

Actress to Aid Lepers; Has Winter Dip; Motorists Thrill London

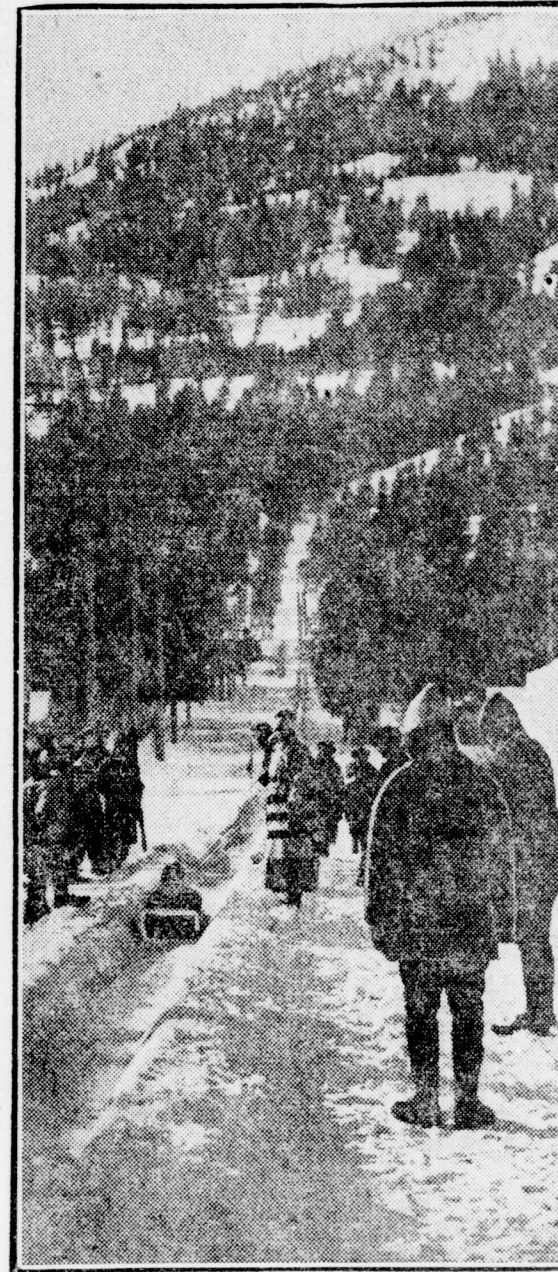

For the first time in Canadian history a member of the House of Lords donned the legal togs and appeared in court to plead. The precedent was established recently by Lord Shaughnessy, who appeared in the superior court, Montreal, acting as attorney for the C.P.R.

This prominent Washington girl was kept busy during the recent cold wave chopping the ice around the bird bath provided by a nature society so that the feathered ones may have their daily plunge

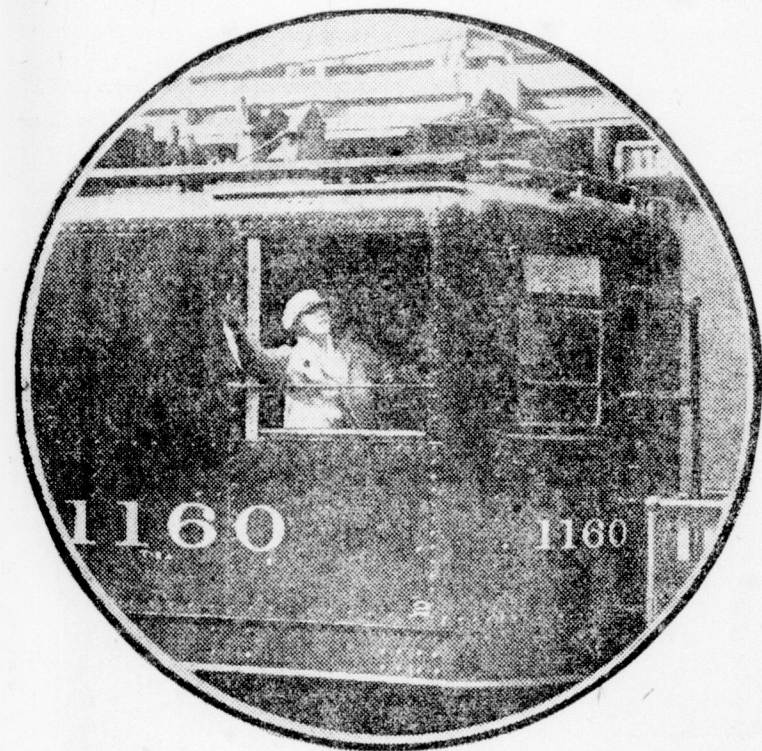

Above is a recent photograph of Sir Adam Beck, chairman of the Hydro electric power commission of Ontario, whose plans to develop part of the St. Lawrence waterpower at once by a joint Canadian and American project at Morrisburg are now before the dominion cabinet

