit to hate him." picions of my mother were entirely unthe bell of a large, handsome one-storied "You will not object, then, to my see- unfounded, and I am going to him tovilla, standing in a lovely garden, and ov- ing Sir Geoffry, and acquainting him morrow to prove this to him." ooking Sandown Bay. The hall door what you told me last night?" was open, and several servants flitting about, busily engaged removing the dinner. invalid, wearily; "but a very short time into favor, Gerald," said Rose, with yet a One of these advanced towards her. "Is Mr. Philip Vane within?"

The servant glanced first at her and then at the fly which had brought her unwillingly, and Gerald determined to ing of him but his recognition and his from the hotel, then he was reassured. "Mr. Vane is staying in the house Ma'am," he replied.

"I wish to speak with him." "Certainly, Ma'am," said the man, showing the way into a small room. "Will you walk into the study? Who shalf I say wishes to see Mr. Vane?

Madge, firmly. CHAPTER XI.

to her nephew, had a twofold effect upon three bottles completely cured me. I said the girl, looking down. in his mother's innocence was well found- | Carten and C. A. Burchill.

had made on parting from him. the first place, Gerald knew that Mrs. which he had conceived it. It would be my position as my father's son." Entwistle's state of health was such as to a difficult task, no doubt, but it should "You are determined then, to see your fect which the expression of his deter- fully. the reception he might meet with at his ed to think it necessary to perform after next, I am determined to shake off this would not merely discredit the informat- ton Gardens.

in a tremendous rage about it, and at last day, and chatted on indifferent topics, little distance off. the spot, and then he, in a far more tended to be special emphasis, after her her parasol.

as I am now, I shall almost bring myself | in pursuit. to believe that Doctor Asprey is wrong, "Even that is good hearing," said Ger- days!" ald, "for I was prepared to find you a thing particular to say to you."

"You will readily understand what I have to ask you," said Gerald. "I need have to ask you, "said Gerald. "I need have to ask you," said Gerald. "I need have to ask you, "said Gerald. "I need have to ask you," said Gerald. "I need have to ask you," said Gerald. "I need have to ask you," said Gerald. "I need have to ask you, "said Gerald. "I need have to ask you," said Gerald. "I need have to ask you, "said Gerald. "I need have to ask you, "sai there is nothing enclosed; that's just like between father and son. I may simply

"It is," said Gerald, insomuch as that in his conduct to my mother, Sir Geoffry she heard me calt you anything else?" "D. L. B., London, to Philip Vane, Esq., has been guided by a belief in his wife's care of P. Kaulbach, Esq., Hollycombe, misconduct, if not actual shame. It is made you refer to her?" necessary that he should be enlightened | "I don't know; she came into my > ineffectual struggle to raise herself on her to her whenever you are annoyed. You of palpitation or fluttering of the heart couch, "you would not betray me?"

but she repeated exactly the address it "But at my expense. Wait till I am contained. There was no need for her to gone, Gerald; you will not have to postmy views have somewhat altered since her, Mr.-I mean, Gerald."

"This is, to say the least, very lucky," story," said he, bending over her and tak- voke me."

my way at once to the place where Philip ough, and to be expected, of course, but rived. It was lucky your letter found me Vane is staying and confront him. I am your manner seems changed and different as I might have started off on my holisufficient woman of business to have contowards me this morning. And I - I day."

"May I not accompany you?" said Mr. to sit in judgment on matters which took manner in an instant. "Of course I can, place almost before my existence. Your Gerald," she said earnestly. "If my nonconduct to her has been atoned by your sense pains you, I —" father, to clear his mind of the groundless when you are a-a swell."

never appreciated my sister, and even in er, with whom he had also quarelled, behis most devoted days, treated her with a lieving she had deceived him. It has just On the second evening after her leav- frigid courtesy which would have led any been my fortune to discover that his sus-

> "You must do as you will," said the sure to welcome you and take you back and I shall be beyond the influence of touch of sadness in her voice. his wrath, however violent it may be." So the concession was granted, though he does, well and good. I will ask nothgo down to Springside, where he had as name." DOUBLED UP WITH RHEUMATISM.

