

The article is only delivered to him if he pays the charge due and agrees to disclose the name and address of the sender, and to place at the disposal of the Post Office, after having acquainted himself with the contents, the entire article, if it is inseparable from the offending part, or else the portion of the article (envelope, wrapper, portion of letter, &c.), which contains the address and the impression or stamp stated to be fraudulent.

(d) the result of the representations to the addressee is set forth in a formal report in the form prescribed in Form L annexed, in which report the details of the case are recorded, such as failure to appear, refusal to receive the article or to open it, or to make known the sender, &c. This document is signed by the postal official and by the addressee of the article; if the latter refuses to sign, the refusal is recorded instead of and in the place provided for the signature.

The formal report is transmitted, with the relative documents, officially registered to the Postal Administration of the country of origin, which, with the aid of these documents, takes proceedings, if necessary, to punish the offence according to its laws.

PART VI

EXCHANGE OF MAILS

CHAPTER 1

ARTICLE 46

Letter Bills

1. The letter bills which accompany mails exchanged between two offices are identical with Form E annexed. They are placed in blue envelopes bearing in large type the words "Feuille d'avis" ("Letter Bill").

2. At the head of the letter bill must be entered:
the country of origin and the country of destination,
the name of the office of exchange of destination,
the date of despatch of the mail.

An impression of the date-stamp must be made in the space appointed.

3. The presence of articles intended for express delivery is indicated by the impression of the stamp "Express" (Express) in Table No. I.

4. Table No. II is used for the indication of the serial number of the mail, the name of the Packet, the route, and the number of bags composing the mail.

In the absence of other arrangements, the despatching offices number the letter bills in an annual series for each office of destination. Each mail bears a separate number, even if it is a supplementary despatch forwarded by the same route or vessel as the ordinary mail.

In the case of the first despatch of each year, the bill must bear the number of the last despatch of the preceding year, in addition to the serial number of the mail.

The name of the vessel which carries the mail is shown when the despatching office is in a position to know it.

The bags containing returned empty bags must be included in the number of bags composing the mail.

5. Table No. III must indicate:

(a) the grand total of registered articles entered in Table No. V, and on special lists, if any.

One or more special lists identical with Form E^{bis} annexed may be used, either to take the place of Table No. V of the letter bill, or to serve as a supplementary letter bill.

When two or more lists are used, they must be numbered. The number of registered articles which may be entered on one and the same list is limited to 60.

(b) The total of the insured articles entered on the despatch-lists.

(c) The numbers, shown separately, of the bags and packets containing registered articles, and the bags and packets containing insured articles.

6. In Table No. IV are entered separately the number of returned bags belonging to the Office of destination, as well as the number used for making up the mail and belonging to the despatching Office, including registered letter bags. The number of empty bags belonging to an Administration other than that to which the mail is addressed must be shown separately and the name of that Administration indicated.

Open letters on official business and the various communications or notes sent by the despatching office in connection with the service are also entered in this Table.

7. Table No. V is intended for the entry of registered articles when special lists are not used exclusively.

Registered articles are entered individually with an indication of the name of the office of origin, and the registration number given at that office.
