

SNAP-SHOTS AT VARIOUS SPORTS

Barrie has come to the conclusion that they would have little to lose if they were fired out of the O. H. A. Maybe they will join that professional league that is formed every year about this time.

The Souris, Man., lacrosse team is coming east to take the Minto Cup from the Shamrocks, of Montreal. Their stay in the Royal City will no doubt be brief but pleasant. They are not really after the mug, but they do need the jaunt.

The Globe mourneth longer over one reporter who maketh a scoop, than over sundry hockey players of Toronto who play for the dough. Yea, it waxeth indignant and even at times sayeth strong things against him. That virtuous journal also giveth the superior gesture to all who do not see eye to eye with the great religious daily. Now, that it hath cooped the scooper, it assaileth the Marlboro hockey team. They are a weak people, therefore that journal hammereth them.

Pawnee! Two bloomin' football teams from H'England h'are comin' h'over 'ere this summer. 'Ow will we bloomin' colonial muckers h'act when such h'a bunch h'of h'aristocrats h'are tossed h'in h'our midst. Sir Charles h'and h'is charmin' wife h'actually thought we were not 'at bad. Fawceny. But Berlin must refrain from kicking h'our visitors h'on the shins. Really.

Frank Chance is said to be the best boxer in baseball. Hal, Chase is the best billiard player, according to accounts, and Noodles Hahn the best piano player. Jack Anderson is reported to be the best farmer. Stahl the best football player, Hans Wagner the best pinocchio player, Jake Beckley the best epicure, Bill Gleason the best kiddier, Griffith the best cow roper, King the best pool player, McGraw the best student of the law, Mike Lynch the best Sanscrit scholar, Fred Clarke the best racing hunter, Dick Cooley the best actor, Brenahan the best sleuth, Connie Mack the best Sphinx, and Aleck Smith the best fashion plate. Meanwhile Lajole and Mathewson fill the humble positions of being respectively the best batter and pitcher.

The Toronto Telegram suggests the following for series for the C. L. A.: 1. Junior (a) series, age limit 20 or 21 years, with a residence rule. 2. Junior (b) series with no age limit but a residence rule. 3. Intermediate series, no age limit and no residence rule, but as near amateurs as lacrosse players are made nowadays. 4. Senior series with real pay day attachments. It might have suggested a division of the senior series, so that the Chippewas and Torontos could play for the booby prize.

Winnipeg and the west do not want professional hockey. They must have recovered from their wild and woolly west habits.

Crooknole is all the rage in Toronto, and several leagues have been formed. They play straight Marquis of Queensbury rules, and the deacons separate them in the clinches. The ladies' sewing circle enjoys it immensely.

The Ottawa hockey team will hold together, says Harvey Pulford, and get back that Stanley Cup. Harvey is fully determined to die with his boots on.

An English railroad has now built a smoking car for ladies.—News Item.

Oh, lovely woman! with regret
I note you smoke the cigarette.
Across my frame a shudder goes,
To see smoke coming from your nose,
Those lips were made for kissing, not
For sealing cigarettes, I wot.

Oh! lovely woman, tell me, pray,
How many do you smoke a day?
And do you keep your fingers clean
Or are they stained with nicotine?
And now that you have smoking cars,
Will you begin to use cigars?

Oh! Gwendolyn and Phyllis, too,
For matches, tell me what you do?
How do you carry them about?
How do you strike them? I'm in doubt,
I know right well the way I do,
But that would never do for you.

Oh! heart's delight to smoke you've learned;
In secret cigarettes you've burned.
And now a traveling car they've made
Where you may smoke on unafraid.
You've learned to smoke and quickly, too;
Go farther, now, and learn to chew.

"Mooney" Gibson is doing swell work in the practice games, and Manager Clarke is already claiming him as the best catcher in the National League.

The Globe says that the reason that the O. H. A. does not go after the Stanley Cup is that the competition is not good for hockey. That's another excuse somewhat different from the other one. First thing they know they will give the real reason.

Let those who roll at the brutality of the prize ring sit up and notice that in the McGovern-Nelson fight neither man received a scratch.