A Norwood Citizen Praises South Amer ican Rheumatic Cure. may be interested." "I, Gerald? How?" William Pegg, Norwood, Ont.: "Last "Surely you must know! Surely long Christmas I could hardly walk, and was "Say Mrs. Vane, if you please," said nearle doubled up with rheumatism. I ere this your heart must have told you procured three bottles of South American | how dear you are to me, Rose. Will you Rheumatic cure from W. Rutherford, not answer me?" he said, taking her druggist, of Norwood, and found it the hand and passing it lightly through his

THE revelation made by Mrs. Entwistle saw. The first dose gave relief and the "I-I thought you liked me, Gerald," Gerald's mind. He was of course filled have had neither ache nor pain from "Liked you!" he echoed, with a laugh. but no successful imitation has ever been with joy at the discovery that his belief rheumatism since." Sold by W. H. "I like you so much that I am going to offered to the public. Only years of exask you to be my wife, to share my for- | perience and study can produce the best.

"Thank you, dearest one," he said memory since her death, the young man troubles. Another twenty-four hours will To bring about this result successfully felt that he would be enabled to fulfil determine whether I am to remain an would, however, be no easy matter. In his self-imposod task in the spirit in outcast under a false name, or to resume

"I am. It is my duty to tell him what I have heard, and to endeavor to satisfy mination to reveal to his father the real | Gerald did not purpose going to Spring- him of its truth. Whether I fail in this, circumstances regarding Mr. Yeldham, side until next morning. He did not or whether I succeed, all I should ask of and the error under which that unfortun- think it would be kind to leave Mrs. Ent- him would be the permission to bear his ate man's life had been sacrificed, might | wistle until he had seen whether the ac- name. I want no money from him. I ntention to Mrs. Entwistle, without caus- appearance, and, moreover, he had some- against you, Gerald, you will go on living onsent to the steps which he proposed to thing particular, apparently, so attentive "Not entirely, Rose. In the first place take, Gerald felt more than doubtful of was he to a second toilet, which he seem- I shall have you with me, and in the felt it probable that the old general would struck across the park towards Kensing- "That's good hearing, Gerald," said the girl, looking up delightedly at him. ion which his son sought to convey to The broad walk, which had been lately "What you said last I mean." she added him, but that he would possibly regard filled with fashionable promenaders, was noticing the smile upon his face; "though the whole affair as a scheme concoted by now almost deserted, and the turfy paths I don't mean to deny that to become your Gerald, with a view to his reinstatement of the long green alleys were already dot- wife will be the fulfilment of my dream man had made up his mind that the diffi- spots the grass had been worn away en- "It is very sweet of you to make such a culties, of whatever nature they might | tirely, in more it was brown, brittle, and | confession. How long have you had this when he rose on the morning after Mrs | being not yet sufficiently numerous, in the . "Almost all my life, it seems to me. It counter, and it appears he refused to take Entwistle's confession, it was with the gardener's opinion, to be worth the trouble began, I think, in the old days at Wexea message because it was written in cipher; full determination of taking prompt act- of collection. The children usually found ter, when you used to give me drawing ion towards the vindication of his moth- there, taking in the best intimation of lessons in Miss Cave's lodgings. You recol-

Whatever effect the narration of those people, whose business in life seems to be "I was almost jealous of Madge once, I dark passages in her early career may to sit on the extreme edges of the seats remember. I used to think you liked her, Don't you recollect, a short time before the have had upon Mrs. Entwistle, she had and eat captains' biscuits, had forsaken Gerald, but that of course was absurd. herself sufficiently under control to pre- their haunts. Struck by the contrast be- Poor darling, Madge, how surprised she vent the manifestation of any outward tween the gaiety which the scene had pre- will be at what I have to tell her! I shall

