Good Work.

province. Numerous instances can be given where dishonest traders have made a sale of their goods without the knowledge of their creditors and left without paying anything. The measure will no doubt, create a good deal of discussion. The Bill of the City of Brantford received its first reading.

The Workmen's Compensation act will be brought down in the next ten days as the report of Sir William Meredith is now ready and also the bill founded on his report. This measure is the most important measure in the interests of the working-man that has been brought before the house for a good many years.

The Minister of Railways and Mines is introducing a bill by which all miners working underground will have an eight hour day and mine-owners will not be allowed to have men at work longer than eight hours. This is a measure which must meet with the approval of all.

They Must Go.

The Provincial Board of Health at Toronto yesterday discussed the advisability of abolishing the common fire waste that is a source of danger and a rigid inspection of all barber shops.

Austria's loss per capita, France, $300,000; Germany, $500; United States, $3; Canada, $3.07; Berlin's annual loss, $175,000; Chicago, same size, $5,000,000; Berlin's cost of department, $100,000; Chicago's expense, $3,000,000; Toronto's fire loss, 1911, $447,000; Toronto's fire loss, 1912, $1,113,000.

Shock Upset The Nerves

This letter from Mrs. Tweedle is interesting because it shows how nervous trouble develops gradually from such derangements as stomach trouble, until prostration and locomotor ataxia or paralysis render the victim helpless.

It is even more important because it tells how the writer was cured by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, the greatest of nerve restoratives.

Mrs. T. F. Tweedle, Brighton, Ont., writes: "For years I was troubled with the stomach, and have always been of a nervous temperament. The death of my husband was a great shock to me, and a few months later I was prostrated by nervous trouble. Locomotor ataxia developed later, and I was in a bad condition."

"I took treatment from different doctors, but did not gain until I began the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. When I had used five boxes I was so fully restored that I was like a different person. I am sure that the Nerve Food is a good medicine, and have told many people about the remarkable way in which it has restored my health."

Humors come to the surface in the spring as in no other season. They don't run themselves all off that way, however, but mostly remain in the system. Hood's Sarsaparilla removes them, wards off danger, makes good health sure.

STRONGLY ADVISES "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

Because They Cured Him, And They Will Cure You

MR. ALEX. MCCARTER

WALKERTON, ONT., MAY 9th, 1911. "I have been in Walkerton in business for a good many years and many of my townsmen know that my health, for long periods was precarious. My trouble was extreme Nervousness, brought on by indigestion and Dyspepsia, from which I suffered in the most severe form. It was so bad that I could not sleep before about four in the morning. I noticed one of your published testimonials of how someone had used 'Fruit-a-tives' for similar trouble and asked Mr. Hunter, my druggist, his opinion on the matter and he advised their use. I immediately procured several boxes and I am pleased to say that I now enjoy splendid health and could not possibly feel better. I can eat with every degree of satisfaction and sleep without an effort. I strongly advise anyone suffering from like complaints, to commence using 'Fruit-a-tives'." ALEX. Instinct of Mercy

The little launch Jerome, that just before had carried out two or three new firemen. Most of the other seamen and stevedores leaped for the decks of the Atlantic. Hurriedly hawesers were severed and tug and launch sped away from the doomed ship.

The Atlantic was but a few hundred feet away, but rapidly reaching a place of safety, when two figures were seen clambering from the hold of the Atlantic. They were two sailors who had been left behind. They reached the sides of the vessel and hanging to ropes, sent up a piteous appeal for rescue.

Appeals Found Response.

The appeals found response. Despite the danger that menaced him and his vessel, and the absolute knowledge that within a few minutes a hail of death would be falling all around him, Wm. E. Vandyk, of the Atlantic, heard and heeded the call. Standing in the pilot house of the Atlantic he gave the orders that turned the tug's nose again towards the doomed ship, speeded to the rescue and took the two seamen aboard.

Thus again the Atlantic sought safety, but sought it too late. With a roar like the eruption of a volcano the dynamite exploded. For a moment a dense pall of smoke covered the waters. When it cleared away ship and barge had disappeared and the Atlantic, a dismantled hulk, helped less as the surface of the bay, had become a human shambles.

Death in dreadful form had descended from the sky. The Alum Chine had been torn into shreds, and boxes of dynamite mingled with the flying fragments of steel and timber filled the air. These fell on the packed decks of the Atlantic, the dynamite exploding as it fell, and don't run themselves all off that way, however, but mostly remain in the system. Hood's Sarsaparilla removes them, wards off danger, makes good health sure.

Men's heads and limbs were torn from their bodies. There were groans and cries of pain, the death rattle of the dying sailors and stevedores. From ships and launches nearby watchers saw dismembered bodies flung across and tumbled about the Atlantic's decks.

His Life for His Gallantry.

Captain Vandyk gave his life for his gallantry. His body, with one arm severed, was among those recovered by the party of rescuers.

How the fire started in the coal bunkers of the Alum Chine is so far a mystery as unsolved. Some have ascribed it to spontaneous combustion, while one of the rescued declares he saw a fellow sevedore stick a bale hook into a box of dynamite. This explanation appears very improbable—had such an incident occurred there would have been an immediate explosion in all human probability; while as a matter of fact the smoke of the fire was seen in time to allow almost everyone aboard to leave the ship.

Military Notes.

The Recruit class was held as usual at the Armories, last evening, under the direction of Sergt Major Oxtoby. The Veterans are holding their annual 'at home' in the mess, at the Armories, Tuesday evening. There will be no game of indoor ball with Hamilton to-night. The 91st may play here one week from to-day, however.

Berlin Writer in t

George F. Malleck of B an interesting letter to the Sporting News this week.

The Canadian League is making progress for the winter plans for the season. The Club finally fixed on a manager considering many candidates.

Toronto passed upon a schedule for 1913 and Fitzgerald reported that he had signed three umpires practically closed with the team managers on their part of their players well in training camp.

The St. Thomas manager, last season with the Southern Michigan League in 1911 with Portland and the Northwestern League a first baseman of experience is endorsed by various men who know him as a player of ability.

President Fitzgerald had three umpires already selected. Jacko Halligan of Buffalo, Laughlin of the Central League, Daley of Rochester, N.Y., and Laughtin played for the Central League, where he was Daley, according to Silk. One of the best of the year's hitters in harness.

The work of Jocko throughout last season is well known, and with three such already signed up the league at least the assurance of winning. The increase of salary-umpires from $150 to $200 has resulted in better men being secured.

Sees Faster Ball This President Fitzgerald believes from the activity all over the class of ball play signed up, the league will this summer than last. The pitching staffs all look well, and the class of ball class string for Class C ball, combining of the