Recent events make it entirely proper to reconstruct Terry McGovern's nickname. Let him hereafter be known as the Brooklyn huggler.

The Chicago National League team can reasonably be called a local product. Two of the 26 players live in Chicago, which is going some for a Boegus team.

The eleventh annual congress of the Canadian Whist League will be held in Toronto on April 12, 13 and 14. There are many valuable prizes and trophies to be competed for. Mr. R. C. Sinclair, 26 Toronto street, Toronto, is secretary.

When Poggenburg made his run of 112 in the national billiard tournament Thursday afternoon, surpassing by just one point the high run of the tournament previously established by Wright, the failure of the easterner further to surpass the score caused a comment as to how frequently curious results of this kind in the realm of sport lead to suspicion on the part of those not familiar with sports. For example, the outsider, who is always looking for something wrong, would declare the athletic-looking New Yorker did not care to demonstrate the full extent of his skill, and having beaten the high run felt satisfied to stop. Of course, no one who saw the game for "for that matter, no one capable of expressing an opinion on the subject—would suspect for a moment anything of the kind. But to a novice it might seem queer that Poggenburg could play along, one point at a time, until he had scored 112 times, just the exact number, apparently, to secure a prize, and then be unable to add a single point. But it is just these "queer" things which make sport so attractive. Often, however, one cannot convince skeptics of the fact. Induced by instances of hippodroming, which sometimes do occur, these persons always are ready to believe a fraud is perpetrated. A baseball team which one day beats another 14 to 0 and the next day is beaten by the same team 3 to 2 is "throwing" games. To these the eccentricities of horse racing—even where the racing is honest—are entirely incomprehensible, yet were horse racing ever to reach a stage where the result could be foreshadowed with any degree of certainty it would cease altogether to be a sport. Even the late Eugene Field, who was anything but a novice in estimating the character of men and in the knowledge of wholesome sports, was led to make a direct reflection against the honesty of the billiard match between Schaefer and Ives at Central Music Hall several years ago, in which Schaefer, after having been hopelessly behind for two nights, finally won out on the closing night by just one point. But those close to the table where this famous match was played saw that Ives was almost insane from rage and disappointment during the closing innings of this game, in which fortune suddenly turned against him.

CALUMET LAID DOWN TO PORTAGE

Charge Made That the Game Was Thrown to Let Portage Win Pennant.

Pittsburg, March 22.—Hod Stuart and Lorne Campbell, the Pittsburg hockey stars, who traveled north to help out Calumet in their final game with Portage Lake, have returned home and bring back quite a few items of interest in connection with the last game played.

The Calumet seven were badly beaten in the last game, but, according to Campbell, they laid down, as the Calumet bunch wanted Portage to win the pennant. In speaking about the game, Lorne said: "We had them on the go in the first half until McDonald knocked six front teeth out of Holden's mouth and was ruled off the balance of the game."

"Hod was kicked in the good ankle and had to retire after the first half, and we played the balance of the game five men to six. Then the other two forward men would not play, as they wanted the Green and White to come out ahead, and that left me to do the bulk of the playing, which is no cinch, and, of course, we could not win." Hod now is nursing two bad ankles, but is getting into shape rapidly.

Eddie Roberts has finally made up his mind to go back to Ottawa. He says that the chances are good for his not playing hockey any more. Jack Winchester has the same views. He is thinking of going to Toronto and entering into business with his brother. In that case he can play with the professional seven, which is an assured feature of the situation in Toronto next season. Sixsmith will probably be in the harness again, for he likes the game, though he certainly had his share of hard luck the past season, being under the doctor's care nearly all the time.

PILGRIMS AGAIN TO VISIT CANADA

Celebrated English Team, Also the Corinthians, To Be Here This Summer.

Montreal, March 22.—Canada is to have a galaxy of Association football talent from the old country this season. Already negotiations have been commenced here with the powers that be in the Montreal Football Association for a return visit of the Pilgrims, and now it is mentioned that the famous amateur team, the Corinthians, will likely be sent out. The London people have promised to give $5,000 to cover all defrayals of the Pilgrims. Attempts will be made to get matches on for both teams in Montreal, Toronto, Berlin, Galt, Winnipeg, and Vancouver, as well as in the big cities of the United States.