"I think you had better leave it until short, stout man, whose hands we noticed her usual position by the window, and terized it, Gerald Hardinge stopped and you can tell her something more definite, were covered with blazing diamond rings, in her usual state. She received him looked around, then, with a shiver, was dearest," said Gerald. "By to morrow and who kept on dogging our footsteps, with her ordinary affectionate greeting; turning away, when he caught sight of a night I shall know what effect the comto my great amusement? But you were asked of his intended movements for the figure, with its back towards him, some munication I have to make to him will have upon my father and you can then induce a wish to see the face belonging to with dismay the inhabitants of most wat-"I am going blind, I fancy," he said to have been prudent enough to invest their and that I, as it were, exist upon my ill- himself as he hurried along. "It was by savings in lodging-houses in that favorite ness. That was a sharp attack that I had the merest chance that I saw her, and yet spot, there is no portion of the year last night, but it seems to have left no I felt certain she would not neglect my which does not bring its due amount of special ill-effect behind it, as I am in my summons. How wonderfully graceful she profit and gain. When the summer is The next moment he had gained the city of springs, return to the city of smuts, prisoner to your room, and I had some- lady's side. She gave a little cry as he the Springsideites view the departure of "Mgain," cried the invalid, with up- She had been startled by his appearance, They know that after a short intervale, py days, when we had no mysterious ise of delicate beauty developed and matcommunications to make to one another! ured, and with the bloom of health and furniture, their lodgings will be again were acting when I was with you. His message was in cipher, and there is therefore nothing in it which led to his identification; it is a funny message, I enclose affication; it is a funny message, I enclose affication afficient message affication affication affication affication afficient message affication afficient message afficati

> TO BE CONTINUED. A VETERAN IN THE LATE WAR.

Cured of Fluttering of the Heart and Smothering Spells by Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart—It Always Relieves in Thirty Minutes and Thus Saves Thous-ands of Lives.

Mr. H. H. Musselman, member of the G. A. R., Weissport, Pa., writes: "I have "I notice she always does come into used two bottles of Dr. Agnew's Cure for "Gerald," cried Mrs. Entwistle, with an your head, or, at least, you always allude the Heart and have been entirely cured and smothering spells. I took ten botway to relieve me. I do not think the value of the Heart Cure can be estimated. "Were you? Well, then, if it will It has wrought such a change in my conpone your explanation long, and - and please you, I will take a violent fancy to dition that I feel like a new man." Sold by W. H. Carten and C. A. Burchill.

AN UNADVISED SUITOR-

She looked like a tigress at bay, also a little like her grandmother, whose portrait hung above the mantel.

"Away," she cried. "Don't speak to me again. I have discovered that you love me for my gold." As he staggered to the door he did not forget to press his hand to his brow. "Curse it," he faltered. "I didn't know she was one of those blamed silver cranks.' FOR OVER FIFTY YEARS used by millions of mothers for their chil-dren while teething. If disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child crying with pain of Cutting Teeth, send at once and get a bottle of "Mrs. "but just now I have something in downmothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures Diarrhœa, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, cures Wind Colic, softens the Gums and reduces Inflamation. Is pleasant to the taste. The prescription of one of the oldest and best female phy-

An Irish street car conductor called out shrilly to the passengers standing in the

"Will thim in front plaze to move up, so that thlm behind kin take the place of thim in front, an' lave room for thim who are naythur in front nor behind?"

How to Cure All Skin Diseases.

Simply apply "Swayne's Ointment.' No internal medicine required. Cures tetter, eczema, itch, all eruptions on the face, hands, nose, &c., leaving the skin clear, white and healthy. Its great healing and curative powers are possessed by no other remedy. Ask your druggist for Swayne's Ointment.

Mr. Solidman-That young Chumley is so soft you could run a tallow candle through him. Mr. Hardpay-Tallow candle! Humph! You could throw a custard pie through that fellow and not break it. OPEN AS DAY.

For 20 Years

the formula for making Scott's Emulsion has been endorsed by physicians of the whole world. No secret about it. This is one of its strongest endorsements. But the strongest endorsement possible is in the vital strength it gives.

any other kind of nourishment. It stores health to all suffering from Emaciation and General Debility. For Coughs, Colds, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Weak Lungs, Consumption, Blood Diseases and Loss of Flesh. Scott & Bowne, Belleville. All Druggists 60c. & $1.

