A NEW BOOK BY THE AUTHOR
OF "BEN HUR."

THE PRINCE OF INDIA
—OR—
WHY CONSTANTINOPLE FELL
—BY—
GENERAL LEW WALLACE.

The remarkable but not unexpected eagerness shown by the reading public, since the announcement of a new story from the pen of the author of "Ben Hur," assures a wide welcome for the book, which we now place on the market. Admirers of "Ben-Hur" will carry their admiration through the reading of "The Prince of India." Its pages live with the vivid realism of that wonderful story. Appropriate reading is supplied by the finished and elegant volumes in which our Canadian edition is brought out.

A MERCHANT PRINCE.
LIFE OF
HON. SENATOR JOHN MACDONALD.
—BY—
REV. HUGH JOHNSTON, D.D.

Cloth, illustrated, - - - $1.00.

Dr. Johnston has written what might almost be termed a model biography in his presentation of the life of the late Senator Macdonald, founder of the great dry goods house of John Macdonald & Co. Senator Macdonald's was a life brimful of the highest activities and the noblest deeds. This long course of mercantile and public life brought him not only wealth and position but the respect and esteem of all his countrymen. This admirable record of his life makes very interesting and pleasant reading.

To our Friends and Others!

53 KING STREET E.,
TORONTO, September, 1893.

WE take this opportunity of tendering to our friends our thanks for their kind favors in the past, and beg to solicit for the future a share in their patronage, and that of the Presbyterian Church in Canada.

Our endeavour is to make our store the Presbyterian Headquarters for Canada, and in that endeavour we ask your co-operation.

We are to-day in receipt of a letter from a prominent layman, in which he writes: "Amidst all the changes, I am pleased to notice the old established Presbyterian Book Room still stand in the front, and is worthy of very liberal Presbyterian patronage."

We are prepared to supply every Church or Sabbath School requisite for the Presbyterian Church, S. S. Libraries, Church and S. S. Printing, etc., etc.

Orders from our friends out of town will receive careful and prompt attention. All we ask is a trial, and we will hope to give every satisfaction.

Yours truly,
JAMES BAIN & SON.