SKATING.

RACES AT THE JUBILEE.

A distinct feature at the Jubilee rink on Saturday night will be the roller-skating races. There will be many classes, and the races will be worth while. It is many years since there were races of that kind in the city. They attracted great crowds, and awakened much interest then. They will in the same now.

BOWLING.

MAY LOSE TOURNAMENT.

Louisville, March 22.—J. J. Rowe, of Cleveland, former president of the American Bowling Congress, today filed a protest with the executive committee of the congress against the action of the Louisville Tournament Association in allowing two men teams and individuals to bowl before they rolled in the five-men events. This, it is claimed, is in violation of the bylaws of the American Bowling Congress, and if the punishment prescribed in the bylaws is enforced, the tournament will be taken out of the hands of the local association at once.

HOCKEY.

HAT MEN WIN.

The Hastings Hat and Cap Company's hockey team defeated the R. C. Struthers' team last night at the Princess Rink by a score of 7 to 3.

AVENUE SEVEN LOST.

The Shamrocks defeated the Princess Rink last night at the Avenue Seven rink in a close game by a score of 5 to 4. Teams lined up as follows: Princess avenue (4) Shamrocks (5) Rodgers.....Goal.....Parkinson Tait.....Point.....Neuton Cooper.....Cover.....Lecky Lee.....Rover.....Procter Hodges.....Center.....Callahan Beach.....Right.....Geaghan Beach.....Left.....Wagener

DANIELS LOWERS ANOTHER.

Chicago, March 22.—New York Athletic Club swimmers last night defeated the Chicago Athletic Association in all the events, but the water polo game, O. M. Daniels in the 100 yards swim lowered the world's record covering the distance in 1:09.2-5.

ONE FOR PALMERSTON.

Palmerston, March 22.—A friendly curling match between Listowel and Palmerston resulted as follows: Listowel.....Geo. Graham, skip.....5 R. Smith, skip.....11 Morphy, skip.....12 R. Smith, skip.....11

Majority for Palmerston, 8 shots. Probably the most sociable and amiable curling match this season took place yesterday, when the Orange-Grange won by a narrow score, despite their opponents' skill and diplomacy.

REDUCE PLAYING FIELD 25 YARDS

That's the Proposition Made by Candidates for C. L. A. Vice-Presidency.

Toronto, March 22.—James D. Bailey, candidate for the first vice-presidency, has put in an amendment to the C. L. A. rules, proposing a reduction of the playing field length to 100 yards.

At present the rule calls for fields 125 yards in length, but they are usually shorter. The Island and Rosedale are the full length.

The argument in favor of the change is that it will centralize the play and provide a better exposition of the game. One hundred yards will give the players plenty of running room, and cutting off the extra 25 will be for the benefit of players and spectators alike.

A STORY DENIED.

Toronto, March 22.—The statement from Montreal that the Tecumseh and Torontos are trying to break into the N. A. L. U. and had a delegate in the east last week with that in view was denied point blank by Charles Gervie, manager of the Tecumsehs, and by Fred Thompson, manager of the Torontos. The gentleman in question was not a delegate from anybody and he himself denies that he posed as such. Fred Thompson said he never wrote a letter to anybody in the east to get into the N. A. L. U. His club has had no meeting since last fall and he knows of no movement to jump the C. L. A.

Varsity is trying to get the Montreal Shamrocks to come here on Saturday, May 19. The Tecumsehs want the Irishmen on Thursday, May 24.

ANOTHER NOMINATION.

Toronto, March 22.—Secretary W. H. Hall, of the C. L. A., today received the nomination of C. A. Irvine, of Brampton, for the second vice-presidency.

SEVENTH PLAYS CHATHAM TONIGHT

Consequently There Is Joy in the Maple City at Visit of O. H. A. Team.

