

Ploughshares' ongoing program to reduce reliance on military force in pursuit of international security focuses on projects to re-examine military humanitarian intervention and to prepare for an anticipated public review of Canadian defense policy.