

Will War Be Renewed?

Germany Stubborn Over the Coal Question--Allies will Take Forcesful Measures--Montreal Faces Gas-Famine--American Opinion Not so Optimistic--Longshoremen at North Sydney Rubbed Wrong Way.

ALLIED-GERMAN DEADLOCK.

SPA, Belgium, July 13. A deadlock has been reached by the Allied representatives and the Germans on the coal question, and Marshal Foch and Field Marshal Wilson, Allied military chiefs, have again been summoned to discuss possible enforcement measures. The Allied Premiers, having been informed that the Germans were ready, called a meeting for five-thirty this evening instead of to-morrow as planned. The German reply was not considered favorable and the summoning of Marshal Foch and Field Marshal Wilson, it is understood, means immediate measures to enforce the treaty unless Germany modifies her attitude.

COAL SHORTAGE IN MONTREAL.

MONTREAL, July 13. The serious shortage of coal may deprive many families of gas next winter, the general manager of the light, heat and power company states.

NORTH SYDNEY LONGSHOREMEN INCENSED.

NORTH SYDNEY, July 10. (Delayed.)—The Longshoremen's Union is incensed over the Minister of Labor's reply to its request for a conciliation board. He is reported saying in effect, that on account of the difficulties in handling freight, the Reid Newfoundland Co. were able to transfer their terminus to another port and the trouble here would automatically cease.

TWO RUSSIAN GENERALS KILLED, ANOTHER CAPTURED.

WARSAW, July 13. The severest fighting since the Polish withdrawal began, with much bayonet work, is reported in the region of Ovruch, south of the Pripiet Marshes, in dispatches from the front on Monday. Two Bolshevik generals, Kratijinski, Divisional Commander, and Oryaov, Chief of Staff, have been killed as well as four hundred other Bolsheviks in this region. General Matkowski, former officer of the Russian regular army, who has been the right hand of General Budenny, Bolshevik cavalry leader, is reported to have been captured in the region of Ovruch, where the Polish Lancers clashed with the Bolshevik detachments.

MEIGHEN LINING UP.

OTTAWA, Ont., July 13. Nine additions were made this afternoon to the administration headed by Hon. Arthur Meighen, Premier and Minister of State for External Affairs. Hon. R. W. Wignmore, Customs, are new ministers.

THE COMING YACHT RACE.

NEW YORK, July 13. While the coming international yacht races are creating intense interest as the time for the initial contest between the Shamrock and Resolute approaches, New York newspapers, while slightly favoring the defender to retain the cup on account of her repeated successes in trials, are skeptical about regarding the issue as all but settled. On the street the Resolute continues to reign as the favorite at odds of two to one, but there is a strong under current of supporters for the Shamrock in view of the opinion of experts who have seen both the Defender and Challenger perform.

QUEENSLAND'S NEW GOVERNOR.

LONDON, July 13. Sir Matthew Nathan has been appointed Governor of Queensland in succession of the late Sir Hamilton Gould.

TURKS BECOMING AMENABLE.

PARIS, July 13. The victories of the Greeks, their occupation of Brussa, and the demoralization of the Turkish Nationalist forces have caused great perturbation in Turkish circles, which now show an inclination to accept the Peace Treaty, according to despatches from Constantinople.

RUSSIA AGREES TO ARMISTICE.

LONDON, July 13. It is rumored in authoritative quarters in Spa that Premier Lloyd George has received a message from General Chicherin, Bolshevik Commissary for Foreign Affairs, accepting the proposals of the Allies for an armistice between Poland and Russia, according Additions to the Navy.

Capt. Couch and Parsons, with crews, leave by to-morrow's express for Boston to bring down two of the three trawlers purchased by the Government from a firm of contractors in the U.S.A. These trawlers were originally built for the French Government. One is for the Humbermouth-Battle Hr. service, the other will be placed on the Bonavista service, whilst a third controlled by private parties, will be used on the Fortune Bay service. It has not been decided who will bring down the third ship.

Borden's Retirement.

Sir Robert Borden would have loomed larger in statesmanship had the record of the last fifteen months of Union Government never been written. Following the conclusion of the world conflict and the consummation of peace, the Canadian Premier had an exceptional opportunity to win a noteworthy place in history. The war work of himself and his Government was done. The task for which they were given an emphatic mandate was accomplished. The Government ought to have followed the manly and straightforward course of rendering account of its stewardship and submitting itself to the electors for a renewal of confidence.

Instead it elected to cling to office. The Premier talked from time to time of retiring, but as often was persuaded, many believed, against his own better judgment, to remain. His health was reputed to be poor. In consequence, he became an habitual absentee. A leadership Administration, whose dominant passion seemed to be to continue to hold office, rapidly lost the respect and confidence of the Canadian people. It became timid, inert and useless, going from bad to worse, until to-day it faces a coming political deluge.

It is somewhat tragic that a Premier who a few months ago could have retired from office with the assurance of an important place in the history of Canadian achievement now resigns with the knowledge that the only other alternative left him is hopeless defeat at the polls. But it may be a lesson to those who come after him. The safe, the wise, and the right course for public representatives is to trust the people.

Sir Robert Borden for many years has been a prominent figure in Canada's Parliament. For ten years he was Leader of the Conservative Opposition in the House of Commons. For nine years he has been Premier of the Dominion. His name will be associated with the political annals of this country during the period of its most stressful and heroic history. His greatest achievement came at the darkest hour. The outstanding event of his career was the bringing about of a union of men of both political parties to raise reinforcements for the Canadian fighting forces in the field and the creation of a Coalition Government to carry out that patriotic purpose. It was at this momentous his real stature.

