NOTICES OF THE PRESS.

"Mr. Collins has accomplished the work with most indefatigable industry, and with a proper appreciation of the importance of having it well done. We have, therefore, from his hands, a work of intense interest, well authenticated in all its essential features, comprehensive in its range of subjects, and as exciting in many of its truthful details as the pages of wildest fiction."—Cincinnati Gazette.

"Besides a great amount of very valuable historical, statistical, and geological information, the work comprises a considerable stock of incident and anecdote, well calculated to make it one of the most readable books of the season. The author has thus combined two important elements, instruction and amusement. He has spared no labor to render his production worthy of public patronage ; and we are confident that he will receive it in full proportion to the merits of the book."—Catholic Advocate, Louisville.

"It is just such a book as we suppose every intelligent Kentuckian will feel to be an indispensable part of his library. Doubtless, many out of the State, who wish to study and understand the genius of our people, will read it."—Presbyterian Herald, Louisville.
