BOOKS BEING BOUGHT.

"The Preparation of Ryerson Embury."

By A. B. Carman. Ppr., 75c.; Cloth, $1.25.

"Ryerson Embury" is a study of city life, and above all, of student life. It is a Canadian story, written by a Canadian, and dealing with Canadian topics. It is ably worked out, written in masterly style, and contains a reserved power which promises well for the future of its author.

"Arden Massiter."—In Press.

By Dr. William Barry. Ppr., 75c.; Cloth, $1.25.

The story of a great Italian house, struggling to its downfall amid the modern influences of to-day. Its plot is exciting, the contrasts of the contending forces being admirably portrayed. It is an important novel.

"Bird Homes."—In Press.

With charming colored plates, and delightfully written, while containing a great mass of information.

"Red Rock."

By Thomas Nelson Page. Ppr., 75c.; Cloth, $1.25.

One of the most fascinating novels published in a long time. The interest never flags.

"The Court of Boy-ville."

By William Alden White. Cloth, $1.25.

Seven thousand copies of this book were sold the first week of publication.

"Bob; The Story of our Mocking-Bird."

By Sidney Lanier. $1.50 net.

A work in which humour and philosophy are charmingly intermingled. Sixteen full-page illustrations in colors.

"Turrets, Towers and Temples."—$2.00.

"Great Pictures, Described by Great Writers."—$2.00.

"The Letters of Robert Louis Stevenson."
