The crowd surmised that he was Startzell, the heralded twirler from Mr. Startzell picked up the ball with an air of easy indifference and tossed it at the plate with the same languid unconcern, as much as to say: "I'm not doing this because I have to, but merely for pastime. These Guelph fellows look easy, so there's no use getting excited. It's a matter of no importance, anyway." Vigneaux with a base on balls. Then a curve ruffled Green's shirt-front, and Mr. Green skeddadeled to first. "Startzell does not Startwell," said a crank, but the crowd was too excited to put him out. McElroy came to bat, and then followed the rarest phenomenon on the home grounds-a triple play. McElroy hit a grounder to Sippi, who threw to Ward at second. Ward cut off Green, and drove the ball to Guelph Gunther, retiring McElroy. In the meantime Vigneaux was making for the plate as fast as his short legs could carry him. Gunther wheeled around and threw to Snider, who caught Vig. two feet from home. Sechrist did good work all around. Startzell is as cool as a cucumber, and has splendid control, giving only e base on balls. He is a right-hand, and pitches without contortion. He fielded his position well and made a two bagger. He is a large, well-built fellow, and is evidently a first-class man.
