

new people come from abroad, distinguished persons and others it is well to see them. You did well this summer, very well, the way you looked after the people who were in Orleans. I was first most delighted the way you looked after them, took and held your place. Kensington is very beautiful because you have made it so, but do not let it interfere with your interests in political affairs. It is your position, standing, ability, that we want to know. Want you to be in evidence and in readiness - get rid of some of the property you have, you don't want to become land poor, make the best use of what you can, people will buy property there just to be near you. I said that was one reason I had purchased what I had, Mary said that is true, but get rid of some of it 'kick off' some of it, it is too much to keep up, there is too much there to look after - do not let people thrust themselves in on you - that is what they are trying to do through themselves. Choose your own friends, on the house of parliament to see others. Now I want so, I shall be back and tell you how your legs are.

Mother

The wish to come was dear Mother's

I heard the voice, well my dear, my dear and ~~thence~~ upon horses, with this lovely, and dear Mrs. Wriedt how are you, 21. Mother me so happy, I am so happy to be able to talk with you Mrs. Wriedt said her reaction expected you to say it. Mother said my son was tired, I thought it better to write; Oh I am so happy and so contented, you don't know how happy I am, what it means to have his family. I said can you very well, I said that said and then "tired" and dear Mrs. Wriedt helps me along. I have been at Laurin House, and have come from there to see you here, I was just keeping house for you while you were away, everything is lovely there, in perfect condition, everything very nice & lovely. I said and Kali is there. Mother said yes Kali is the other.

I said I had had present the children down this summer. Mother said I said and meant that lovely - Sarah a lovely lot of children call me so well and happy. I said Mother dear there is a letter from which I always associate with you, the said yes and you read it that morning.
