Premier Foster Makes Important Announcement Re Hydro Development

TENDERS TO BE CALLED IN NEAR FUTURE FOR WORK AT MUSQUASH

Attendance at Fair for Two Days Exceeds 25,000; Yearly Show Intimated; Big Success Forecasted

An attendance during the first two days of 25,415 at the St. John exhibition exceeded the best day of 1914 the last showing by more than 9,000 and offered the best prospect for an annual event of the kind was wanted by the public of St. John and the province at large. The announcement of Premier Foster regarding his policy for hydro-electric development; the intimation of Mayor Schofield that the exhibition probably would be made an annual event; the promise of help offered to the farmers by Hon. J. F. Tweeddale, minister of agriculture; and the optimism and the faith in St. John and in the province of New Brunswick that was the keynote of unusual interest and importance. The exhibits are, in almost every class, larger and the competition is far more keen than in former years. The attractions are better than they have been and the record crowds yesterday, which surpassed previous marks for attendance, were thoroughly entertained all the time they were on the grounds.

More than 3,000 people were in attendance at the exhibition during the opening on Saturday afternoon, when the fair was formally opened by His Honor, Lieutenant-Governor Pugsley. Mayor Schofield presided and besides the speaker, there were present on the platform, Mrs. William Pugsley, Mrs. J. F. Tweeddale, Mrs. W. F. Roberts, and Mrs. H. Lawrence. The band of the 62nd Regiment was in attendance.

Mayor Schofield.

In his opening remarks, E. A. Schofield, mayor of the city and president of the Exhibition Association, said he had received a communication from Lieutenant-Governor McCallum Grant, of Nova Scotia, expressing regret for his enforced absence from the exhibition opening, but wishing the undertaking every success.

The present exhibition, Mayor Schofield said, was the first one to be held by the local association since 1914, when the association made over the buildings to the militia department and gave up all idea of holding another exhibition until conditions again were normal. It was only a few months ago, he said, that the executive of the association decided to hold the present show and he thought the members deserved a great amount of credit for the very favorable appearance that is being made and the amount of work that has been done in so short a time.

Exhibitors from all over the province, as well as in the city of St. John, had made a great response to the invitations of the management and he knew that the showings made this year would be a credit to the local fair. The live stock yards had been closed so long that it was something of a problem to get them into shape again, and that there were so many cattle entries this year was a most creditable record, for the breeders (Continued on page 16, first column)

MUSICAL STOCK CO. OPENS TO CAPACITY BUSINESS AT LYRIC

Notwithstanding the many other counter attractions in connection with the Exhibition the Lyric Theatre played to capacity business yesterday afternoon and evening when the "You Tell 'Em" Musical Stock Co. made their first appearance. It was refreshing to note the absence of the cut and dried bills which have been so characteristic of musical offerings.

The Lyric opened in a delightful farce comedy entitled, "The Mix up of Mickey," which has much to commend it from the standpoint of good clean comedy. Joe Burkhart, an old St. John favorite, received an ovation at every performance. For fully two minutes after the appearance of the genial Irish comedian the house resounds with hearty applause, and his specialty simply captivated them in a manner which left no room for doubt as to his popularity. Mr. Burkhart has surrounded himself with an excellent supporting company, and all acquitted themselves admirably. A decidedly clever team, George and Stella Watson, made an instantaneous hit and it is easy to see that they will be favorites. Mrs. Watson appeared in the sketch as Nancy, the maid, and played the part admirably, while in her specialty with her better half, "Jiggs," she well merited the applause bestowed on her. Mr. Watson is a clever singer and dancer, and has also a reputation as the chorist of comedies of no fact which will no doubt be demonstrated in other programmes. Harry Carr, as Major Puff-jacket, played a difficult character, well while Mr. Slater as Charles Livingstone assisted very materially in crowning the efforts of the company with the laurels of success. In the number with the chorist he was very pleasing. As Laura, Miss Ida Eldridge did splendidly. Possessed of a wonderfully sweet voice, this little lady sang with difficulty in winning her way into the hearts of the audiences. In the opening she was heard to excellent advantage in the chorus of "Beautiful Lady," and in the rendition of the delightful ballad "Shadows," as well as the pretty Japanese novelty, "Yo Sami," added very materially to the enjoyment of the programme. In a violin specialty Jack Kenney offered variety and his numbers were repeatedly encored. The chorus not only looked well but also executed the business of the different numbers assigned them in a captivating manner. The stage setting came in for much praise as did also the work of the Baby Watson as Cupid. Miss Jerry Slater in her number, "Hold Me," was forced to respond to well deserved encores.

