

	Page
25. Possessive pronouns. . . . .	69
Genitive of the noun . . . . .	70
26. Demonstrative pronouns. . . . .	72
27. The pronoun selbst . Adjectival demonstrative pronouns. . . . .	75
28. Relative pronouns. . . . .	77
29. Indefinite pronouns. . . . .	80
30. THE ADVERB. . . . .	83
Use of adverbs to replace pronouns. . . . .	85
31. THE PREPOSITION. . . . .	88
32. CONJUNCTIONS. (Co-ordinating and subordinating.) . . . . .	91
33. Adverbial conjunctions. . . . .	95
34. THE ORDER OF WORDS. . . . .	97
35. The attributive construction of the verb. . . . .	101
Position of the verb and adverb. . . . .
36. Place of indirect and direct object. . . . .	104
Compound sentences. . . . .	105
Omission of the subject. . . . .	106
Adverbial clauses. . . . .	108
37. Noun clauses. . . . .	109
38. The German for some peculiar English Constructions. . . . .
English participle. . . . .	111
The Gerund and verbal noun. . . . .	112
The Passive. . . . .	113
39. PUNCTUATION. . . . .	114
40. The formation of the tenses. . . . .	116

PART II

CONTINUED PROSE

1. Wise words of great men. . . . .	121
2. The young swallow. . . . .	121
3. A train of thought with sad consequences. . . . .	122
4. A letter. . . . .	122
5. Mistrust. . . . .	123
6. A liar. . . . .	124
7. The best proof. . . . .	124
8. Always satisfied. . . . .	125
9. The wolf on his deathbed. . . . .	125
10. Optimism applied. . . . .	126