

or poultry. The bacon-allowance alternative should meet the farmer's difficulty, and would provide the labourer's chief supply of meat.

It is, however, in relation to the existing system of hiring and paying the day labourer that any survey of allotments must treat them.