That boy Gans does not seem to have gone back much of late. He is the greatest lightweight the game has ever seen, and that is saying some thing, when Jack McAuliffe, Kid Lavigne and some more are named.

That Rocket team is a great hitting team when they get going. Thirty hits in two games is their record.

A son of President Roosevelt witnessed the Gans-Nelson go. This is an item for the purists to worry over.

There will be something doing in that race yet. Doc Sippi once took part in a 25-innings game between Tacoma and Seattle in the early nineties. Doc had 32 put-outs at first base, a world's

"That's a mighty tall chap," remarked McGinnity, referring to Pitcher Falkenburg, "but I knew a fellow in the Eastern League so tall that any ball pitched to him above his knees went over the catcher's head."

"Pretty good," said Bresnahan. "But Sweeney had it on your man. Sweeney was so tall that he had to bat sitting down. One day he was standing at first base, and fell down by accident. Rubbing the dust out of his eyes he saw a bag and touched it. It was second base, and he was credited with a steal!"

Did ever a man enter the ring for a championship battle beset as Joe Gans has been beset? Did ever an athlete make so many sacrifices for the mere chance of redeeming himself? Forced in the first place to sign away his legitimate portion of the purse; browbeaten into the acceptance of conditions that might be considered impossible; harassed, hampered and bullied at every turn of the road, hum" ,ed by the thought that he has had to submit to being robbed and cheated; suspicious of the man who will have the counting of his money after the fight!

"I say, old chap," said a member of the Corinthian socker football team. "I heard a ripping good wheeze about the boat race between Cambridge and Harvard. I can't just remember it now, but it struck me as droll, and it occurred to me at the time that I should send it to the 'Pink 'Un.' You know, they go in for that sort of thing. Bli' me! Isn't it strange that I can't recall it now? My memory is so bally treacherous Oh, yes, I have it. Brookson-Ripples and I were discussing the race just before we left for this side.
