MONTREAL NOTES.

* The Provincial Sunday School Union recently concluded a most successful Summer School for Teachers at Georgeville. The venture was a new one in the Province, and though the schools at Chatauqua and elsewhere in the United States have had such a brilliant record, no very high expectations had been formed as to attendance or otherwise here. It was thought that an average of twenty-five might be counted on, and the arrangements were made by the active secretary, Mr. G. an average of twenty-five might be counted on, and the arrangements were made by the active secretary, Mr. G. II. Archibald, with that number in view. They were more than surprised to find a roll of seventy-seven names, the greater proportion of whom attended all, or mostly all, of the sessions extending over two weeks. The teaching occupied three hours daily and embraced the subjects of Old Testament History, the diffe of Paul the Principles of Teaching and Child Nature. In addition to these, practical illustrations of methods of teaching were given, accompanied by criticism, and a number of public lectures given in the evenings on subjects cognate to Sabbath School work by the members of the staff. On Sunday afternoons a joint school made up by the different schools in Georgeville, was held under the auspices of the Union, and on the following Wednesday a mass picine, representing some thirty schools in the surrounding district. The whole county was thus brought into touch with the institution, which it is hoped may be made an annual affair. Accommodation for the classes was afforded by the Public School building and the Methodist Church. The members of the staff were, Prof. Waller, Prof. St. John, Dr. Williams, Dr. Masten, Dr. Kelly and Mr. Archibald.

The ceremony in connection with the laying of the corner stone of the Church of the Covenant at the corner of Avenue road and Roxborough street, Toronto, which took place July 29th, was well attended. The proceedings were conducted by Rev. James McCaul, the pastor. The ceremony was begun with devotional exercises, and at their conclusion the following historic statement of the church was read:—

storic statement of the church was read:—
Sone 30 years ago a mission work was begun on Davenport road by Mrs. Edmund Gunther of Bellevue, and Mrs. Arthurs of Ravenswood. For over twenty years it was carried on with unflagging zeal and increasing interest by these ladies with such other helpers as they induced to come to their aid. Of those who cheerfully gave their sympathy and help the following deserve honorable mention in addition to those ladies named and the members of their families:—The late Rev. Dr. Reid, who aided at the first formal opening of the school: the late Mr. Joseph Gibson of Deer Park, who acted as Superintendent of the school for twelve years, the Rev. Dr. Hamilton, who superintended the Sunday School and conducted an evening service for three years after Mr. Gibson retired, Mr. Wm. McCullough, of the Y.M.C. A., who conducted an evening service for a year. At various times also students of Knox College, many of whom hold honored positions now in the church, gave valued assistance.

Ultimately the Session of Charles Street, Church, now Westminster, took the mission under its fostering care. For two summers the attempt was made to conduct services both morning and evening with most encouraging results. In 1892 it was resolved to continue the services also during the winter months. As a result of these services application was made to Presbytery that the mission be organized as a congregation with a view to calling a settled pastor. The Presbytery granted the application. An interim session composed of the Rev. John Nett, minister of Westminster, as Moderator; W. J. Hendry, and Henry Graham of Westminster, Andrew Jefrey of Central and Joseph Gibson of Deer Park Church, elders.

The interim session held its first meeting on the 8th of Cetober, 1892. The first meeting of the congregation was held on the second Tuesday of January, 1893, and on March 1st of the same year the congregation resolved subject to the approval of the Presbytery, to designate the congregation 'the Church of the Covenant.' The Presbytery approved of the name, and granted permission to the congregation to moderate in a call to a minister when they were in a position to do so.

ister when they were in a position to do so.

The congregation met on the 18th of April, 18t3, and unammously called the present pastor, the dtev. James McCaul, who was duty inducted to the pastoral charge on the 18th of May following. Steps were immediately taken to raise funds for church building purposes and to secure a suitable site for a new church. Owing, however, to the long continued financial depression and the resolute purpose of the congregation not to meur debt, nothing definite was done till near the close of 1876, when the very cligible site on the northeast corner of Avenue road and Roxborough street was bought and paid for. The first sod was turned on the new lot on the fourth anniversary of the pustor's settlement, the 17th of May of the present year. The contracts were soon afterwards let for the erection of a school house on the rear of the lot. which has a frontage of 104 feet on Avenue road and 150 feet on Roxborough street. The cost of the structure is not to exceed $10,000, including cost of land, and the building is to be paid for as the work progresses.

At the conclusion of the reading of this sketch the corner-stone was laid by Mrs. Gunther and Mrs. Arthur, and the ceremony was concluded with appropriate exercises.
