ponents alike. The opposition leader bserves the amenities of debate. He is so punctilious in this regard that ne of the more violent partisans complain, comparing him with the ro wherever he saw a head made a pass at .it. But the house is fortunate in that it has as its leaders on both sides of the benches men whose unfailing courtesy tends to restrain rancor and to moderate discuss

Though the session has already dragged its wearisome and expensive course to a record length and the mem bers of both sides are longing for its close, there is much business yet to transact which must not be railroaded through.

It would be a crime, for instance, if the conservatives should so far neglect their duty as to fail to present all possible opposition to the passage of bill, even if they had to keep the house pen until Christmas.

This bill is the last straw which upon the backs of the patient public. While in opposition nothing aroused the indignation of the honest-hearted liberals as did the redistribution bill of 1882. None of their promises were more often made than that pledging fairness in this regard when the oppor tunity came to them. The present iniquitous gerrymander which will make the country map of Ontario look as if a bomb shell had struck it, is the result. In their wildest flights of im agination the much maligned conservative gerrymanderers of the old days would have balked before the frank audacity of this plan. County to run criss-cross and crooked, any old way, so long as liberal constituencies are strengthened and conservative ridings weakened. No standard has been used but that of party advantage. The

LAUGHTER.

Is the thing most desired by the dramatic author as the resultant effect of a presentation of his work to conservative leanings. Confident in their machine majorities in both houses the administration laughs at the storm of protests coming from both parties in that badly mauled province.

It is a dangerous and a short-sighted policy, this gerrymandering. By just as much as the conservative party overstepped the bounds of fair dealing in their redistributions, did they lose favor with the people. A man does not like to have his homestead or his county or his provinical lines meddled with and is apt to resent an arbitrary change which brings him into political contact with unaccustomed places and people, even if the change may be made made to favor his own party. The government will find this out in Ontario even with the advantage which the gerrymander seems to give them.

That 46 majority of their's is just the servation of his more darked to favor his own party. In the proving qualities of the seems are carefully scrutinized, for comedy is the backbone of the structure, and how well the play fulfills its mission as an amuser can only be judged by the number of laughs it engenders. For the present season James R. Waite has taken "Other Reople's Money," because it has amply demonstrated that it is a pleasing and popular play—one of the kind that wears he will will an a capital story, and Mr. Waite has surrounded himself with an excellent company. A special matinee will be given Saturday. The sale of seats is now on and from the manner in which they are going Thursday evening will see a packed house at St. John's popular play house.

That 46 majority of their's is just about rope enough. The hanging is not far off.

The imperial government has done a rash thing in permitting the Jubilee presents to be taken to Ottawa. That G. T. P. contract is not passed yet and it isn't likely that Senator Cox's advance contributions have been sufficient to satisfy the prevailing hunger.

Reports from Ottawa now indicate that the government will not throw away a Sure Thing. Chances look bad for this fall and worse for next so left presents attest to their popularity.

With deep attection
And recollection
I often think of
Those Shandon bells,
Whose sounds so wild would,
In days of childhood,
Fling round my cradle
Their magic spells.

On this I ponder
Where'er I wander,
And thus grow fonder,
Sweet Cork, of thee;
With thy belis of Shandon,
That sound so grand on
The pleasant waters
Of the River Lee.

Full many a clime in, Tolling sublime in Cathedral shrine, While at a glib rate Brass tongues would vibrate; But all their music Spoke naught like thine.

For memory, dwelling
On each proud swelling
Of the beliry knelling
Its bold notes free,
Made the bells of Shandon
Sound far more grand on
The pleasant waters
Of the River Lee.

I've heard bells tolling, Old "Adrian's Mole" in Their thunder rolling From the Vatican, And cymbals glorious Swinging uproarious In the gorgeous turrets Of Notre Dame.

But thy sounds were sweetes Than the dome of Peter Filings o'er the Tiber, Pealing solemnly. Oh! the belis of Shandon Sound far more grand of The pleasant waters Of the River Lee.

There's a bell in Moscow, While on tower and kiosk of In Saint Sophia. The Turkman gets, And loud in air Calls men to prayer From the tapering summitae Of tall minarets.

Such empty phantom
I freely grant them;
But there's an anthem
More dear to me—

Tis the bells of Shandon,
That sound so grand on
The pleasant waters
Of the River Lee.

An adjourned meeting of the stove and sheet metal workers was held last night at the office of Emerson & Fisher. Mr. Emerson presided, and there was a large gathering of representative men. The organization was completed and the gentlemen present discussed many matters of importance to the trade. In future the body will meet at the board of trade-rooms.

OPPOSITION FIGHTING.

Many Amendments Offered to G. T. P. Bill-Government Muzzling the Treasury Watch Dog.

