

the trees in their parks or gardens. A fisher was sailing up to Rosewater with his catch. for the red light in the south and the faint sound of a besieging army, there was nothing to show that a civilization had been arrested and a great city was burning down to its bones.

THE END