This toboggan slide at Banff will be hard to beat any place in Canada either for distance or its capacity for providing thrills. Look at the distance you have to walk back, says the cynic

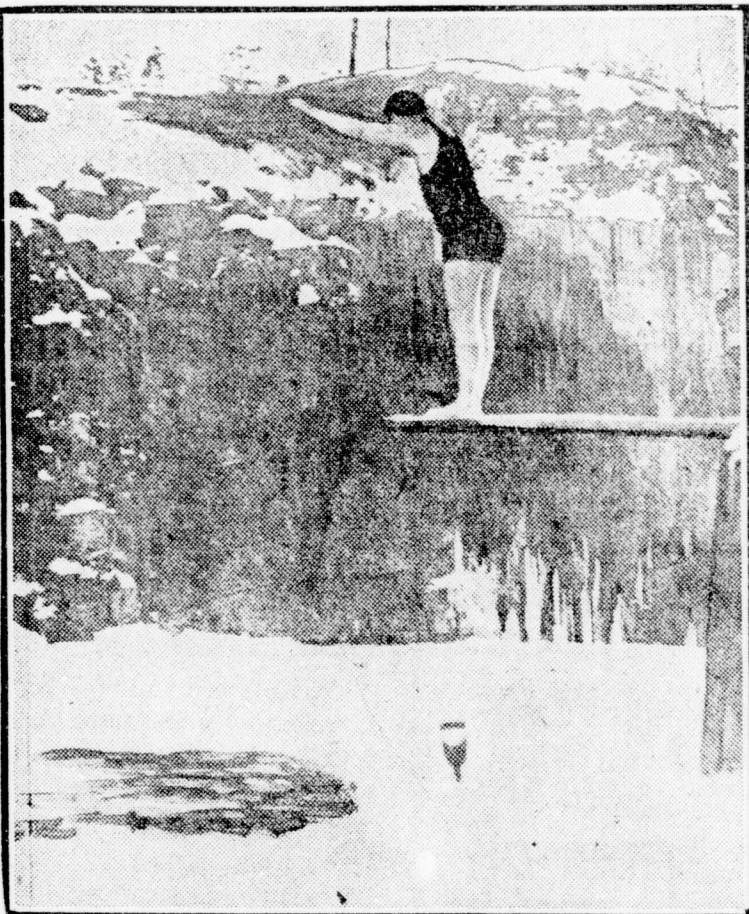

Mrs. Gwyer Yates, new Orleans philanthropist, who has given away over two million dollars to southern charities, saw snow for the first time in Omaha recently when the temperature dropped to 28 below zero

Looking through the engine-house window of the 20th Century Limited is Mme. Marguerite d' Alvarez, noted contralto, who is the only woman to enjoy the distinction of having operated the locomotive

Seifoullah Yousry Pasha, the first Egyptian minister to the United States, arrived in New York recently. He leaves shortly to take up his post in Washington