Chatham, March 22.—The local enthusiasts are jubilant over the decision of the Seventh Regiment team to come here for a game for tomorrow night, if at all possible. It will be the first time this season that the locals have been up against an O. H. A. team, and the Chatham supporters of the game are wondering how it will turn out, though saying nothing as to the possibilities of the Londoners getting the better of it. This is their loyalty to the home team, however, and only significant of what the local spirit is at all times.

The decision of the Seventh Regiment team has greatly lessened the feeling of resentment felt in many quarters over the apparently cur way in which the manager of the London boys yesterday told the bad news. A letter received from him this morning made plain the difficulties encountered. And this was aided in its soothing effects when the news went abroad that, all being well, the Londoners would give a game tomorrow.

All are keyed up for the game, and the line-up will be of the best. A large crowd is expected, a quite a few coming from Tilbury and Wallaceburg. The Chatham line-up: Goal, Grace; point, Cooper; cover, O'Keefe; rover, Beech; center, Martin; left wing, Lawton; right wing, Mero.

GET SET GO TONIGHT.

Berlin, March 22.—The presentation of the John Ross Robertson cup to the Berlin senior O. H. A. champions will take place this evening at a banquet in Concordia Hall, President Darroch, Vice-President Makins, several members of the executive, besides many prominent in hockey circles from Toronto and London, will be present.

NOT ONE RULED OFF.

Petrolia, March 22.—An interesting game of hockey was played here, when the Watford Junior O. H. A. team defeated the Petrolia seven by a score of 7 to 3. The game was fast from start to finish. Dods, Abbott and Nolan, of the Watford forward line put up the star game of the season. A feature of the game was that not a man was ruled off during the whole game.

TO TRIM PETERBORO.

Toronto, March 22.—A picked seven from Toronto will journey to Peterboro Monday night to play the intermediate O. H. A. champions on their own stamping grounds. The personnel of the team has not yet been decided upon, but it will no doubt be quite strong enough to give the Marlboro conquerers a stiff argument, if not a trimming.

THE RING.

NELSON TO MEET HERRERA. Los Angeles, Cal., March 22.—The Pacific Athletic Club has accepted the proposition of Battling Nelson to fight Aurelio Herrera here during festa at a meeting of the New York tomorrow. Herrera already has signed.

MAY MEET AGAIN.

New York, March 22.—Terry McGovern and Battling Nelson met here for the first time since they fought in Philadelphia. They greeted each other as if they were long the best of friends and immediately, with their managers, Joe Humphreys and Nolan, opened negotiations for another match. Each thinks he can whip the other if they fight under rules allowing the referee to break them. They will meet again tomorrow at the Metropolitan Hotel and sign articles to fight before the club offering the best bundle. Tom O'Rourke's Tuxedo Club, of Philadelphia, will probably get the match.

NELSON AFRAID TO MEET GANS?

Friends of the Battler Want to See Him in Ring With the Colored Man.

From all directions in flaccid circles, by word of mouth and newspaper expressions, comes a demand for Battling Nelson to meet Joe Gans. The general belief is that Nelson and Manager Nolan are thoroughly scared by the wisard.

The Philadelphia North American said a few days ago: "It is now up to Nelson to give the black man a fight. Until he defeats Gans, the Dancs cannot acknowledge himself the unquestioned champion of his class. There will always be this flaw."

"There may be one hitch to such a match. It has been said that the black man can no longer make 133 pounds, the lightweight limit. In both fights with Sullivan the pair met at welterweights. Gans goes on record as saying that he can reduce to 133 pounds and still be strong."

"If he can make the weight, Nelson must fight him, or the public will regard him as only half a champion. Manager Nolan, in explaining his position, says that he will not let his charge meet the negro, because the latter is a self-confessed fakir. That seems to be a poor excuse. Gans is crooked no longer, as his two contests with Mike Sullivan will show."

"It may be that the Baltimore man is feared. Gans is a harder hitter than Nelson, 50 per cent cleverer and a much better ring general. Gans, with George Dixon and Joe Walcott, represents a colored triumvirate that was the most formidable in the world. He is finding it just as hard as Walcott and Dixon to get a match with a white man."

"These three men have been responsible for the color line in pugilism, and it has been only because they had the white fighters of their day skinned to a frazzle."

