PROVINCIAL NEWS NEW INSURANCE CO.

The Ridgford Mutual Fire Insurance Company, is the name of a new insurance company organized a few months ago, with headquarters at Ridgford, Sask. The company is composed of prominent farmers of that district, and insures only farm property against fire and lightning.

There is also a cash plan, under which a rate of thirty-three and one-third cents is charged for every $100 of insurance for one year. The company being purely a farmer's company and provincial in character, will doubtless commend itself to those who believe in advancing the interests of the province in which they live, at the same time securing protection to themselves in the event of fire.

Following are the officers and directors of the company: A. Boyd, president; W. T. Grieve, vice president; O. L. Brevig, manager and secretary; Robert Grieve, M. Calder, Jonathan King and T. C. Grieve directors.—Davidson Leader.

A CLOSE CALL

Friday morning last Pete McEwen had a close call. The previous evening he started for his farm at Chamberlain with a team and a sleighload of requirements. While crossing the C.N.R. at Disley opposite Mr. Peter Ekits, the sleigh stuck to the rails. The team broke the tongue and the whiffletree endeavoring to remove the load. It was about the hour the flyer was due at Disley. Pete could not life the load himself. For a moment he was in a quandary as to what to do. He heard the flyer sporting and tugging on the grade, so he ran down the track half a mile or more, and jumped up in the air, and made all kinds of movements to attract attention, which were not without effect for the engineer saw Pete and ascertained the cause of his frantic movements. The engine crew assisted in moving the load from the rails, and in a few minutes everything was moving on schedule time.—Lumsden News-Record.

WONDERFUL DEVELOPMENT

Col. Leslie of Toronto, accompanied by Mrs. Leslie, came up from Regina yesterday to visit Mr. J. Manley, who is an old acquaintance. Col. Leslie's mission in the west is to induce the governments of the prairie provinces to make an exhibit at the Toronto fair next August. He met Hon. W. R. Motherwell in Winnipeg a day or two ago, and was glad to find the Saskatchewan minister much interested. He will take up the matter with Mr. Motherwell when he returns to Regina.

COAL ON THE QU'APPELLE

Ever since the first settlement along the banks of the Qu'Appelle river, it has been the opinion of nearly every one who has studied the lay of the land that coal would be found there some day, and that the sloping hill sides, which appeared to be but barren waste would yield treasures to enrich some fortunate individuals and provide this part of the province at least with the necessary fuel for the cold seasons of the year. This dream has been realized at last, and, if reports can be verified, the fuel question has been solved, and a thriving town will soon spring up where today there is nothing but rocky hillsides and a dense growth of poplar bush.

While strolling along the south bank a few weeks ago, Mr. Lake noticed what appeared to be a deposit of coal at the bottom of a ravine that had been washed away from a crevice in the hill side. Having had some experience in coal mining, he at once investigated and found a wall of the same material farther up, being the source from which the deposit had come. A quantity was taken home and tried in a stove, and was found to burn freely. Since then he has been working steadily at the mine the substance becoming harder to get further in, and a few days ago, went to Whitewood for a supply, sure of dynamite with which to continue the work. He is now fifteen feet in to the mine. The deposit was found on a quarter section owned by the government a short distance east of the meridian line and about 16 miles north of Wapella, and near the farm of Hugh Bartog. Should the find prove as valuable as it is claimed by those who have seen the mine and those who have tried the coal, it certainly will be a boon to the surrounding districts.—Wapella Post.

Mr. Shapley, Dominion lands surveyor, is sending an engineer north to do survey work in connection with the Green Lake roadway. This is the road expected to run north from North Battleford, between Jackfish and Murray Lakes, thence by Green Lake near which point the road will fork, one branch leading to Meadow Lake and the other to Green Lake, the last mentioned being the road which will run to Isle Lacrosse. This road will in all likelihood divert the trade of a very considerable northern settlement to North Battleford.

A meeting of the South African volunteers from this district was held last Wednesday the 12th inst. It was decided to organize into an association as has been done in other large cities. THIEF CAPTURED

The local R.N.W.M. Police made a very important arrest on Friday, when, after a long and exciting chase R. S. Clark, a notorious horse thief was captured. This man was in July 1906 sentenced by Chief Justice Wetmore to two years for horse stealing and was released later on ticket of leave.

Clark was regularly reported here until a few weeks ago, when he stole a horse from Mr. Ferguson, of Wapella, and disappeared into the Moose Mountain country, some fifty miles south of this town.

The police after making an effort to locate him, concluded that Clark was remaining in hiding, and last week that had been washed away from a crevice in the hill side. Clark was arrested, and it was discovered that he had traded the horse.

