

NO CURE NO PAY

DR. McLAUGHLIN'S OFFER.

My Electric Belt is a positive cure for weakness of every kind in men and women. It gives the vitalizing power of electricity direct to all weak parts, developing the full natural vigor and strength, and removing the cause of disease. I want everyone who lacks the strength he should possess to use it, and to tell his friends of its surprising effects.

PAY WHEN CURED.

You might think I am taking long chances on my remedy. I don't. There is more in Electricity, rightly applied, than you think. It performs wonders in a broken-down man. It not only sets the wheels of health and vigor in motion, but makes a man feel so gloriously young and light-hearted that he can't help telling of it, and then paying for it comes easy.

Pay me when cured—that is my proposition. Can you ask a fairer offer than that? Will any other man take such chances on his remedy? I make you safe. You know what you are buying, as you pay for it after you are cured. How can I do it? Because I have found by experience that nine men out of ten are honest enough to acknowledge benefits received, and if the tenth man beats me I can stand it if he can. I'd hate to pack his conscience about me.

These grateful people are shouting its praise, you cannot doubt such strong proof:

The pain I was telling you about across my stomach does not bother me now. Walter Campbell, Toronto, Ont. I had your electric belt all that you claim it to be. H. M. Donald, Deseronto, Ont. It is with pleasure that I report the success of your Electric Belt in my case. I had been troubled with nervous debility for a long time but I am all right now. Thos. H. Hard, Millbrook, Ont. I have gained almost a pound a week since using your belt. Willie Jarrold, Hill's Green, Ont. I am feeling better, and I am continually improving. I have got rid of my great misery, constipation. Mrs. A. M. Gordon, Longbush, Man. I have been using the belt. I am gaining in flesh and health, and would not be without it. Chas. J. Lewis, Arnprior, Ont. I am improving wonderfully every day, since now I can do my work. Mrs. Burgess, Wilfrid, Ont. My general health is greatly improved. I feel better now than I have felt for seven years. Joshua Hicks, Sudbury, Ont. Call and see it and test it free. You will then see how wonderful it is. You cannot ask, send for my illustrated book—full information and prices—sent free.

THOUSANDS WILL ATTEND TATTOO

Completed Arrangements Foretell a Grand Success.

Splendid Programme of Fireworks, Music and Drills—Major Denison Promises Several Unique Features.

The final details for tonight's tattoo were completed at a meeting held in the city hall last night, and its success now depends upon the people, who are expected to turn out in thousands.

The 7th Regiment will play an important part in the proceedings at the park, and it should be remembered that this is practically the first opportunity that the regiment has had to show the citizens the very material improvement that their recent long period of drill has worked. The committee appreciate the public spirit and friendliness of the officers and men of the 7th in assisting them at this time, the more so as they know that the corps has had quite a number of extra parades lately.

The 7th will parade in review order, with sergeants and bugles, at 7:30 p.m., sharp, to go through the maneuvers first, and will march past the stands, which will be brilliantly lighted, at the sound of the band. It will be followed by all the bands in camp, and the massed bugle bands. Tableaux and various maneuvers and exercises will comprise the work of the local regiment, and the physical drill, which Gen. O'Grady-Italy considered one of the finest he had ever seen, will be repeated by the squad from Wolsley Barracks, under Lieut. Unlache. Massed and individual bands will play at intervals, and all the soldiers engaged in the tattoo will form tableaux. Major Denison is introducing several unique features that he promises will be interesting.

The following gentlemen were appointed to act on the gate committee: Dundas street gate—Messrs. MacRobert, Gleason, Carrothers and Cooper. King street gate—Messrs. Ed Flock, R. K. Cowan, J. M. Logan and Fred Wood. Dundas street, east gate—Messrs. Hugh McLean, Harry Craig and Chas. R. Graham.

