The Dominion Liquor License Bill.

One of the most important measures that was before the Dominion House of Parliament during its last session was the license bill, which was framed with the avowed purpose of making law, the provisions of which would have a more uniform application to the Dominion than those now in force.

The bill passed the House of Commons on Tuesday the 22nd, and the Senate on the 24th instance. We give below the principal provisions:

"The number of hotel and saloon licenses in cities and towns is to be one to every 250 up to a thousand of the population, and one to every 500 above that. Hotels in cities and towns are to have six beds, and in rural districts three beds, and stabling for one horse for six horses. Both hotels and saloons are to be able to give meals before they can obtain licenses, except that the Board of Commissioners may exempt a certain number of hotels and saloons from the provision as to meals.

Every application for a license must be signed by one-third of the electors in the polling subdivision, and a petition against it, signed by one-third of the electors, will be fatal to the application. In addition to this, three-fifths of electors of a sub-division can, by petition, prohibit the issue of any license in the division. Shop licenses are limited to one to every 400 up to 12,000, and to every 1,000 above that. No quantity less than one imperial pint can be sold under a shop license, and it must not be drunk on the premises. No shop-license is to be granted for any place where other goods are sold, but this provision does not apply to any who hold licenses at the time of the passage of the act until the 1st of May, 1884.

Yacht-licenses cover the sale only to passengers and at meal times. The hours of closing are to be from Saturday night to 6 on Monday morning, and on other nights from 11 to 6 a. m. On Sunday hotels are to be allowed to supply their guests only in their own rooms or at the table between 12:30 and 2 p. m., and 5:30 and 6:30 p. m. No liquor is to be sold to any one under 16 years of age. If it is shown in an open court that a person wastes his estate, or is drunk, or interrupts the peace of his family, the justices may prohibit the sale of liquor to him for one year. A husband or a wife or a parent or guardian of a minor may by a notice in writing to the license holders prohibit the sale of liquor to those named parties. In addition the Commissioners have power to further limit the number of licenses. The municipal councils in rural districts have a similar power, and may also prescribe additional conditions as to compensation. If an applicant for a license be refused to the said applicant on the ground that he is an undutiful person, he is to be liable for three years. An additional license for six months may be granted for a place of summer resort. In country towns the license may be granted in cities or villages of less than 500 inhabitants two licenses may be granted. There are special provisions with reference to Niagara Falls, where three licenses are to be allowed, and Victoria, C. where the provisions as to stock to each 200 up to 8,000 of the population and one to each thousand above that.

The existing acts in the provinces are to be repealed till the act comes into force, which will be on the 1st January next, not to interfere with existing licenses."

Hanlan-Kennedy Race.

To day the long-looked forward to race between Hanlan and Kennedy, takes place at Point St. Charles. A Boston paper speaking of the race says:—"Kennedy is still in Portland, rowing hard every day and keeping his own counsel. A great many people ask the question: 'How is it that Kennedy is to row Hanlan? There are several southerners that can beat him in this city a few days ago.' A Davis and Kennedy make no $2,000 a week match for fun. They are rowing out to a victory, and they seldom make a mistake." Fred Blaised had declared for Kennedy. He has the most friendly feeling for Hanlan, but thinks he will be beaten in the coming race. Hanlan, and will be to give an opinion, it would be in favor of John."

Speaking of Kennedy's boat, the same paper says:—"This much is thought to be known of the 'vig' of Kennedy's boat. That the article has where, which help the sculler in feathering and prevent the row from crumpling. The slide is used by Kennedy has never been used in a race, and it is claimed that it has great advantages in overcoming friction, and in aiding the sculler in his work. Kennedy will use the Davis one. The slide, during rowing just strikes the surface of the water, and is not immersed the same as the straight one used by Hanlan. Murdoch is building Kennedy's boat, which is in frame and will be covered and ready for delivery the latter part of next week. It is built on lines similar to those of Hanlan's boat, but it is not so wide or so long. Kennedy has suggested several ideas of his own in the building of his boat."

