

STEAMER HATING ASHORE

Vessel Went on Rock in Tucker Bay, Jervis Island, During a Fog.

The Sea Was Calm at the Time of the Accident and No Lives Were Lost.

(Special to the Times.)

Vancouver, Oct. 14.—In a dense fog, but in the calmest of seas, so that there was no loss of life, the steamer Hating went ashore opposite Texada island in the island-dotted northern section of the Gulf of Georgia, at 2.30 o'clock on Saturday afternoon. The news reached Vancouver late on Sunday afternoon, a volunteer boat's crew, with Pilot Tom Gunn in charge, having come here for assistance.

Since the loss of the Islander the Hating has been the flagship of the Canadian Pacific fleet in the North. She made the round trip to Skagway regularly and makes about 16 miles per hour. On this trip out she had broken the pump of her starboard engine and came back to port one day late. She made a new start on Sunday night last and the trip was uneventful until she met with disaster. She can probably be raised. She was hauled last fall by the Canadian Pacific in Hongkong for $185,000. Nearly $50,000 worth of improvements were put on her since her arrival on this side of the Pacific.

The captain was formerly in command of the Tees and later on the Amal, and was considered one of the best navigators in the Skagway service.

HATING'S PASSENGERS.

Reached Vancouver on Board the Willapa To-day—Captain and Officers Praised.

Vancouver, Oct. 14.—The steamer Willapa arrived at 2 o'clock this afternoon from the Hating wreck. The passengers all came down. They all say that the accident was unavoidable, and all praise the conduct of the captain and officers. The steamer is lying in a natural cradle, and if there are no storms she will only be raised. The passengers slept aboard both nights. Steamer Maude is expected in at 2.30 with baggage.

STEAMER HATING.

every week, and left last night on her last run. Coming down she passed a rock. The steamer bank at noon that caused her to lose her way. She was to run her for the rest of the time at half speed and to take charge of her on the bridge herself. With him was Chief Officer Neurotsos, who was aboard the Islander on the night she went to the bottom.

The steamer ran for two hours through the fog without mishap. She was still proceeding at a speed of about ten knots when she struck on a rock. The steamer was evidently somewhat out of her course, but the channel is very narrow. The engines were immediately reversed, but the steamer did not budge and remained fast. She struck at half past five, and soon after her stern sank so that the after rail was in eight or ten feet of water when the tide came in.

The passengers, of course, immediately rushed on deck when the shock of the strike was felt. The sea was calm and the assuring words of the captain had the effect of quieting the passengers. They returned to their cabins, secured their personal belongings and gold and were conveyed to shore.

Upon investigation it was found that the steamer was ashore in Tucker bay, Jervis island, a small, rocky islet lying to the northeast of Lasqueti island at the entrance of Sabine strait. The place is exactly forty-nine miles from Vancouver.

The work of landing the passengers on Lasqueti island took an hour. The fog hampered the movements of a boat, so it was impossible to detect anything more than five yards away. About $300,000 worth of gold aboard the vessel was all safely removed and all baggage was taken ashore.

By this time the tide came into the after part of the vessel, and it was expected that she would be pretty well under water when the tide came in full. She was stuck fast, however, and is thought to be in no danger of slipping off by the rising water.

At 4 o'clock, Tom Gunn, pilot of the Hating, left the steamer with a boat's crew of two quartermasters and two deckhands. They arrived at Vancouver yesterday afternoon and at once made a report to officials of the Canadian Pacific. The pilot says that it would have been nearer to have gone to Nanaimo, but owing to the fog it was not considered advisable to go near there, but to head off the steamer Comox, bound from the coast. A letter was left for the Comox at Sechart, then the men rowed all night and all morning into Vancouver, arriving in a very much fatigued condition.

The pilot could not tell the exact damage to the steamer, but she has a large hole in her iron bottom. The damage would have been larger, however, but for the fact that the steamer's forefoot is a gently sloping one and she appeared to run up on the rock rather than to strike solidly.