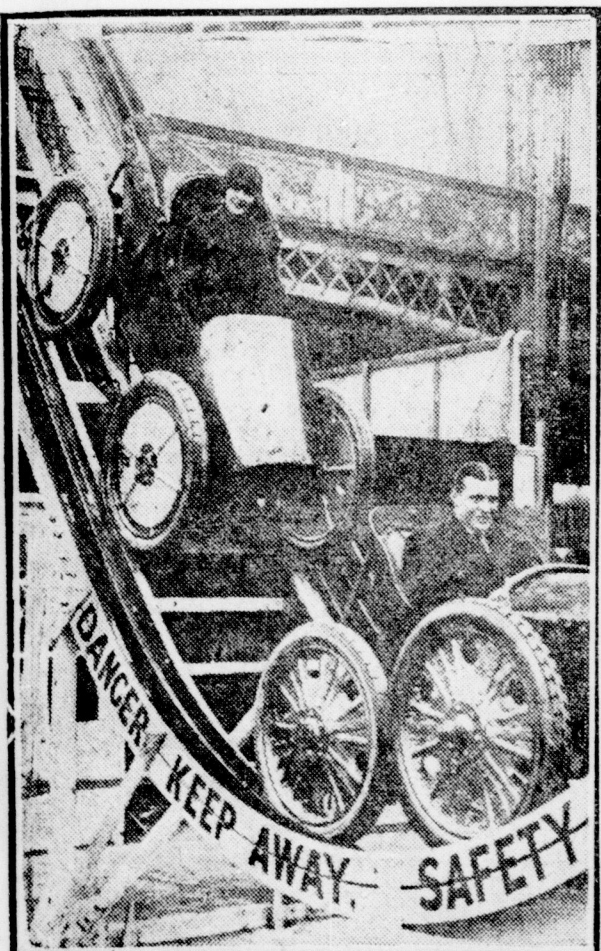

Just because the old swimming hole is frozen over is no reason why Dan Connors can't take his daily swim in icy New Hampshire. Dan claims that this is the best time of the year to bathe. So do the undertakers

Baron Julius A. Nowotny, 24-year-old Polish Nobleman, is now in New York with the avowed intention of learning the art of love making as "she" is practised in America. He is busy working as a bus boy to pay for it

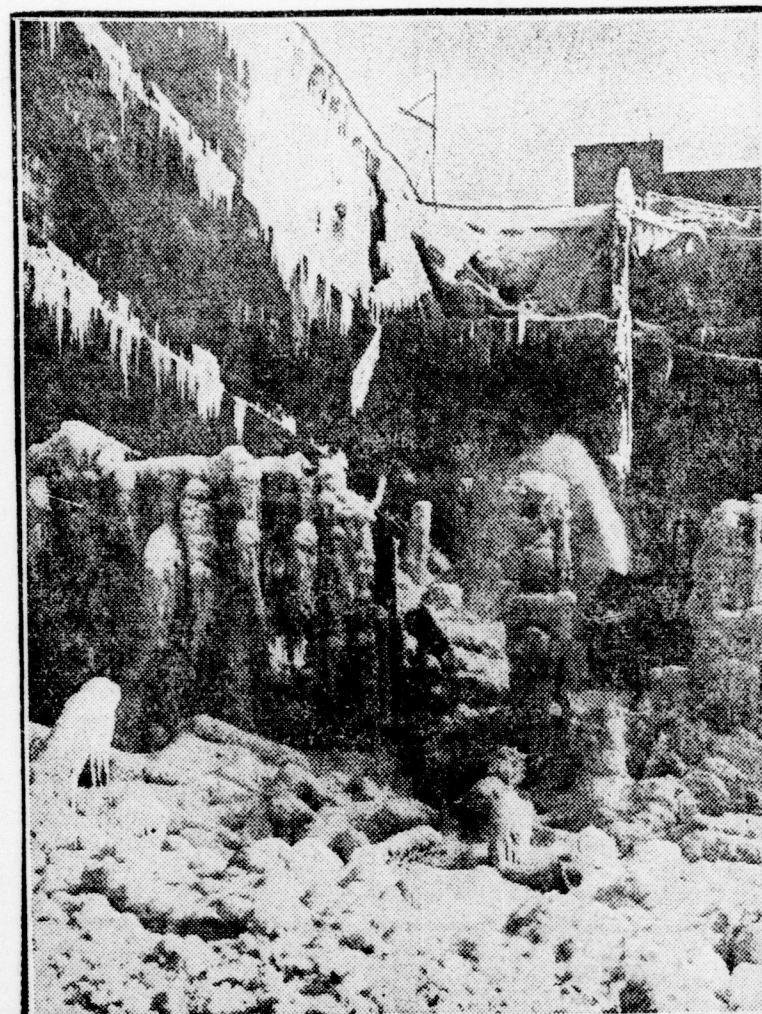

Maria Joogan, of Vienna, new prima donna for the Chicago Opera Company, may take the place of Galli-Curci, famous song bird, who is reported to be leaving. Maria Joogan is shown on her arrival to this continent

Neil and Betty Gregg are thrilling all London with the stunts performed in their small automobiles. The front car turns three complete somersaults, while the one in the rear leaps fifty feet into space at 150 miles per hour

Prince Franz is shown in the first photograph to be made of him with his little son. Prince Franz is a younger brother of Prince Rupprecht, and should Bavaria separate from Germany he will be next in line of succession

With the mercury near the zero mark, firemen fought a big blaze in the heart of St. Louis for fourteen hours. Three buildings valued at $1,000,000 were destroyed. Here is the way they looked afterwards

Here is a recent photograph of Nina Wilcox Putnam, the novelist, with her son John Francis. The prominent author is convalescing from the strains incurred at the current divorce tangle

It has been announced that Jean Aylwin, the charming comedy actress of the English theatre, is leaving the stage to work under the Wesleyan Missionary Society among the lepers of India