THE OLD SAYING

Throw Physic to the Dogs, Will not apply to the Present Day. STAPLES

ering places, whether inland or on the dwellers in Springside, for to those who over, and the London families who have been making a heliday sojourn in the their visitors with perfect composure. just long enough for them to go through the process of a "thorough clean up,"

Two Subscriptions in one remittance $4 Six Subscriptions do. do.

Ten Subscriptions do. do. To all New Subsc ibers for 1895, paying in advance now, we will send the pap r Weekly, from our receipt of the remittance, to January 1st, 1895, without charge. Specimen Copies Free. Addres LUTHER TUCKER & SON, Publishers Saws! Saws!

1 CARE Diston's Cross Cut Raws, 1 case Oak Well Suckets, 2 cases Oak Kegs, five and tengallons each; 3 boxes Post Nails, 2 boxes Patent Door Hangers, 250 bars. Refined Iron, 35 bundles Round Iron, 1 havel Cast Iron Fittings for steam or hot wate; 10 boxes Blenkhorn's axes: Just R. CHESTNUT & SONS.

Wiley's ... EMULSION ...

LIVER - OIL.

Gives Best Results. Purest and Best Materials used in Manufacture.

The Best Preparation

Best Value for the Money. in the Market Readily taken by Children. No preparation equal to it, For Building up the System.

M. WILEY, Manufacturer 196 Queen Street, Fredericton.

KEEP YOUR FEET DRY.

If you catch cold now it will hang on you all Summer.

WEAR GRANBY RUBBERS

They are the best and last longest. Perfect in Style, Fit and Finish. THEY WEAR LIKE IRON.

LANDING-

Druggist and Apothecary, ----HAS IN STOCK----

New, Fresh Drugs

-AND FULL LINES OF-PATENT MEDICINES.

A CHOICE LINE OF HAVANA AND DOMESTIC CIGARS.

And all requisites found in a First-class Drug Store.

Physician's prescriptions compounded with utmost care at all hours.

Opposite Randolph's Flour Store. 1831 THE CULTIVATOR 1895

: Gentleman. THE BEST OF THE!

AGRICULTURAL WEEKLIES. DEVOTED TO Farm Crops and Processes,

Horticulture & Fruit Growing, Live Stock and Dairying, topics of the day and season.

Club Rates for 1895. Weekly_Transcript.

> BOSTON TRANSCRIPT CO., 324 Washington Street, Boston, Mass

BY RAIL.

5 Cases assorted Tinware 25 Stove Boilers, round and oval 12 dozen Shert Iron Oven Paus Lumberman's Tin plates one pint Tin Cups
Lirge Coffee Pots for camp use
Tornado Oil Caus, 5 gallons each
Tin Oil Caus, 1, 2, 3 and 5 gallons
Enamelled Lined Scotch Bowl;

"Store Boilers, No." 8 and 9. Enamelled Lined Spiders 2 cases Granite Iron Ware, assorted 6 Parafine Oil Tanks, 60 gallons each 1 case Patent Flour Sifters.

R. C. MACREDIE,

and vicininity, that he has resumed business on Queen

Street,

Opp. County Cout House.

Where he is prepared to fill all orders in above lines, including

BELL HANGING.

SHOVELS.

6 DOZEN Long Handled Steel Shovels
10 barrels Portland Cement
75 kegs Steel Wire Nails
15 bundles thay Wire,
25 kegs Steel Horse whoes
40 dozen Narrow Axes
3 c uses Mortice Locks
2 "Mineral Kuobs
4 "Wrought Iron Nuts
1 case him Locks
1 "Loose Pin Bolts
25 boxes Steel Cut Tacks, put up in wooden kegs,
2 rolls Rubber Packing
1 case Spiral Packing
5 barrels Raw Linseed Oil
2 ton Genuine Elephant White Lead.

Just to band

Lead Pipe.

Just Received:

OILS LEAD PIPE, 2 barrels Pipe Fittings in end ess variety; 1 box Globe Valves, stop and Waste Cocks, Hose Bibbs and Brass Fittings; 40,700 feet Plain Iron Pipe, 15 dozen Steel Snow hovels, 4 boxes Mrs. Potts' Ead Irons; and for sale by Facts! Facts!

