TRENTON, N.J., Feb. 12.-Pastor | compared with the ordinary member Russell of Brooklyn Tabernacle preached here to-day in the opera house on the "Hereafter," and subsequently on humanity could not compete with this race. The result was that strife and the "Hereafter," and subsequently on report the latter as follows:

The Bible's teaching that the earth's atmosphere is infested with evil spirits is now very generally disbelieved. As a result of the disbelief thousands of a result of the disbelief thousands of waters, which then sura result of the disbelief thousands of well-meaning people are being the more easily entrapped by these evil spirits. The blight is both physical and moral. The usual method of procedure is to arouse curiosity. While the quest for knowledge proceeds, an influence much like that of hypnotism affects the investigator, impelling him forward to further investigation. Sometimes the curiosity is attracted thru the outer senses as spiritualistic thru the outer senses as spiritualistic scances, with outja-boards, etc. At other times it is by spirit rappings.

Again, it may be by whisperings in the ear, inaudible to others. At other times the mercanes. times the messages come thru trance-

This, in turn, permitted her to communicate with the evil spirits, the fallen angels. These, representing themselves to her as inmates of purgatory, came to her for help. They solicited her angels, and una o her for help. They solicited her prayers and were progressing to get her more and more under their control. Just in time she was rescued thru reading my writings on the subject.

Separated from God and the holy angels, and unable to assume human bodies, the sinful angels have probably had tentible experiences during the past forty-four hundred years.

Under such circumstances

Not infrequently do these spirits personate the Heavenly Father and Christ, urge more prayer, accuse of sin, re-commend the reading of the scriptures, etc. This appears to be with a view to gaining the confidence, the relaxing of the will. Later on dishonorable suggestions are made. The Bible is scorned, prayer is laughed at. If, then, the subject takes fright and seeks to break the hypnotic chain, the evil spirits laugh at him, swear at him, and sometimes tell him that they will shortly have him fully a their power to roust forever. If he attempts to pray, intrude and interrupt and tell him that God would not hear him now, that God, thru His word, has forewarned His people against these delusions. permitting them, nevertheless, to fall into these traps. He is merely teaching a great lesson. The terrible results of disobedience, of neglect of God's word, are not eternal.

St. Paul, in describing our day, declares one of its prominent signs to be that many will now give heed to these seducing spirits, whose teachings and practices lead away from God. St. Paul intimates also that by these misdoctrines of demons, or devilish doc-

In every instance these communications purport to come from dead human beings. This of itself gives to the communication a special charm to many. They feel honored in being sought out by the dead and in being able to communicate with them. They are curious for information respecting the hrereafter. They forget that they have been taught from infancy that the holy dead are far off in heaven, and that the unholy dead are far off in torment.

How fully this is forgotten is shown by a letter which I received on the first day of this month from a Catholic lady. In it she tells how she first obtained clairvoyant powers—the gift of hearing what others could not hear. This, in turn, permitted her to communicate with the evil spirits, the fallen angels were put under restraints—not permitted again to materialize, but also the power to dematerialize. It was at that time, however, that all of the fallen angels were put under restraints—not permitted again to materialize. Objects to G. T. R. Plans for Humbe River Bridge,

The executive committee of the Civic Guild have framed a report on the proposed pillar in the bridge the Grand Trunk Railway is to build across the Humber, and will forward copies of it to the city council and the railway

After pointing out that a bridge can be built of sufficient strength for the purpose intended, they state their reasons for objecting to the piliar, which are as follows:

It will impede the free flow of the It will impede the free

It will obstruct free navigation at It will deflect the current to one side, endangering adjacent property during flood periods.

By dividing the channel it will make both parts dangerous for navigation of either pleasure or commercial craft.
They conclude by stating that they consider it in the best interests of the citizens of Toronto that no further obstructions be placed in the Humber River by the rallway company, either by shortening the bridge span or by the substitution of two spans for the The report is signed by W.