OTTAWA, Sept. 14.-R. L. Border was in his seat in the house of com-mons this morning for the first time was in his seat in the house of commons this morning for the first time for some weeks. His appearance was greeted with hearty applause and he was the recipient of many congratulations on his restored health.

Mr. Fligding introduced a bill to amend the consolidated revenue and audit account. Ostensibly intended to remove some of the difficulties which have arisen in the department of public accounts and to relieve the auditor general from undue responsibility, it really greatly curtails the powers of that official. It will deprive him of his present duties of examining and adjusting accounts and of enquiring whether there is a proper appropriation and whether proper vouchers have been paid. Auditor-General McDougall strongly protests against this proposition to deprive him of the power given him by parliament.

The national transcontinental railway bill was then taken up. On clause seven, Mr. Barker insisted upon a provision being inserted in the bill by which the Grand Trunk shall be compelled to pay dollar for dollar for all Grand Trunk Pacific common stock. He protested against the government allowing the Grand Trunk to present themselves with $25,000,000, under clause 11 of the G. T. P. bill.

Hon. Mr. Fitzpatrick claimed that the Grand Trunk Pacific common stock. He protested against the government would operate it during the time which will elapse between the completion of the road and its lease to the Grand Trunk Pacific common stock. He protested against the government would operate it during the time which will elapse between the completion of the road and its lease to the Grand Trunk Pacific condition of the Eastern section, was reached, Mr. Barker asked if the government and branch lines. He did not think there was any danger of the Grand Trunk getting something for nothing.

Mr. Borden moved a second amendment of safeguard the interests of Canadian ports, in which it is stipulated that the Grand Trunk Pacific common stock. He protested against the government and the properation of the road and its equipment and branch lines. He did not think there was any danger of the sic Grand Trunk getting something for nothing.

Mr. Borden pointed out that while Hon. Mr. Fitspatrick contended that the Grand Trunk would have to pay full value for Grand Trunk Pacific stock, Laurier had explained most explicitly that it was intended to allow the Grand Trunk to get the stock at his the lowest possible price. He quoted from Mr. Fitspatrick's recent speech to show that the government viewed the Grand Trunk Pacific and the Grand Trunk as the same red-headed boy. Under the Grand Trunk Pacific scheme the red-headed boy would dispose of $25,000,000 of stock at a mere nominal figure. If Mr. Fitspatrick was right in his contention, the full value will be paid for the stock, and Barker's amendment should insist upon the Grand Trunk paying for all stock in order that security for fulfilment of the terms of the agreement in sight be secured.

Mr. Fowler and other members of the opposition spoke along the same lines. On the vote in committee after dinner, Mr. Barker's amendment to compel the Grand Trunk to pay full value for stock, was lost 31 to 45.

Discussing the clauses of the bill which deals with the routing of freight, in the stock was lost 31 to 45.

Discussing the clauses of the Grand Trunk Pacific, or through Chicago, what the Grand Trunk Pacific would have to say in the matter. He warned the government that the Grand Trunk Pacific would have to say in the matter. He warned the government providing that the sort amendment providing that the government shall not be compelled to carry out the terms of the contract until such times as the Grand Trunk hold for the contract until such times as the Grand Trunk hold for the contract until such times as the Grand Trunk hold for the contract until such times as the Grand Trunk hold for the contract until such times as the Grand Trunk hold for the contract until such times as the Grand Trunk hold for the contract until such times as the Grand Trunk hold for the contract until such t

WILL OPEN THE BIG THEATRE. WILL OPEN THE BIG THEATRE.

The sale of seats for the New Brunswick Musical Festival concerts will commence at Miss Gray's bookstore. King street, on Friday next, when subscribers may mark off the chairs they desire. On the Monday following the sale for the general public—otherwise known as "rush" seats, will commence. There is a rapidly increasing interest in the Festival, and a generous subscription list already assures the four big musical events of success. The local chorus is about completing its rehearsals, and Mr. Chapman will be here himself early next week with his orchestra of fifty pieces to go over the various selections. On Thureday week the seven famous soloists will arrive from New York. York Theatre, enlarged and modernized, will be fittingly re-opened by the feast of song and instrumental selections.

PROMINENT UNION MAN.

Robert P. Wetmore, first vice-president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Freight and Bagagaemen of America, with headquarters at Lancaster, Pa. arrived in this city yesterday and registered at the Victoria Hotel. Mr. Wetmore formerly resided in this city, but left some twenty years ago for the United States.

The organization, of which Mr. Wetmore is first vice-president, was organized two years ago under the laws of the state of Pennsylvania. Its members, who number in the thousands, are spread over the United States and Canada. Its object is to give better service to the railroads than would otherwise be given and to maintain a reasonably high standard of wages.

Mr. Wetmore is a firm believer in unionism, regarding it as the great projector of the laboring man against ca-