The steamer Joan, lying at Nanaimo, was wired for to go to the rescue. The steamer Maude left Vancouver at 1.30 last evening. The Hating is a steel vessel of 1,204 tons register, two hundred and fifty feet gauge. The Hating had $300,000 in gold. The passengers are as follows: X. Cyr, C. Morel, M. Wash, H. H. Miller, Mrs. Miller, L. G. Forecour, W. A. Cowan, A. Wells, W. J. Sewell, J. Scous, J. A. The sequel to all was that the steamer, after starting on her homeward run, struck on a sand bar off Port Guichon at the mouth of the Fraser river and for three hours awaited the rise of the tide to float her off. She was not damaged by the accident and left at usual last night on her regular weekly trip to Vancouver.

Steamer Yosemite Delayed Several Hours by Mishap.

This year is verily one of disaster with vessels of the C.P.N. fleet. Almost coincident with the accident to the Hating came word on Sunday that the Yosemite the local agent of the marine and fisheries department, happened to hear of the misfortune on the streets, and at once tendered assistance. He waited upon Mr. Vincent and proffered to telegraph for the services of the Quadra, which is now at Vancouver, but the thoughtful officer was deemed unnecessary of acceptance.

After detailing the history of the abduction of Miss Stone, the Spectator remarks: "President Roosevelt and the Washington cabinet maintain justly that the Sultan is responsible, as it is his misgovernment which provokes and protects against brigandage, and they intend to demand reparation from the Porte. It will be limited, we imagine, to $20,000. The Porte will be requested to punish the authors of the outrage, and as Turkey is sure to suffer by the failure to do so, the Sultan will, of course, yield to the first show of force."

The Week's Failures.
Dun's report gives the failures for the week as 23, against 32 for the corresponding week last year.

Death of Barry Straton.
St. John, N. B., Oct. 11.—Barry Straton, first cousin to Bliss Carman and Charles D. Roberts, the poets, and himself possessor of literary and poetic talents of no mean order, died near Fredericton yesterday, aged 48. He published "Lays of Love," "The Building of the Bridge" and other poetical works, and was a writer of hunting and fishing stories.

Steamer Grounded.
Quebec, Oct. 11.—The Donaldson liner Tritonia, from Montreal for Glasgow, arrived here this morning after going aground off St. Antoine. The wrecked vessel had sustained a rip in her keel plates extending 10 feet. Her cargo is being discharged from the hold. At the point of the accident the depth of water in the river was 28 feet 7 inches, the ship's draught being only 23 feet.

Singular Death.
Windsor, Oct. 11.—Peter Seguin, of Elmley, carried a small bottle of carbolic acid and a plug of tobacco in his pocket. The bottle broke and the tobacco absorbed the acid. Despite the tobacco's peculiar flavor, Seguin chewed it two days. As a result his throat swelled up and the flesh became almost black. An abscess formed on his lungs, broke yesterday and death resulted.

Swing Hospital.
Montreal, Oct. 11.—Alfred Lefebvre is using the Royal Victoria Hospital for $1,969 damages caused by the loss of a foot. Lefebvre was a coal cart driver and had his foot crushed. The doctors partially amputated it, but gangrene set in and the remainder had to come off. Lefebvre alleges that amputation was unnecessary.

For Insurance Policy.
Greenshields, Greenshields & Henneke have taken out an action against the Temperance and General Life Assurance Company for the amount of a policy on the life of the late Major "Gat" Howard, killed in South Africa. The action is on behalf of W. H. Elly, attorney-at-law of Hartford, Conn., sole testamentary executor of the late Major "Gat" Howard. The policy was for $10,000, payable the amount called for by the policy because Major Howard met his death at war.

Fatally Injured.
Hamilton, Ont., Oct. 11.—Prof. William Hand, member of the famous fireworks firm, was fatally injured by an explosion in his factory this morning. He was removed to the hospital and died in a short time.

TRYING TO REACH BANDITS.
Missionaries Will Negotiate Regarding Payment of Ransom for Miss Stone.

Constantinople, Oct. 12.—The situation in the case of Miss Stone tonight is that Missionaries Baird and Haskell are still trying to get in touch with the brigands in order to agree on the amount of the ransom. It is scarcely likely that this agreement will be reached for some days. So soon as word comes from the missionaries that the amount of the ransom has been determined upon, the United States legation will start for the place named with the money.

