

reface ;
e Cana-
for the xposed.
ect like-
o praise,
or inven-
and evi-
gratifica-
of the tice unto
ame char-
ly, given
no more,
has been
my Cana-

CONTENTS.

PREFACE.

Agriculture an important subject to any country.—Improvement in agriculture implies general prosperity of a nation.—Why it does so.—The author's object is to serve Canada.—And if he does he will be amply paid for his trouble.—Many changes for the better have taken place in Canada and this encourages the author to expect regeneration in agriculture.

CHAPTER I. Page 1.

The superior cultivation of England.—This is the principal cause of its prosperity. Ireland improved in agriculture.—

1