had been put in connection with the Loch Lomond extension, and on account of this more revenue was needed. He agreed that the rate was high, and personally he thought the principle of increasing the rate to large consumers was wrong. The same provision, however, applies to the C. P. R. which pays for twenty-five million gallons, but only used twenty million gallons.

Mr. Tiffin intimated that the present policy would be to force the railway to seek a water supply elsewhere. The road now used 40,000,000 a year. He did not think that the city had believed they would use the excess quantity or that they would not have taken such summary action.

The chairman said the I. C. R. had not been treated differently from other water customers. None of them got any special notice of the increase, and the council in July voted only $100 for the increase in the rate.

The railway representatives said the city had had a special contract with the city and had to pay $2,500 whether it used one or 25,000,000 gallons. It was therefore only right that they should have been notified so that they could make other arrangements if necessary. They did not think they should be punished because they were large consumers.

It was suggested that the city might reduce the rate for this year, but that they could make no rebate on the assessment up to May of this year, as that came in last year's business. Mr. Tiffin said that such a course would be satisfactory. He again informed the board that if the railway was not treated fairly they would go right ahead with the work of obtaining their own water supply.

The commissioners then asked that their water supply should not be cut off pending the settlement of this dispute, and this was agreed to.

Mr. Tiffin pointed out that the railway was already working under difficulties owing to the cost of switching cars to and from West St. John, and Aid. Sullivan's assurance that this would be overcome by the Navy Island Bridge did not seem to satisfy him.

Mr. Brady tendered cheques for $251 for payment of their account to May 1 at the old rate. It was decided to accept them on account.

The railway commissioners then withdrew and after some discussion regarding the need of an assistant engineer the board proceeded to discuss the request of the railway representative.

Mr. Sullivan suggested that the assessment be fixed next year at a low enough figure to allow the railway to recover the extra amount collected from them.

Ald. Kelley thought the assessment should remain as it was. He pointed out that the pulp mill at Miramichi was not getting enough water, and if there was a choice between the two he would rather see the railway cut off. He did not believe the I. C. R. could get a sufficient supply elsewhere.

Ald. Hayes said that if the railway would pay up all that arrears the council be recommended to make up the railway assessment from May 1st at the old rate.

Therewith was carried.

BOILERS UNSAFE

ON BATTLE SHIP

The Maine Said to be Unsafe and Force Leaves the Engine Room.

PROVINCETOWN, Mass., Aug. 5.—Contestation prevailed today on board the battleship Maine when it became known that three of her boilers were in such condition that it was unsafe for her engineer force to remain below. But two or three men now remain in the boiler room.

As a result of this state of affairs the Maine was unable to accompany the fleet of fifteen battle ships which left this afternoon for Hampton Roads. It is doubtful if the Maine can proceed even to Boston under her own steam. Repairs will be made today and tomorrow, and the Maine will attempt to go to Portsmouth Navy Yard Friday morning.

The discovery of the conditions of the boilers were made early today. All the ships are inspected before a trip, and it was through this inspection that the faulty condition was discovered.

Wealthy Parishoner Pleased at Four Years of Pointed Discourses.

PINE VILLAGE, Ind., Aug. 6.—Burgoyne Davis, a wealthy farmer and member of the Methodist church, at which the Rev. J. M. Williams preached for four years, today made the minister a present of sixty acres of land, valued at $125 an acre.

Rev. Mr. Williams preached very short sermons, and it was because of this fact that Mr. Davis and his wife took such a liking to him. The deed states that the consideration for the land is the difference that Mr. Williams paid to the wishes of his parishioners by making his sermons short and to the point.

10 NEARLY KILLED WHEN

ICEBERG ROLLED OVER

A despatch from St. John's, N. E., says:—

A serious fatality was narrowly averted at Cuckhold's Cove Tuesday afternoon, when a large iceberg, with 30 men on it, toppled over and all had an extremely narrow escape. The berg has been aground in the cove for some time, in dangerous proximity to one of the Commercial Cable Co's cables. Efforts were made to dislodge it by exploding gun-cotton at different points, but without success. Tuesday 4:30 was decided to attempt its removal by the use of dynamite and a number of men from the Reid Newfoundland Co. with several of the company's men and some from the cable steamer Mackay-Bennett, went to the cove for that purpose.

About 20 of the men were on the berg, which had a cup-shaped depression in the centre, making holes to place the charges, when the monster, under the weight of the men, lost its balance and began to topple over towards the water. Several of the men at once jumped into the sea and were picked up by the steamer's launch, which was nearby. The others remained on the berg, which most fortunately for them, ceased its downward roll, just as the part on which they were standing reached the water's edge. The men hastily made their way above and further operations ceased, no one caring to venture on the berg again.

A new means of getting rid of the unwelcome visitor was then decided on and Wednesday the berg was taken in tow by the Mackay-Bennett to sea. What its ultimate fate will be the Commercial Cable Co. cars, not provided it does not make a re-appearance at Cuckhold's Cove. The towing of an iceberg to sea from a dangerous position by a large steamer is something new in the annals of the unwelcome visitors from the north.