"The Montreal Witness comments as follows upon a presentation lately made to General Laurin by Sir Alexander Galt upon behalf of the Nova Scotia Militia. For about twenty years past General Laurin has been in his efforts to promote military training in that Province. Just as appropriately, however, he might be presented with some outline of agriculture, his enthusiasm, exertions and success therein having very much stimulated that industry, and his fine herds having been for many years a notable feature in Provincial exhibitions."

"The Right Hon. John Bright, of England, is about to marry the sister of his first wife. Mr. Bright is 72 years of age, and his long has been one of the most persistent opponents of the law forbidding a man marrying his deceased wife's sister. The step he is about to take is about as practical a one in opposition to his principle as could well be conceived. It is thought the bill will by his action be forced again to the front and be sharply discussed in Parliament."

"Small pox is raging in Mercer and Weymouth Counties, West Virginia. Many deaths are reported. Some of the best cities in both counties are dead, and whole families are dying out."

"The first session of the fifth Dominion Parliament was prorogued on Friday last by the usual speech from the throne, in which the King's Majesty expressed his confidence in the Government, and in commendatory terms of the session he was about to close. He spoke of the railway appropriation; the Dominion Land's Bill, the amended Militia law, and of the Insolvency Bill; the re-adjustment of the tariff; and the success of the following manufacture of pig iron. Said it was gratifying to know that the financial state of the treasury had enabled the Government to lower the pressure of taxation by about a million of dollars. The bill for the regulation of liquor licenses was also approved.

Just previous to the vice-regal speech Sir John A. in behalf of both Houses of Parliament read an address to the Governor General expressive of deep regret at the contemplated retirement of the latter and the Princess from their official connection with Canada. The address also spoke in terms of warm approval of the subjects discharged by the Excellency of both his public and private duties. The address was concluded with the following words: "The presence of your illustrious consort in Canada seems to have drawn us closer to our beloved Sovereign, and we are glad to see your Excellency and Her Royal Highness, whose kindly and gracious sympathies, manifested upon so many occasions, have endeared her to all hearts, we humbly beg that you will personally convey to Her Majesty the declaration of our loyal attachment and of our determination to maintain firm and abiding our connection with the great empire over which she reigns."

His Excellency made a fitting reply at the time and concluded his progress by a speech as follows: "Honorable Gentlemen of the Senate: Gentlemen of the House of Commons: I desire to thank you for the great honor conferred on me by the presence of a joint address. The Tributes which I have heard being touched by your words, and the message which you make us the bearers of, are personally known to me, and I am glad to see that you are determined to maintain the Empire. The severance of my official connection with Canada seems to have drawn us closer to our beloved Sovereign, and we are glad to see your Excellency and Her Royal Highness, whose kindly and gracious sympathies, manifested upon so many occasions, have endeared her to all hearts, we humbly beg that you will personally convey to Her Majesty the declaration of our loyal attachment and of our determination to maintain firm and abiding our connection with the great empire over which she reigns."

ANNAPOLIS ITEMS. On Saturday last, while some boys were playing on Queen's wharf one of them, David Riordan, 6 years of age, fell into the water. Two gentlemen in a boat heard the cries of those on shore and rowed in that direction as fast as possible—just in time to save the boy. He was found floating under the water with his face downward. About half an hour elapsed after his rescue before encouraging symptoms were seen. He was unable to sit up, and his intention to lose 4 or 5 more vessels immediately.

MARGARETVILLE.—Capt. Card, the faithful keeper of the late Mr. Haug's light, has recently paid a flying visit to the island, but owing to the continued cold weather, being surrounded by ice for months, stock of provender was getting low, he being obliged to resort to the flour barrels. About half an hour elapsed after his rescue before encouraging symptoms were seen. He was unable to sit up, and his intention to lose 4 or 5 more vessels immediately.
