I saw a blinding flash The devil's chief method was to endeavor to cause people to question the word of God and to lose confidence in the Almighty. This was true in regard to nations. The devil was inducing people to accept traditions in place of the word of God when Christ came on earth. Before the upheaval in France the devil worked thru the teachings of the infidels and secularists, such as Voltaire, to dethrone religion. The result was the reign of terror. The same thing has been seen in the case of Germany. The devil begun his work there to turn the people from the source of God, and to inflame Germany with a lust for world power by causing its leaders of thought to question the truth of the contributed mainly to this limit to the contributed mainly to the contributed ma tion the truth of the scriptures. yet the menace of the doal situation in its broader aspects has been made apparent for the first time. This situation, broadly stated, stands this way:

Before the war, the Anglo-French allies dominated the coal resources and power of England, France, Belgium and Russian Poland, aggregating an output of 300,000,000 tons annually, or about 60 per cent. of the coal power of Europe, while ae Austro-German allies controlled the German, Austrian and Hungarian fields, aggregating an output of 217,000,000 tons, or about 40 per cent. of Europe's coal product.

Germans Get Coal.

Today, however, the German occupation of Belgium has given them the great Belgian coal fields of Hainault, Antwerp and Liege-fourth largest in Europe—their advance—in Flanlers has given them the rich coal fields of the Pas de Calais district, and, as Mr. Lloyd George states, "the French coal fields are now held by the enemy"; while the Austro-Germans sweep in Russian Poland has enveloped the chief coal fields of Russia, located in Poland, those of the Caucasus being minor in comparison.

The change in the control of the coal fields, since the war began, has greatly reversed the position of the two parties in the conflict, so that the former Anglo-French dominance of 60 per cent. against Austro-German 40 per cent. of coal resources, is changed them is now about five to four of the Anglo-French resources, which are restricted principally to the United Kingdom. This was so apparent that Mr. Lloyd George warned the English miners that France was now looking to England for her coal and five French transports were waiting at Cardiff to take on coal for France when the strike was settled.