Kidappers Demanded.
Berlin, Oct. 12.—According to reports received here from Sofia, the captors of Miss Stone demand that the ransom shall be deposited at Samokoff, Bulgaria. A Bulgarian cattle driver who was an eyewitness to the kidnapping, has been arrested at the instance of the United States consul, on suspicion of complicity in the crime.

THOMAS HORSKINS' NERVES.—Mr. Thomas, a resident of Durham, Ont., for a number of years, was a martyr to stomach and nerve disorders. Schooled to prejudice against "patent medicines," he started using Great American Nerveine as he says, "Last resort," but six bottles of this great remedy proved to be his salvation. It can be yours. Sold by Jackson & Co. and Hall & Co.—124.

IT HAPPENED IN A DRUG STORE.
"One day last winter a lady came to my drug store and asked for a brand of cough medicine that I did not have in stock," says Mr. C. H. Green, the popular druggist of Ontario, N. Y. "She was disappointed and wanted to know what cough medicine I could recommend. I said to her that I could recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and that she could take a bottle of the remedy and after giving it a fair trial if she did not find it worth the money she might as well have it and I would refund the price paid. In the course of a day or two the lady came back with a friend in need of a cough medicine and advised her to buy a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I consider that a very good recommendation for the remedy." It is for sale by Henderson Bros., Wholesale Agents.

MINERS' NARROW ESCAPE.
Fairmont, W. Va., Oct. 11.—At 5 o'clock this morning there was an explosion of gas in the Fairmont Coal Company's New England mines, a mile and a half south of this city. The gas ignited from a shot fired by one of the miners, the loose coal at once taking fire and a big blaze resulted and filled the mine with smoke at a point where it prevented the exit of the miners for a time. The miners were penned in for about four hours, and it looked for a while as if there would be fatalities. The flames were finally shut off by the putting up of brattices and the men all came out unhurt.

RANSOM WILL BE PAID.

Troops Instructed to Abandon the Pursuit of Miss Stone's Kidnappers.

Constantinople, Oct. 11.—In compliance with a request from Washington, the search by Ottoman troops for the abductors of Miss Stone has been abandoned, it being feared that the brigands would kill her should they be closely pursued. Arrangements are now being made to pay the ransom demanded.

Tactics Criticized.
London, Oct. 12.—"The United States legation here," says a dispatch from Constantinople to the Daily Telegraph, "have received information which would be made to capture the band, but nothing has been heard since Monday, when Mr. Haskell reached Samakoff. He is not prepared to say whether he has been empowered to arrange the loose terms. The attempt to capture the band has made the brigands shy of future traps, thus rendering negotiations difficult. Such tactics are merely criticized here. The brigands may in revenge slay their captive. Moreover, the fact that no money was produced on the first demand may cause the brigands to mutilate Miss Stone as a warning."

After detailing the history of the abduction of Miss Stone, the Spectator remarks: "President Roosevelt and the Washington cabinet maintain justly that the Sultan is responsible, as it is his misgovernment which provokes and protects against brigandage, and they intend to demand reparation from the Porte. ELEVEN THOUSAND TROOPS PARADED

REVIEWED BY DUKE AT TORONTO YESTERDAY

South African Veterans Presented With Medals—Interesting News Notes From Eastern Canada.

Toronto, Oct. 11.—The Royal review to-day passed off brilliantly. There were not less than 50,000 people actively witnessing, or endeavoring to witness, the brilliant spectacle presented. There were 11,000 troops on the field.

The Duke first rode around the exhibition grounds with his staff, reviewing the various corps, and then distributed South African medals to over 500 veterans, also planning on Major Cockburn's Victoria Cross earned in South Africa. The sword of honor presented to Major Cockburn on behalf of the citizens of Toronto was handed to him by the Duke with congratulations. The Duke, before leaving the grounds, expressed to Gen. O'Grady Halv his deep admiration of the splendid turnout and steadiness of the men.

The Royal party, after luncheon, proceeded to the University, the Duke reviewing the firemen on the way. At the University a very distinguished crowd had gathered to witness the conferring of a degree on the Duke. Chancellor Meredith presided. The Duke, accepting the degree, made a jocular reference to the fact that his Royal father, 42 years ago, had been made an undergraduate, being too young when here to become a graduate, and had remained a freshman ever since.

