An Old Bell That Was Intended as a Coronation Present

In the chest, which was of iron, were round Mexican coins amounting to about $10,000. They had been coined, as their dates showed, from 1700 to 1735. The bell, which was wedged between two rocks, was blasted out, and in the process was badly cracked. The Kingston authorities decided to send the bell to King Edward, and it was placed in the hold of the Attractor, with instructions to Capt. Scott to have it shipped to London as soon as he reached Jersey City. The police were informed of the theft, but were mable to solve the mystery of the bell's disappearance. As it weighed some 200 founds, it must have taken some time.
