TODAY'S POLICE COURT. Two prisoners were arraigned in the police court this morning, both charged with drunkenness. One was a girl arrested for being drunk in Sheffield street, and the other a man arrested for being drunk in Elm street. Both pleaded guilty and were remanded.

FUNERALS TODAY. The body of Miss Sadie McManus was expected to arrive from Boston at noon today accompanied by her brother, John McManus. The funeral will be held from her parents' residence, Pleasant Point, tomorrow afternoon at 2.30. The funeral of Mrs. Bradford Worden will be held from the home of Rose Whittaker, 63 Moore street, this afternoon at 2.30. Service will be conducted by Rev. G. A. Kuhring.

PEOPLE NOT INTERESTED. As was the case when the same pictures were shown in the Natural History Society and the school room of the congregational church, very few grown up people were present at the exhibition at the Every Day Club last evening. There were, however, many children. Miss McFarlane played the piano for half an hour while the audience was coming in. C. H. Whittle explained the pictures and gave a very interesting talk. Miss Metel Peterson, vice-president of the Playgrounds Association, was among those present.

BROKE A LEG. News reached the city yesterday telling of an accident to former St. John man, Archie McEachern, who has many friends here, and whose old home was in Thorne avenue. He has been engaged in gas-burning sheet and metal work about Boston and while working on a stage this week fell quite a distance and broke a leg in two places. He is now in a hospital in Boston and it will be at least six weeks before he is able to be about again. Mr. McEachern was here during Old Home Week on a visit.

A SMALL TOWN HABIT. Since the complaint about the spitting nuisance were mentioned in the Times numerous comments to the same effect have been heard. A well known citizen remarked that it was one of the things which helped to keep St. John in the small town class in the Maritime provinces. The dirty streets may be blamed on the increasing traffic dirty sidewalks, from this case, indicate that at least a portion of the population has nothing better to do than to loaf around the corners and expectorate.

2nd REG'T N. B. ARTILLERY. Captain J. T. McGowan, who was in command of the 2nd N. B. Regt. of Artillery during the annual training at Torbay, Ont., returned to the city yesterday, having spent the past week, after leaving Torbay in the evening, in the training of the work of the regiment while in camp. Captain McGowan said that the shooting made by the men was very good, when it is considered that their training was done with guns with which they had had no previous experience. In spite of this they did very good work in the competition. The regiment trained as field artillery with everyone mounted either on horseback or on the gun-carriages. In the case of some of the men this added to the difficulty of the work, although it had its amusing features as well.

WANTS TO PAY MORE TAXES

London, Aug. 9.—Andrew Carnegie, unveiling a statue of Robert Burns at Montreal, said: "In one department the millionaire is ahead of the dominions and the United States. She has established the law that every subject should contribute to the support of the government in proportion to his income. The just taxation of the millionaires of the dominions and the United States has so far escaped, but their day is coming."

NEW PACKAGES INNOVATION IN LOCAL MARKET

Half Pound Tins of Salmon Introduced—Provisions and Prices—Crop Reports and Predictions

The local provision market during the last few weeks has seen but little change in the listings of most articles, prices having remained practically at a standstill for some time although in most lines of commodities there has been a marked firmness and tendency to strength. The outstanding feature of the local grocery market at the present time is the slump in the price of wheat which was reduced 25 cents this week as already referred to in the Times. There is no change looked for at present in Manitoba wheat but it is almost certain that by the time the spring crop is assured, there will be lower prices prevailing. Reports from the west are to the effect that the harvest this year with a continuance of fine weather, will be unprecedented, and that the crop will have the effect of causing a decline in present quotations, is expected.

While there has been no change of late in the quotations on sugar, the heavy demand owing to the preserving season, has created a stronger tendency as to price and for the past six weeks has had a steady effect on the market. Sugar has not declined in price since June 1, although there have been one or two fluctuations on the New York market both in raw and refined. Molasses which is generally in sympathy with sugar is much firmer. Much higher prices are looked for before the arrival of winter.

The expected has happened in regard to canned salmon, at last the half-pound tins have been placed upon the market. Some time ago it was predicted by a prominent local wholesaler that with the steady rise in the price of canned salmon packers would be forced to send in this territory the half-pound cans, which they had already placed on other markets. The pack this year has advanced the rise and with the advance in price has come the arrival of the half-pound tins to the local market, and there is expected to be a crop demand for them.

HER NINETEETH BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Younghusband spent her 99th birthday at the "Old Ladies' Home." She is a most wonderful woman, never idle, always cheerful and bright, and spends her time sewing for poor children, and the kindergarten, doing fancy work for church sales and also entertaining her friends, who are legion.
Her friends gave her a birthday party last evening and a most enjoyable time was spent. Refreshments were served, and with many happy returns of the day; "Auld Lang Syne" brought a very pleasant evening to a close.
