

NEW TO THE GROCER.

A Swedia With a Ten-dollar Bill Practiced by a Young Man.

The grocer sat on a high stool, his elbow on the counter and his face buried in his hands. The Brooklyn man came in to get a quarter's worth of eggs.

"Hello," he said, "what's the matter now?"

"I'm thinking," said the grocer, "that the man who said that all the fools are not dead knew precisely what he was talking about."

"How could you think otherwise?" remarked the Brooklyn man, with true Brooklyn humor, "with all the customers you have?"

"Hold on," said the grocer, "this is no joke. Let me tell you about it. A little while ago I was sitting here doing nothing in particular, when in rushed a very pleasant looking young man. He had a lot of bills in his hand, and he wanted to know if I could let him have a ten-dollar bill for small bills. He said that he wanted to send $10 away in a letter, and didn't like to put small bills in an envelope. Well, I'm a pretty good-natured sort of a man and I told him that I would be very glad to oblige him. So, while I went into the drawer to get the bill, he counted out $10 so that I could hear him, and then fished out an envelope into which he placed the bill that I gave him. He didn't seem in a great hurry, and so when, in counting over the money that he had given me, I found that there was only $9. I didn't have any suspicions of intentional wrong-doing on his part, but credited the matter to a very natural mistake.

"Well, I called him back, and he was very apologetic; said it was a curious mistake for him, and a few other things that I don't remember. As a matter of fact he talked so fast and so smoothly that half of what he said escaped me in my admiration for his oratorical powers. While he was talking he was fishing around in his pockets for the dollar. Apparently he couldn't find one, for he finally said: "Well, I guess I'll have to give you your bill back until I can get that other dollar." Then he looked at the envelope in his hand and continued: "Gee! that's too bad. I've gone and sealed that envelope up and it's addressed and stamped and your ten-dollar bill is inside. I'll tell you what we might do, though, he went on, after a moment's thought. "You give me my nine small bills, and I'll go out and get the other bill. In the mean time you hold on to this envelope and when I come back I'll give you the entire $10 and we won't have to open up my letter at all."

"Well, I swear I couldn't see any harm in this arrangement, and I said 'yes,' without a moment's hesitation. That I was excessively polite to the duck. Why, I fairly bowed him out of the store, and after he had gone I carefully placed the envelope in my cash drawer and locked it up. Then I waited for fully half an hour for the young man to come back, and when he failed to show up I took the envelope out and ripped it open, not with any idea in my head that anything was wrong, but simply because I was impatient with the man for being so inconsiderate after I had done him a favor. Well, there was a neatly folded piece of paper in the envelope and on that was written in a neat hand: "I'll be back when the robins nest again."

"Say, even then it was a full minute before the truth dawned on me. When it did hit me it came like a ton of brick. "Oh, you gosh darned fool," I murmured, and then I arose around on this stool and set down to think. I was still thinking when you came in, and I'll start in again when you go out."

"Up in Reubenville, where I lived before I came to Brooklyn," said the Brooklyn man, "we used to call that 'flim flam.'"

"Oh, you did, eh," said the grocer, "well, I don't know what they call it in Brooklyn, but it's a good game and when I'm going to try it on some guy myself," and the grocer went back to his thoughts, while his friend walked out.

Easy Life in Nicaragua.

"When I was in the Olanchito district, in Nicaragua, last month," said a visitor who is largely interesting in mining in Central America, "I had an opportunity of seeing how the lazy natives tap nature's till when they need some small change."

