SPORTING MATTERS

THE RING
THE SULLIVANS AFTER MATCHES.

Tommy Burns, who fought Jack O'Brien, is a much younger man than is generally supposed, being but 25 years of age. He has been boxing since 1900 and has not been out of training since then. Jack (Twin) Sullivan, of Cambridge, attended the O'Brien-Burns fight and will challenge the winner. Jack has a 20-round decision to his credit over Burns and has fought a 20-round draw with O'Brien. Billy Rhodes, who is to fight the winner of the Walcott-Mellody fight, has already started in training and will be fit as a fiddle by the time of the battle. As the time for the Thanksgiving Day fight approaches the sports seem to be more in the dark as to who the winner will be.

Mike (Twin) Sullivan is working now in hopes of getting a match with the winner of the O'Brien-Burns fight. Failing in this Mike will fight Joe Thomas at 142 or 145 pounds this night. If the match can be arranged, or is ready to meet any white man in the world at the water weight limit, Mike has written to Jimmy Croft and Morris Levy of San Francisco acquainting them with these facts.

YOUNG DONOHUE WINS.
MONTREAL, Que., Nov. 28.—Young Donohue of Boston knocked out "Dink" Glaney in the 18th round at Riverside Park tonight. A left on the point of the jaw did the trick. The two men met two weeks ago, when it was claimed that Glaney's friends threw up the sponge too early, and they made another match for a finish tonight. Donohue showed the greater science, but Glaney was apparently able to stand a lot of punishment. It is announced that Terry McGovern is to meet some of the local men about New Year's.

THE BURNS-O'BRIEN FIGHT.
LOS ANGELES, Cal., Nov. 28.—"Philadelphia" Jack O'Brien and Tommy Burns of Los Angeles tonight fought twenty terrific rounds before the Pacific Athletic Club to a draw. When the end came it found the two men in the center of the ring engaged in a terrific struggle. The whole upper part of their bodies was covered with blood. While Jefferies held up the gloves of both fighters a shout of disapproval went up from the Burns admirers who believed their man had won. Burns, who fought like a bulldog from the beginning to the end, was always on the aggressive, crowding his opponent to the ropes and frequently rushing him about the ring almost in a clinch. The fighting practically from the first round to the last was terrific and interesting. Burns landed undoubtedly many more blows than his opponent and they seemed to show great force. O'Brien's footwork, however, was fast and clever and his ducking saved him time and again from severe punishment. Burns, however, landed many stiff blows on O'Brien's face and had the latter's nose bleeding and his right eye laid open in the early rounds of the fight. Burns, too, was severely punished about the face. He

land a knockout. The round, through Burns' exhaustion to attack, was his. O'Brien appeared somewhat distressed when the bell rang. O'Brien's eye was badly hurt.

Round 10—Burns continued his rushing tactics and O'Brien slipped in vicious swings. Burns hit hard in a clinch. They exchanged straight lefts to the face. O'Brien seemed to be landing grogging or Burns straightened Burns with a right uppercut. O'Brien poked Burns with two straight lefts long range for the first time using a lead that has always been his style of battle. He repeated the blow as the going soured. Burns stood with disgust in the center of the ring.

Round 11—Burns pushed his way across the ring. He met O'Brien in a clinch, using his hands whenever the opportunity offered. Burns took a straight left and also several rights and lefts to the face. He continued to rush O'Brien landing a right uppercut and a left to the stomach. O'Brien landed a stiff uppercut as they clinched and put a straight left to the face as they separated.

Round 13—Burns appeared eager to come to close quarters but O'Brien evaded and suffered punishment. Burns landed a right to the head. O'Brien took two damaging lefts that renewed the stream of blood from his mouth and eyes. He appeared unwilling to come to close quarters and used his right to upstart with advantage in rapid succession.

Round 14—Burns began the round with one of his rushes and as soon as released on O'Brien, landing hard right hook to the head and then several body blows at close range. Burns slipped under left lead and assaulted O'Brien's kidneys. Burns shot his right to the jaw as they clinched and the round ended. O'Brien made a much better showing than he did earlier in the fight and the crowd called on him for a speech.

Round 16—They met in a clinch in which O'Brien landed a straight left to the face. Burns' right hand reached O'Brien's head. Burns' right foot, O'Brien put a stiff right to the ear as the going soured. The round was in O'Brien's favor to a very slight degree.

Round 17—They met in the usual clinch and Jefferies were in demand. O'Brien slipped in a stiff right uppercut and escaped a rush by Burns in the neutral corner. O'Brien put a left to the body and followed with two straight lefts to the face. Burns' right hand reached O'Brien's head and the round ended. O'Brien rang with the men in a clinch.

Round 18—Both men were fast and apparently not tired as the rush commenced. O'Brien rocked Burns' head with a stiff left. Burns' right hand reached O'Brien's head and the round ended. O'Brien landed a right to the jaw and Burns was hit for the first time. Burns' right hand reached O'Brien's head and the round ended. O'Brien landed a right to the jaw and Burns was hit for the first time. Burns' right hand reached O'Brien's head and the round ended. O'Brien landed a right to the jaw and Burns was hit for the first time.

Round 20—Burns attempted to strike with his left arm and Jefferies used all his strength to force them apart from a clinch. His efforts sufficed to keep them apart but a short time. Burns appeared somewhat less vigorous and weakened when O'Brien landed a hard left to the jaw. In a clinch that followed Burns' head seemed to wobble and he was not so vicious. He ducked a straight left to the shoulder. Burns ducked straight left and they clinched. As they were separated Burns put hook to jaw. O'Brien cleverly escaped from a corner. They exchanged right and left hooks. O'Brien missed a stiff uppercut as the going soured. The round was rather tame with a great deal of clinching.

Round 24—Burns put a left to the head and right to the jaw. It almost swept O'Brien off his feet. Burns chased his man around the ring, attempting to win in a rush. O'Brien put a short right to the chest. They clinched amid prolonged applaus. Burns finally stood and waited for O'Brien to come into range.

Round 25—Burns met O'Brien in the latter's corner with savage rights to the jaw and they clinched. O'Brien kept away. They rushed into another clinch. Burns with right for ribs was short, but immediately afterwards landed a stiff right to the head. He landed a right on O'Brien's face which was covered with blood. Burns was trying to land a knockout. The round, through Burns' exhaustion to attack, was his. O'Brien appeared somewhat distressed when the bell rang. O'Brien's eye was badly hurt.