Grand stand—Messrs. D. W. Blackwell, W. Ward, Samuel Stevely, Dr. Ziegler, D. J. Cowan, G. Wilkins, J. W. Jones and Jeff. Wood. Ticket sellers—Messrs. J. W. McIntosh, James McCormick and Walter Bartlett on Dundas street; Wm. Carrothers, Oliver Ellwood and J. R. Minninnick on King street; Jas. Tamblyn and James Tyley, inside of the General superintendence—Messrs. F. Love, P. M. F. G. Rumball, mayor, and B. C. McCann.

The massed bands will render the following programme during the evening:

1. Opening—Praise God From Whom.
2. Under the direction of Bandmaster Zeller (combined bands).
3. March—"The Union Forever"—Scoutin.
4. Waltz—"Calanthe"—Holtzman Laurens.
5. 20th Regiment Band (Bandmaster Zeller).
6. Overture—"The Sky Pilot"—Gungl.
7. 22nd Regiment Band, under Bandmaster McKewen.

11. Overture—"Poet and Peasant"—Suppe.
12. 7th Regiment Band, under Bandmaster W. E. Hiscott.
13. "Rule Britannia"—"The Maple Leaf Forever"—Combined bands, under Bandmaster God Save the King.

On motion of the mayor and Mr. MacRobert, a hearty vote of thanks was extended to Lieut.-Col. Peters, D. O. C., the officers of the staff and the brigade, for the kindness shown in promoting arrangements for the tattoo.

THE WORRY HABIT; HOW TO CURE IT.

By Ada C. Sweet in the Chicago America

A day or two ago I was visiting at a house when the mother of the family told her concern over her son's unexpected absence from the dinner table. There was a cloud upon the poor woman's face as she said:

"Martin has either gone fishing with the Williams boys or he has met with some accident."

"Oh, well," said the head of the family, "let's see his horse fishing."

By all means, let us adopt the fishing hypothesis, my dear sister! worry is the fifth wheel to the coach; the second tail to a cat; it is coal carried to Newcastle; it is everything that is superfluous, unnecessary and irrelevant.

Worry never saved a penny, cured sickness, postponed death, paid a bill or staved off bankruptcy. It never brought a smile to a sad face or caused a heavy heart to grow lighter.

Worry never helped by one jot or tittle any creature whatsoever. It is true, that to his faithful friend, the dog he has transferred one form of this objectionable trait; but, after all, the worrying that a dog does, is not so entirely futile as that of man. It is only another reminder that evil society corrupts good manners. A man who worries his neighbors over anything; and the most foolish dog in the world knows better than to worry himself.

Yet men and women who pretend to sense and virtue are not afraid to confess that they worry about their children, friends, business, and the general conduct of the universe. Taxed with the fault—for it is a fault, a failing, a weakness—you say, perhaps, that you can't help worrying.

If you believe that any bad habit can be cured, the alcohol habit, the tobacco habit, opium, coffee or tea habit, or biting the nails, or loud music talking, if these can be rooted out by will power and persistent effort, do you not own that something of the same sort can be done to rid the human being of the worry habit?

For worry is nothing but a habit. It is fatal to happiness when once it becomes fixed in one's place, and it is a habit, but the truth is only half told when I say that, for happiness just as surely lies worry.

And in every human heart bubbles the fountain of happiness. Sprinkle your whole life with the diamond drops from that spring, and worry will be "killed out," as the canker worm dies under the gardener's spray.

Happiness is looking on the bright side, and the right side of life. To be happy one has only to check the black-winged bird of misgiving over the present and future by a determination to make the most of the present moment, extracting all of its possible sweetness.

One chilly May evening in this year of grace I sat by my fire, listlessly letting dubious fears creep into my thoughts. Suddenly I realized the presence of the enemy, worry. What did I do to it?

Why, there was only one thing to do, and I did that at once.

"How happy I am," I thought, looking around me.

On account of the favorable results I intend advertising Tropic largely in my practice."
