

BOWLING, CURLING BAD EXAMPLES

...says children's sport expert Oarlock

UTTAWA (CP) — Individuals who are concerned about the negative influence of sport on youth have taken curling and bowling to task in their most recent attempt to ensure that sport provides a positive role model for younger people.

"You have drug scandals, particularly in sports like professional baseball. You have gambling scandals in NCAA basketball. You have the violence and fighting in hockey," commented Terry Oarlock, an expert of children's sport at the University of Ottawa.

"The influence of the professional sport role model should not be overlooked. Kids look up to these athletes, and emulate their behaviour. We must be very careful about the kind of role model set by professional or high-profile amateur sport athletes, and the kinds of behaviour they sanction by the things they do when involved in sport.

Lower profile sports like curling and bowling are not coming under Oarlock's scrutiny.

"These sports appear pretty passive and innocent on the surface, but I truly think they can lead to delinquency," said Oarlock. "Think about it now. In the case of bowling, they're actually encouraging people to hang around alleys. But worse still, in curling, you have people throwing rocks at houses. I don't think that's a very good example for our kids to follow."

Daily Sports
THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 30, 1986

Say Goodbye to the AUAA (...See page 3)

NEW OLYMPIC SPORT ANNOUNCED
See page 3

LOOK WHO'S COMING TO TOWN — Nova Scotia Boilers players and their New Haven opponents seem to be looking up in anticipation of the arrival of the Lame One, Lame Greatskiis, who is being sent down by the parent Boilers to help the Nova Scotia farmhands in their struggle for a playoff berth. (Sparrow)

GREATSKIIS TO JOIN BOILERS!

by CLARENCE FLAMMING
The NHL's greatest scorer is coming to town.
Lame Greatskiis, formerly of the Edmonton Boilers, is being sent down to their AHL affiliate, the Nova Scotia Boilers, to boost fan support, score some goals, and make local media types go mad.
Jerry Fish, Nova Scotia Boilers head coach, is clearly pleased with the parent team's decision.
"I am clearly pleased with the decision. I've seen Lame Greatskiis on TV a few times and from what I've heard his scoring might just be what our team needs right now."

Greatskiis, known for his scoring prowess on and off the ice, may just be what the doctor, or any other professional, ordered for the floundering pucksters.
"Well we worked it out," said Fish. "If Lame scores a quarter of what he's been scoring in Edmonton he could be leading our team's scoring race in three to four games. If he does anything more than that, I'm not sure what would happen, we might move up in the standings but it's too early to dream."
The move, however, has not been without controversy as Bud Times of the Adirondack Red Stars says sending Greatskiis down is just a publicity gimmick.

"Greatskiis doesn't belong in this league. It's just a play for Nova Scotia to draw more than 200 fans to a game."
"If you ask me Greatskiis should be maimed in some way before he plays in the AHL to make it fair."
When the Daily Nuisance reached Greatskiis in Edmonton he seemed strangely satisfied with the change.
"Well I always wanted to try some ice fishing and stuff and now maybe between periods I can get some ice fishing in."

SENIOR "F" HOCKEY
MARTMOUTH MEATHEAD MINKIES vs.
HALIFAX BREWS
(EVENT 13)
MARTMOUTH SPORTSPLEX
Friday, March 13, 4 a.m.
(Money refunded if lights fail)

Play Lose
You could lose your car in the parking lot!
WIN
a boat in the head from A-1 Construction Boots Co., Gravel St. Martmouth

4.00 Adults (over 80)
1.00 Under 6 months
1.00 Citizens
30.00 Tourists (13 home games)
"MEET THE MEATHEADS"