"Near our camp by the river was a hut occupied by a typical Honduranian family, consisting of husband and wife, grandfather and grandmother, and a dozen or so assorted children. The only one of the crowd who did anything except rest and smoke was the wife. At intervals of perhaps a week she would arise out with the family tinpan, earthenware used for cooking, and proceed to an old place digging on the river bank. "There she would squat, throw a few gourds full of dirt into the pan, fill it with water and begin the usual circular motion of gold washing. She was very skillful and would keep a little sheet of dirty water, sprayed over the edge like a miniature cataract. When the water was exhausted a few spoonfuls of sand would be left in the bottom of the pan, and spreading it out with a bit of stick, she would go over it grain for grain, looking for 'color.' Whenever she saw a speck of gold, she moistened the stick on her tongue and picked up the particle by adhesion. Each bit of the precious metal was stored away in a gull, plugged with clay at the ends, and I have known her to take out as much as a quarter of an ounce in the course of one day. Usually her limit was about $2, and when she got that she stopped. Then the head of the house would arise languidly and start for the nearest store two miles away. Sometimes he would trade the whole amount for whiskey, but as a rule he brought back tobacco, salt, metal or calico."

"There are hundreds of native families who live in exactly that manner in Olanchito. Sometimes the woman will be lucky enough to strike a rich pocket, that will yield a dollar or more a pan, but they never dream of washing it out at once and getting a stake. It simply means that they can secure their usual amount with less work."

Old Backs, Young Backs, Weak Backs, Strong Backs--Few Escape for Backache is Kidney Talk.

Every mail adds evidence to the fact that Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets act on different lines from other medicines, producing quick and permanent cures from backache and kidney troubles. They are a revelation to sufferers from kidney complaints, and bring conviction of merit because of the quick relief gained in unexpected cases. The Backache Kidney sufferer only doubts their worth before using, for a few doses impart a sensation of relief that fortells the story of cure. It did not take Mrs. P. Morgan, Wellington St., Chatham, long to find relief. It was accomplished with one bottle of Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets, and this is her report:--

"For many years I have suffered with backache; nothing did it any good though I doctored a good deal. The pain was very bad across the small of the back; ran up into the shoulders and down into the limbs at times. I could hardly rise. I went up to A. I. McCall's drug store, and got a bottle of Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets and they acted splendidly. I took but one bottle and had no trouble since. This, I think fine, as nothing else ever stopped the pain completely. They are very easy to take and gentle on the stomach. I am glad to recommend them to others."

To prove the wonderful merits of Dr. Pitcher's Backache and Kidney Tablets, arrangements have been made whereby every reader of The Chatham Planet can obtain a sample package absolutely free by addressing The Pitcher Tablet Co., 48 Adelaide St. East, Toronto, and enclosing a postcard with the dollar. Kindly mention the Chatham Planet when sending address.

ACHES COME.

Old Backs, Young Backs, Weak Backs, Strong Backs--Few Escape for Backache is Kidney Talk.

Every mail adds evidence to the fact that Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets act on different lines from other medicines, producing quick and permanent cures from backache and kidney troubles. They are a revelation to sufferers from kidney complaints, and bring conviction of merit because of the quick relief gained in unexpected cases. The Backache Kidney sufferer only doubts their worth before using, for a few doses impart a sensation of relief that fortells the story of cure. It did not take Mrs. P. Morgan, Wellington St., Chatham, long to find relief. It was accomplished with one bottle of Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets, and this is her report:--

"For many years I have suffered with backache; nothing did it any good though I doctored a good deal. The pain was very bad across the small of the back; ran up into the shoulders and down into the limbs at times. I could hardly rise. I went up to A. I. McCall's drug store, and got a bottle of Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets and they acted splendidly. I took but one bottle and had no trouble since. This, I think fine, as nothing else ever stopped the pain completely. They are very easy to take and gentle on the stomach. I am glad to recommend them to others."

To prove the wonderful merits of Dr. Pitcher's Backache and Kidney Tablets, arrangements have been made whereby every reader of The Chatham Planet can obtain a sample package absolutely free by addressing The Pitcher Tablet Co., 48 Adelaide St. East, Toronto, and enclosing a postcard with the dollar. Kindly mention the Chatham Planet when sending address.

C. C. RICHARDS & CO.

Dear Sirs, For some years I have had only partial use of my arm, caused by a sudden strain. I have used every remedy without effect, until I got a sample bottle of "MINARD'S LINIMENT." The benefit I received from it caused me to continue its use, and now I am happy to say my arm is completely restored.