The work of Miss Florence Frink, the musical directress, deserves special mention, in fact there was little to criticize and much to commend in the performance given at the Lyric yesterday. One of the most commendable features was the absence of anything that was easy to see that the ambition of the management of the company was to offer only good clean refined entertainment.

The same programme will be repeated this evening as well as Wednesday and a complete change will be offered Thursday.

BABY CLINIC.
At the exhibition yesterday Dr. Landry, of Moncton, a specialist in child diseases, presided at the baby clinic. During the afternoon he examined twelve or fourteen infants and found defects in about one-third of that number, matters which will have to be cared for. Dr. Fred Burden of Moncton, dentist, presided over the tentist booth and examined the teeth of quite a number of children. These clinics are daily features at the exhibition.

PERSONALS

Mrs. P. A. Currier and daughter, Virgini, have returned from a delightful vacation spent with Mrs. Currier's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Baker in St. John (N.B.). Mrs. Currier brings word to the many friends of Dr. Currier that he and his family are well and happy in St. John. Millinocket (Me.), correspondence Bangor Daily News.

LOCAL BANKERS' REST ROOM FOR THEIR FRIENDS

One of the most original ideas at the exhibition, and one that has already received favorable comment, is the booth supplied by J. M. Robinson & Sons for the convenience of the public, and particularly their out-of-town friends. This booth is furnished to serve as a rest room and as a meeting place for those who desire to meet friends somewhere in the building. It is on the upper floor at the south end of the Main building. Parcel checks will be given free to anyone not wishing to carry purchases with them. Ladies and children are particularly invited to drop in and rest while seeing the Big Show. There is nothing like this in the city. J. M. Robinson & Sons are investment bankers, and they have taken this opportunity of keeping before the public that degree of service which will be found in all dealings with them. 9-12

BIG VAUDEVILLE TREAT AT OPERA HOUSE TODAY

New Programme Has Some Big Broadway Hits Booked for Exhibition Week.

Visitors in the city today have an opportunity of seeing a great vaudeville treat at the Opera House. Some of the biggest hits along Broadway have been booked especially for this week, and all are assured of a great time. The new bill, which started this afternoon, and will continue until Friday, not inclusive, will be as follows: The Bison City Four, one of the best male comedy quartets working in vaudeville; Nadine, a classy singing comedienne; The Garden Girls, in a feature singing due of real merit; Wilfred Du Bois, "Le Louleur Distingue," in something new; Mary Kurys and partner, in a sensational gymnastic offering. In addition to these stellar vaudeville acts there will be another episode of "The Silent Avenger," a great motion picture serial teeming with thrills, in which William Duncan is playing the lead.

THE BY-ELECTIONS

Result Doubtful in Colchester — Ottawa Surprised by Contest Here.

Ottawa, Sept. 7.—(Canadian Press)—News of the nomination of Dr. A. F. Emery, as Liberal candidate to oppose Hon. R. W. Wignmore, in the St. John by-election on September 20, was received with some surprise here. It was thought that Mr. Wignmore would receive an acclamation, as there appeared little prospect of a Liberal candidate entering the field.

The nominations in Colchester, where Hon. F. B. McCurdy is opposed by Captain Hugh Dickson, M. C., former laborer candidate, were just as expected. Although government supporters appear to think that Mr. McCurdy will carry the seat, the fact that two farmers were returned in the provincial elections tends to make the result doubtful.