"Nelson is a game and willing fighter, who is a credit to his profession, but it is folly for him to attempt to make the public swallow his claims to the championship while he ignores Gans."

The Philadelphia Ledger puts it this way: "Manager Billy Nolan, proclaims Nelson the champion lightweight of the world. Now this is where he errs. No man can lay claim to that title until Joe Gans is beaten. By defeating Mike (Twins) Sullivan, a good strong rugged welterweight, on Saturday night in ten rounds, the Baltimorean has shown that he is still in the running."

"The sporting public, who recognize no color creed, will be with Gans. Nelson must meet him or else acknowledge that the great lightweight is his master. Public sentiment is always with the champion until he is fairly and squarely beaten. "Surely Nelson will not allow Nelson to be accused of cowardice? His refusal to meet Gans, coming as it does simultaneously with the latter's decisive victory over Sullivan, would indicate that both Nolan and Nelson have a wholesome respect for the champion's cleverness and punching power."

Baltimore and Washington lovers of the ring know something of a man whom Nelson does not even mention as a possible contestant. The two cities would like Nelson to pick Dick Sullivan for some easy. Make it twenty rounds, please.

St. Thomas, March 22.—Reports to the contrary, notwithstanding, it is quite within the probabilities that St. Thomas will have a senior lacrosse team during the coming season. Mr. George Stacey, lessee of Pineford Park, who is one of the parties interested, is quite confident that the movement would meet with success.

"Nelson's succeeding adverse criticism," he says, "would be properly managed well pay in St. Thomas, and both Brantford and St. Catharines are anxious to have one more team break into the senior game."

The project will be discussed at a meeting which is to be held in the Grand Central Hotel on Tuesday night.

THE TURF.

CHANGE IN BONDING RULE. Detroit, Mich., March 22.—A Bay City dispatch says: The Michigan shortstop trotting and pacing circuit will this year introduce an innovation by bonding all Canadian horses for the circuit as a whole.

Heretofore, Canadian owners were forced to bond their horses individually when coming to Michigan, and were forced to make numerous declarations, failure to carry out which might result in trouble.

The board of managers of the circuit has been empowered to bond the horses, relieving the Canadians of the responsibility. Assistant Secretary Carmody, of Port Huron, will go to Canada next week to make arrangements with the Canadian horsemen.

It is claimed the offer of the circuit to do the bonding will increase the number of Canadian visitors.

YESTERDAY'S WINNERS.

A MEDICINE FOR THE MINER'S PACK.

Prospectors and others going into the mining regions, where doctors are few and drug stores not at all, should provide themselves with a supply of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. It will offset the effects of exposure, reduce sprains, and when taken internally will prevent and cure colds and sore throat, and as a lubricant will keep the muscles in good condition.

Perfect fitting fine "Blunoz" Serge Suits $24 For every build of man there is a Semi-ready type

SEMI-READY garments are built to fit five men. Most clothing is built to fit dummies.

The Semi-ready system of sizes is based on the permanent measurement—height. Once the figure is formed, height never changes, though the waist and breast lines may vary considerably.

For each height we have every variation of figure—stout, slight, over-erect, sloping-shoulders, etc.—there are 105 variations altogether.

Here is an example: When a 5-foot 4-inch man with a 40-inch breast comes into one of our wardrobe, we produce a suit for a 5-foot 4-inch man with a 40-inch breast. The fit is invariably perfect.

If the same man goes into an ordinary clothing store they take his breast measurement. But according to clothing makers' methods, a 40-inch breast is supposed to belong to a 6-foot man, so where does Mr. Short Stout come off? The four extra inches on the tail of his coat make him ridiculous.

You see, the old system was wrong—it could only fit normal men—the Semi-ready system of physique types will fit any figure.

Of course, fit is an important thing to get so satisfactorily settled, but Semi-ready didn't stop there.

Semi-ready system of tailoring is different, too. Instead of employing a man simply because he is a tailor, we employ him because he has proved himself an expert in one particular branch of the business, and keep him doing nothing else but his specialty. If he fits in sleeves best he does nothing else in our tailory; if he is an expert on collars, that is his permanent occupation while with us—and so on to every part of our business. Thus we get the most perfect tailoring there is. That is why you find style in all our garments, and permanent shape.