There will also be another charge of horse breaking, against the prisoner, as it is alleged that he broke down and tried in a stove, and was found to burn freely. Inspector Taylor took the train for Whitewood Friday afternoon to meet the detachment of police, and the prisoner, is now lodged in the Moosomin jail. Considerable anxiety was felt all through the district while this worthy was at large, but the Royal North-West Mounted Police have again demonstrated their usual vigilance, and this man's capture it is hoped, will be a warning to others of his kind.—Moosomin World.

AN ASSURED CROP

Dennis Says Settlers Will Pay More for Irrigated Land Because It Gives An Assured Crop.

J. S. Dennis, who is in charge of the C.P.R. irrigation scheme, addressed the Canadian Club in Winnipeg last week. He is reported as follows by the Free Press:

Mr. Dennis thanked the club for the invitation they had extended to him and expressed his pleasure at having the opportunity of speaking to them on a subject which had been his hobby for fifteen years. It was his firm belief that the subject was intimately connected with the development of the west. They would recognize the importance of irrigation when he said that two-thirds of the food-stuffs of the whole world were raised by irrigation.

In Canada irrigation development was confined to western Saskatchewan, southern Alberta and southern British Columbia, but it had during the last fifteen years extended rapidly in these provinces until today there were 750,000 acres capable of being irrigated from canals and ditches constructed, and $6,000,000 had been invested in completed canals and ditches outside the C.P.R.'s scheme. The area of the C.P.R.'s irrigation block covered 3,000,000 acres extending 150 miles east of Calgary, and 20 miles on each side of the railway line. The block was divided into eastern, western and central sections. In the western section the water was conveyed from the Bow river through a main canal 17 miles long, and through three secondary canals, comprising a length of 151 miles, while 800 miles of distributed ditches carried the water to the boundary of every farm. The total waterway on this section was 900 miles, and when the three sections were completed they would have something like 3,000 miles of waterway. On the basis of a 100-acre farm to a family, they should be able to settle 70,000 people on the western block, and 150,000 or 200,000 when the entire irrigation work was completed. That they have sold and were selling land almost every day at $25 per acre. Although the settlers could get land in any farming district at from $8 to $10 an acre, they were willing to pay $25 an acre for this irrigated land, because it would give them an assured crop, and he hoped to see that district the home of the most thickly settled and prosperous mixed farming community in America.

WEAK, PALE AND WORN OUT WOMEN

Can be Saved from a Life of Misery by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills

Women are called the "weaker sex" and yet nature calls upon them to bear far more pain than men. With too many women it is one long martyrdom from the time they are budding into womanhood until age. They begin to set their mark upon them. They are no sooner over one period of pain and distress than another looms up a few days ahead of them. No wonder so many women become worn out and old looking before their time.

W. B. LANIGAN

W. B. Lanigan commenced his career as a railroad man in 1878 as telegraph operator for the North Shore railroad at Yamaheche. In 1879 he was employed by the Montreal Telegraph Co. at Montreal, and in Jan. 1881 joined the Grand Trunk as night operator at Upton and remained with that company till 1884. He then joined the old O. & E. railroad which was afterwards amalgamated with the C.P.R. and served there with Wm. Whyte as his general superintendent. After that he was night operator at Sharbut Lake Junction, and then successively relieving operator and relieving agent. Promoted to agent at Claremont he was moved to Myrtle, then to Dundas and then to Galt in 1888, where he remained as agent until 1891. At that time he became travelling freight agent of the Ontario division and in 1900 was appointed assistant general freight agent of the Ontario division. In January 1901 he became general freight agent of the Ontario division and in July, 1901, was moved to Winnipeg as general freight agent of the western division, which was extended from Fort William to Lagan and Fernie. This was afterwards split up into the central and western divisions of the former of which Mr. Lanigan remained general agent.

BABY'S OWN TABLETS

SAVE A LITTLE LIFE

Mrs. T. Osborn, Norton Mills, Vt., writes: "I do not think enough can be said in praise of Baby's Own Tablets. I am satisfied that our baby would not have been alive today if it had not been for the tablets, as he was so weak and sick that he took no notice of anything. In this condition I gave him the tablets and they have made him a bright-eyed, laughing baby, the pride of our home. He is one year old, has nine teeth, and is now as well as any baby can be. He sits and plays nearly all the time and lets me do the work all without worry. I would say to all mothers who have sick babies give them Baby's Own Tablets as I did mine, and you will have healthy, happy babies." The Tablets will cure all the minor ailments of little ones and are absolutely safe. Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.