IT is false economy to refuse a good article and accept a poor one because of the low price. All goods cost money to produce. The better the good the greater the cost. There are certain prices b-low which no good, henest materials can be rought. If you pay less, you get loss, no use dodging the fact. We always buy the best and sell the best, we don't believe in shoddy. We have interpreted and sell the self-weight productions are recommended.

Farm for Sale.

THE subscriber's Farm at St. Mary's, near the Railway Station, containing 500 acres, 100 of which are under cultivation.
There are two houses, barns and outbuildings on the premises, all in good repair.
For further particulars apply to

Just to hand.

Speaking Tubes, etc.

R. CHESTNUT & SONS

R. CHESTNUT & SONS.

R. CHESTNUT & SONS.

JOHN A. EDWARDS,

Electrical and Mechanical

Timothy Seed, Plumber, Gas Fitter,

TINSMITH, Red Clover do.

Would inform the people of Frederictor Long Late

Clover do.

Alsyke Clover do.

Write for Samples and Quotations. A. F. RANDOLPH & SONS.

SEND FOR SAMPLE COPIES. Boston Transcript

A trustworthy, clean and interesting family new paper, free from sensational and objectionable mat ters, in both reading and advertising columns most instructive and entertaining selection of news itegary, political, financial, art, music and general

Daily Evening Transcript-Saturday Evening Transcript-

Published Friday's

And for sale by R. CHESTNUT & SONS.

WALL PAPER

—AT—

McMURRAY & Co's.

COMMENCING

MONDAY NEXT, JAN. 28,

-CONSISTING OF-

This Paper must be sold in order

McMURRAY & Co.

QUANTITIES FROM 3 ROLLS TO

to make room for our New Stock to arrive Feb. 15th.

-AND-

COME

IT WILL

Enjoy

But you will Have to ANNOUNCE

The date.

Then when you do, have IT DONE NICELY.

ve refer to

FINE

We are prepared to do fine printing of every description from a

CALLING CARD

THREE SHEET POSTER in several colors, and prompt in delivery of the same.

WHY TAKE A

When you can getsone believe in shoddy. We have just received one car-load of STOVES and we consider them THE BEST in the market of their kind, and we invite the pub-lic to look them over if they are in want. neat and attractive for SAME PRICE > that it will cost you for one gotten up in any

Wedding

Tags, Bill and

Which you will require, and also necessary to have printed cheaply yet in

Have it Done Attractive.

THE HERALD

Fredericton, N. B.

INVITATIONS.

Letter Headings,

good order.

SEND FOR PRICES to

FATHER AND SON.

best and quickest acting medicine I ever arm.

ed, but this joy was dashed with keen certained that his father was living, and tunes, and to take my name when," he regret at the thought that the woman to make an effort to see him. He was suf- added with a touch of bitterness, "when whom he owed so much had acted so ficiently acquainted with the violence of it is decided under what name the rewickedly towards her sister, and that, Sir Geoffry's temper, to appreciate fully mainder of my life is to be passed! What even at the time of her narration, she did the difficulty of his task, and he allowed answer do you give me, Rose?" not express, and probably did not feel, to himself that, even if he succeeded in | She gave him none beyond what was the slightest remorse for the crime she obtaining admission into his father's pres- conveyed in the momentary upward had comitted, and the misery which she ence, he would yet be far from attaining glance of her large eyes, and in the slight had brought about. A great difficulty the object of his visit. Once admitted to pressure from the little hand that trembpresented itself to the young man. He an audience, much doubtless rested with ed on his arm. It was however, apparfelt it to be of paramount importance that him, and his success would greatly depend ently enough for Gerald, who, after glanc his mother's memory should be at once on his power of holding himself in check, ing hastily around to see that there were freed from the stain, which, as his father and rendering himself invulnerable to no observers in sight, bent down and believed, had so long rested upon it; and the taunts, with which he was likely to touched her iorehead with his lips. that though reparation was of course im- be greeted. Looking at the motives possible, Sir Geoffry might be able to re- which influenced him, the restitution of "You are taking a leap in the dark, and nourishes. It does more for weak call the associations of his married life his mother's good name, and the repar- have not the slightest idea what fate may Babies and Growing Children than without regret, and to believe in the as- ation of the wrong which had been done have in store for you. But, whatever it sertions of her innocence which his wife to her during her lifetime, and to her is, I shall be by your side to share its strengthens Weak Mothers and re-render her extremely susceptible to any be undertaken in a proper spirit, and father, Gerald?" sudden emotion; and he dreaded the ef- would, he hoped, be carried out successhave upon her. Then again, even sup- cess of illneis, which had induced her to would take none." posing that he were enabled to break his send for Dr. Asprey, gave any signs of re- "Then if your father is still obdurate ing her much suffering and to obtain her thing else to do that morning. Some- as you have done lately?"

