A Damper Over the City.

Lord Roberts' despatch, describing the disaster at Reddersburg, was printed in the Dublin evening papers, and created general consternation. It brought the populace with a quick turn from rejoicing over the Queen's visit to the great issues of the war, and cast a sudden gloom over the galety of the party at the Castle.

Fred. Peters' casting vote. The latter was elected permanent chairman, on motion of Hon. Smith Curtis, Provincial Secretary. The Cassiar men are anti-Martin. The meeting is going steadily against the Premier, and is very noisy and ritotous.

"Ryerson Embury" is written by a Canadian who has made a name through it. The Publishers' Syndicate, Limited. 51 Yonge St., has issued two editions and a third is on the press.

Rodriguez and Rosalie Santlago, who were condemned to death by garreting, will be executed. Their crime was the nurder in October, 1898, of Senor Prudencio Mendez at Yauco. The murderers, after criminally assaulting the wife and daughters of their victim, compelled them to dance about the corpse. To-day business has almost been suspended, and the public is greatly excited in anticipation of the execution. This will be carried out by two convicts from San Juan. Each of the condemned, heavily manacled, now lies in a separate cell, with a priest attending him. Soldiers' of the Pverto Rican Battalion are on guard. At the execution 50 additional insular police will be present. The Americans will take no part in the proceedings.
