Sir Edward Russell, editor of The Liverpool Daily Post, accompanied by Mr. J. A. Macdonald of New York, spent yesterday in seeing the sights of Toronto, being shown around by Ald. George McMurrich.

To a reporter Sir Edward said he was simply on a trip to see the coun-

the Boorer classes, to whom he has long been a staunch friend. He was a member of the grand and was highly respected by all the company's employes, who only a year ago presented him with a beautiful gold-headed cane as a token of their regard.

Fifteen months ago Mr. Rogers was inspecting the coal bin at Ryerson school when he fell into the unprotected pit of the furnace and fractured his leg in such a manner that it was extremely difficult for the medical men to set it properly, and Mr. Rogers has not since enjoyed his former health, and frequently was confined to the results of this accident.

Mr. Rogers was a brother of Messrs. Elias and Samuel Rogers. He was born in Newmarket, Ont., about 50 to years ago, and came to Toronto about 20 years ago, and came to Toronto about 21 years ago, and came to Toronto about 22 years ago to manage his brother's to cal business.