father's hands. Even with his small ex- quitting his aunt's presence, and at the laziness under which I have been so long perience of Sir Geoffrey's temper, Gerald | conclusion of which he left the house and | laboring, and to work for my living." as his father's heir. However, the young ted with freshly fallen leaves. In many of happiness."

happen to be, must be surmounted; and stubbly; the leaves lay where they fell, dream, Rose? er's memory, even though his aunt might | fresh air under the circumstances, had | lect Wexeter, Gerald, and Madge?" away, higher authority was appealed to, choose to withhold the consent which he gone to the seaside, accompanied by their "Yes," he said, "of course I recollect nursemaids, and even the shabby-genteel Madge well." sign; and when Gerald entered the bou-sented on the last occasion of his visiting write to her directly I get home." we were followed for a long distance by a doir, he found her lying on her sofa, in it, and the desolation which then charac-

you stopped dead, and turning round, never making the smallest allusion to the A female figure, trim, neat, and lissom write more fully as to your future to your looked the man up and down as though occurrences of the previous evening, even strolling along with son ewhat languid sister. Now talk to me about yourself." you could have killed and eaten him on when Gerald enquired, with what he in-Just the sort of a figure to "I feel just as usual, my dear boy," she it. No wonder, then, that Gerald Hardsaid, with a faint smile, "and if I continue | ihge, after a minute's hesitation, started normal state of lassitude and weariness." is; how much improved since the old stood suddenly before her, hat in hand. like a member of the profession, or per-lifted eyebrows, and a quaint expression and the color flushed up into her cheeks. of horror on her face. "Oh, for the hap- It was Rose Pierrepoint, with her prom-

"You are as candid as ever."

"Certainly not. Equally certain, I will not have you call me Mr. Gerald." "What would Mrs. Entwistle think if "Mrs. Entwistle is not here. What "You would not have me otherwise, did not like Mrs. Entwistle, Rose?" aloud to him the text of Rose's letter; she "I would vindicate the memory of the "I did not take any violent fancy to the of sarsaparilla, but it failed in any "So I was sorry to see."

"Don't be absurd, Rose; you are in one "You wish you had not told me this of your teasing humors, which always pro-"Then you should not have written to "With all my soul I wish it," said Mrs. | me to meet you at so short a notice, and "I have," said Madge. "I will make Entwistle, earnestly. "It is natural encome upon me so suddenly when you ar-

"I knew you would not go without letand I have already arranged my route; I But she was my mother," said Gerald ting me know, and giving me the chance find that I can go across country to Yeo- sadly. "Ah, you will not leave her mem- of saying good-bye. Rose, can you be to-morrow to Southampton, whence I can and God, knows it is not for me, owing as There was something in his tone which I do almost everything to your kindness, caused her to put off her light laughing

"Yes," said Rose, rather sadly; "long

"You know there is nothing I love to "Coming on such an errand he will be

"Discarded you, Gerald-for what?"

"I am by no means so sure of that. If "What is his name, Gerald?" "That you shall not know, Rose, until I have seen him. Curious, too, that you should ask, as it is a matter in which you

It is given to every physician, the formula of Scott's Emulsion being no secret;

Grand Remnant Sale