MARGINAL READINGS.

Report of Committee Has Been Adopted By the Episcopal Convention.

San Francisco, Oct. 12.—Only morning sessions were held to-day by the houses of the triennial convention of the Episcopal church of America. This afternoon was devoted to an excursion, which included visits to nearly all the points of interest on San Francisco bay.

The House of Bishops passed an amendment to article 1 of the constitution giving an honorary seat on the floor to any bishop retired either for old age or for physical disability.

The bishops appointed their portion of a proposed joint committee to consider the proposed degrees in marriage, and also three bishops to act on the committee that will nominate a board of managers for the missionary board. The House of Bishops probably will consider next the code of canon law, choosing for discussion at this convention those which are deemed of most importance.

The Brotherhood of St. Andrew held its 42nd annual convention at the Christian Association rooms and the Women's Auxiliary kept open house at its headquarters.

An hour and a half of the morning session was consumed by the House of Deputies in discussion, and action on rules of order and various routine matters. The nominations of missionary bishops were formally received from the upper house and were made the order of the day on Monday at 3 p. m., when the house will sit with closed doors.

The conference committee on marginal readings made its report commending that all readings in the report of joint commission taken from the new English version, the new United States version, and the new marginal readings of the King James version authorized. It was also recommended that the committee be permitted to substitute for readings in its report other readings from the other of those sources, other readings taken from this source which shall be authorized. It is understood the bishops agreed to this departure from the original report of the joint committee with great reluctance, and only in order to secure some action on the subject by the convention. There was also strong expression among the deputies in favor of another opportunity to vote on the report as it came from the joint committee, but no way was found for it, so the house divided upon the report of the committee of conference with the following resolution: Clerical vote—Aye, 54; nay, 4. Lay vote—Aye, 41; nay, 3. Divided, 2. The reports were declared adopted.

A report favoring certain new marginal readings was adopted. The House of Bishops then sat with the deputies to consider the report of the joint commission on Christian education, which was adopted, and the convention adjourned until Monday.

FIGHT AT A DANCE.
Quarrel Resulted in Two Deaths and One Man Is Fatally Injured.

Topeka, Kas., Oct. 12.—As a result of a quarrel at a dance last night, a little town in Potawatomi county, to-day, two men were burned to death, one is at the point of death from an injury another is injured.

A dance was held there last night, which was attended by a large number of the rougher young men of the county. About 1 o'clock this morning a general fight ensued. When it was over it was found that John Teehan, who had been struck on the head with a blunt instrument, was fatally injured.

When it became known how seriously Teehan was hurt the others scattered. One of them, Eugene Cronan, went to his office to sleep, and was accompanied by J. Macdonald. During the early hours of the morning the office was set on fire by some of the dancers, and the men were burned to death.

GONE TO EAST AFRICA.
Bishop Hartzell Will Organize American Methodist Conference in Rhodesia.

London, Oct. 12.—Bishop Hartzell, missionary bishop of the Methodist Episcopal church in America, left England this week for East Africa. He will organize a new American Methodist conference at Unthali, Rhodesia, on November 8th and will thence make an extended tour through his diocese.

"I did not sleep a night for seven long weeks."
That prolonged period of sleeplessness is most expressive of the pain and suffering caused by womanly diseases.

It is pleasant to contrast the medical inefficiency which said "I could not be cured" with the prompt and permanent cure effected by the use of Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription. This great medicine for women establishes regularity, dries enfeebling drains, heals sore throats, inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness.

"I take great pleasure in recommending Dr. Pierce's medicines to every suffering woman," writes Mrs. Mary Adams, of Grand Rapids, Mich. "I had a nervous, very bad case of the uterus. I was troubled with it so long that I did not sleep a night until it resulted in a prolapse of the uterus. The doctors said I could not be cured, but I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and three bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and two bottles of 'Golden Medical Discovery' and three bottles of 'Pleasant Pellets' my case was cured. I had told my husband that I would have to die, as it seemed I could not live. I had tried all the other Dr. Pierce's medicines, but it had cured others and your medicine cured me. So I did, and I thank God for your medicine for saving my life."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of customs and mailing only. Send 50 cents for a copy of the book in cloth binding, or only 35 cents for the paper covered volume. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.
