In the following lists the results of the supplemental junior matriculation examinations have been arranged in four sections. Section t includes candidates who wrote in Toronto, either at the University of Toronto or McMaster University; section 2, those who wrote at Queen's University, Kingston; section 3, candidates who wrote at centres in the cities mentioned; and section 4, those writing at all other centres. In each section the list contains names of three classes of candidates, arranged in three separate groups, A, B and C.

In group A are given the names of all candidates who have obtained complete junior matriculation by passing on the eleven required examination papers, which are as follows: English composition, English literature, history (ancient and British and Canadian), algebra, geometry, Latin authors, Latin composition, together with the four papers in two of the following subjects: Experimental science (physics and composition, German (authors and composition). Greek (authors and composition). Greek (authors and composition). In compiling the results in this group, the July matriculation and normal entrance examinations in 1910 only have been considered.

In group B are given the names of those who have bassed in at least

They have, therefore, failed in not more than three of fore, failed in not more than three of the required papers. The papers in which these candidates have failed will be shown on their certificates. They may complete matriculation by passing in all the remaining papers at one subsequent examination.

In group C are given the names of those who have written upon any number of matriculation papers less than the eleven required for complete matriculation and who have passed on all papers upon which they have written.

In all there were about 350 candidates at this examination. In nearly all cases the certificates and state-BARRIE. Sinking Spells Every Few Days

"At the time I began taking Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy I was having sinking spells every few days. My hands and feet would get cold; I could scarcely breathe, and could feel myself gradually sinking away until I would be unconscious. Those about me could not tell there was life in me. After these spells I would be very weak and nervous, sleepless and without appetite; had neuralgia in my head and heart. After taking the remedy a short time all this disappeared and in a few weeks all the heart trouble was gone."