His resignation comes now in a period of chaos. Whether or not the man chosen to succeed him will try to continue the futile policy of clinging to office in defiance of the public will remains to be seen. Sooner or later the electors will have their say. The pity of it is that Sir Robert retired after a long period of public service, having forfeited so much of the confidence of his fellow-citizens and leaving the party of which he is the Leader to face swift and certain disaster at the hands of the electors of Canada.

Mr. Rowell's resignation, tendered at the caucus but not yet accepted, is an indication that the President of the party as the old Conservative party under an assumed name. It has been evident for some time that the high protectionists among the supporters of Union Government were determined to return to the fiscal policy of pre-war days. The Drayton Budget strained the loyalty of the Liberal Unionists almost to the breaking point. It proved that the interests are in the saddle, and have no intention of surrendering the reins. During the past two years Mr. Rowell has swallowed a good deal. If he did so unwillingly he gave no outward sign. It would appear, however, that he has no stomach for the nauseous dose involved in the acceptance of the leadership of Hon. Arthur Meighen or Sir Henry Drayton. By his retirement the Government will lose the last semblance of a Union Administration.—Toronto Globe.

DIAMOND DUST

THIS AFTERNOON'S GAMES.

At 3 o'clock this afternoon the battered B.I.S. will face the Cubs in a regular league fixture. It is thought O'Leary will be well enough to go in the box for the Harps, though if not, the veteran Dick McGrath will be the club artist. Richard T. has terrific speed and should be effective. The lineups will be:—

CUBS. B.I.S.

Hall O'Leary

Canning French

DeMers Wallace

Gosse Phelan

Sawyer Walsh

Manning O'Donnell

Duggan Delaney

Phelan Gleeson

Edwards Power

PRELIMINARY GAME.

The second game in the Junior League will be played previous to the big clash when St. Bon's will play the Shamrocks. The youngsters are producing classy ball (which is more than some of the elders are doing) and a spirited contest is assured. The game will be five innings and will start sharp at 2.30.

LAST NIGHT'S GAME.

The less said about last night's game the better. It was a terrible fiasco, the Wanderers trouncing the B.I.S. by the awful score of 21 runs to 5. Phelan and O'Donnell were hammered most unmercifully by the blue and whites, and the fielding errors were horrible. Andy Clouston even worked the feint throw, which was successful in getting Dugby French to lift his feet off first. This latter gentlemen was not in good form last night, for 3 errors were charged him, and Walsh at short had 3 more against him. Even gallant little Tush O'Donnell was guilty to the extent of a brace. Of their 21 runs the Wanderers crew only earned 8. Britt and Clouston poked out three baggers while McCrindle, Dillon and Smith had double sackers. Clouston and McCrindle pulled two good double plays. Grandpa Smith was in the box for the victors and had 7 strikeouts though 3 errors are charged to him. There was great disappointment that Dusty Sinnott was not used as he is reported to have the whole 57 varieties but does not seem to be given a chance. Clouston played a star game all through. The Wanderers are now second in the League, having a slight lead on the Cubs. The Irish boys without O'Leary, are like a big corgi strapping wallowing lazily in the sea with her main shaft broken and her propeller gone. The exhibition they gave last night was the worst seen for years, and Manager Channing is indeed to be pitied. However, they shouldn't lose heart as all they need is a good shaking up and a strengthening in one or two positions.

THE ORPHANAGE GAMES.

The fixtures were drawn last night for the Mount Cashel and C. of E. Orphanage games, resulting as follows:—

St. Cashel—C.E.I. vs. Wanderers; Cubs vs. Red Lions; B.I.S. vs. by.

Church of England—Cubs vs. Wanderers; Red Lions vs. B.I.S.; C.E.I. vs. by.

The games will be five innings each, and a doubleheader will be played each night (commencing Tuesday) until the whole six games are finished.

Rev. Mr. Fletcher is presenting a set of medals in addition to the cup for the winners at the Church of England Garden Party.

Homes for the Homeless.

The Chicago Housing Corporation, which has formed of a number of capitalists of the Windy City, is building 2,000 houses for workers to help get some of the tollers out of the tenements. The houses are sold for $4,000 each on payments of only $33 a month which also takes care of the interest and provides fire, health, life and accident insurance for the head of the house. Of course it takes quite a while for a man to acquire a substantial interest in the home, but he can call it is own the moment he moves in, and if he has a steady job he can finally pay out on as easy a basis as paying rent. The company does not expect to make any profit, and the revenues will be used to extend the home building programme. The houses are sold only to heads of families who are regularly employed and who indicate a nintereest in keeping them up. There's somebody waiting to move in as fast as a home is finished. The programme will help relieve the housing problem of a big city, and the plan is extending to other communities. It looks like a good investment, even if the promoters get no dividends. It helps for a more substantial citizenship and stabilizes industry.—Acadian Recorder.

THE OLD LADY AND ST. PAUL.

Who has not heard of Dr. Poddie, of Edinburgh? The ladies of his congregation determined to present the Doctor—(which is a thing very common now)—with a pulpit gown. The Doctor, on the Sunday after it was presented, intimated to the people in the church, "The ladies have been kind enough to present me with a pulpit gown; but, lest any member should object to my wearing it, I shan't put it on yet, and will hear objections on Thursday night." Nobody came to object but an old lady. The Doctor said, "Well, Janet, what objections have you to the pulpit gown?" "Aweel, sir," said Janet, "we never read o' the Apostle Paul wearing a gown." The Doctor said—and there was a sign of feanacy in the reply—"You are quite right, Janet; but we never read of St. Paul wearing breeks." That satisfied the old lady.