We have reached such a high plane in tailoring that we couldn't afford to use anything but the best of materials so we carefully select every thread of goods we buy—then we guarantee them with the knowledge that they can't go wrong.

Perhaps you have never been in a Semi-ready Wardrobe? We would like to show you what it is like.

CASEY AT THE BAT.

The sporting editor has received so many requests of late to print De Wolf Hopper's famous recitation, "Casey at the Bat," that he has decided to have it published. It is a baseball classic, and was written by Phineas Thayer, a noted writer.

It looked extremely rocky for the Mudville nine that day. The score stood two to four, with but an inning left to play. So, when Cooney died at second, and Burrows did the same, A pallor wreathed the features of the patrons of the game.

A straggling few got up to go, leaving there the rest, With that hope which springs eternal within the human breast, For they thought: "If only Casey could get a whack at that."

They'd put up even money now, with Casey at the bat. But Flynn preceded Casey, and like-wise so did Blake, And the former was a puddin', and the latter was a fake, So on that stricken multitude, a death-like silence sat.

For there seemed but little chance of Casey's getting to the bat. But Flynn let drive a "single," to the wonderment of all, And the much-despised Blakey "tore the cover off the ball." And when the dust had lifted, and they saw what had occurred, There was Blakey safe at second, and Flynn a-huggin' third.

Then, from the gladdened multitude went up a shout of praise, It rumbled in the mountain-tops, it rattled in the dell; It struck upon the hillside and rebounded on the flat; For Casey, mighty Casey, was advancing to the bat.

There was ease in Casey's manner as he stepped into his place; There was pride in Casey's bearing, and a smile on Casey's face. And when, responding to the cheers, he lightly doffed his hat, No stranger in the crowd could doubt 'twas Casey at the bat.

Ten thousand eyes were on him as he rubbed his hands with dirt, Five thousand tongues applauded when he wiped them on his shirt; Then while the New York pitcher ground the ball into his hip, Defiance gleamed in Casey's eye, a sneer curled Casey's lip.

And now the leather-covered sphere came hurtling through the air, And Casey stood a-watching it in haughty grandeur there. Close by the sturdy batsman the ball unheeded sped—"That ain't my style," said Casey. "Strike one," the umpire said.

From the benches, black with people, there went up a muffled roar, Like the beating of storm waves on a stern and distant shore. "Kill him! Kill the umpire!" shouted some one on the stand, And it's likely they'd have killed him had not Casey raised a hand.

With a smile of Christian charity great Casey's visage shone; He stilled the rising tumult; he bade the game go on; He signaled to Sir Timothy, once more the spheroid flew; But Casey still ignored it, and the umpire said, "Strike two."

"Fraud!" cried the maddened thousands, and echo answered "Fraud!" But one scornful look from Casey and the audience was awed. They saw his face grow stern and cold, they saw his muscles strain, and they knew that Casey wouldn't let that ball go by again.

The sneer in Casey's lip, his teeth are clenched in hate. He pounds with cruel violence his bat upon the plate. And now the pitcher holds the ball, and now he lets it go, And now the air is shattered by the force of Casey's blow.

Oh, somewhere in this favored land the sun is shining bright; The band is playing somewhere, and somewhere hearts are light, And somewhere men are laughing, and somewhere children shout; But there is no joy in Mudville—mighty Casey has struck out.

He Couldn't Prove It.

Mark Twain, during one of his lectures, was waiting at a station for a delayed train. The lecture committee and several townsmen were with him, and talking their best to pass the time away. One man told about a frightfully unhealthy town he had read about and it was a gruesome tale of dying and burials and that sort.

"It might have been worse," Twain followed in his slow and direct manner; "I lived in that town for two years and I never died once. Not a shade true."

The way he said it seemed to daze the crowd, and not a man said a word in response. "Of course you may think I am lying," the humorist continued, "and I'm sorry for I can't get any witnesses to testify that I didn't, because everybody else that lived there is dead."—Exchange.
