

C 56006

-4-

success. In his private and public life he was an example of the highest virtues. Kindly by disposition and generous in his attitude to political opponents, he was a strenuous fighter and unswerving in his devotion to the principles in ~~which he believed~~

~~through all the vicissitudes of his political~~

~~career,~~ faith in the future of Canada as an integral part of the British Empire ~~was his constant watchword.~~

He was a true patriot, and his devotion to the principles which he believed in was a life-long liberal, and constant at all times in his advocacy of policies in which he believed. Show all the more a true patriot, and his devotion to the principles which he believed in would wish most to be remembered by his

W.L. Mackenzie King Papers
Memoranda & Notes

PUBLIC ARCHIVES
ARCHIVES PUBLIQUES
CANADA